High Prices Little Sabine. Can't Convict $[illegible],000,000. 15,000,000 Years Apart. Rome's Birthday.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright, 1928.)

A SMALL bust of a little girl made by Houdon, the child's father, used to stand in Judge Gary's small room, off the hall, in his Fifth avenue house. It lived there with some furniture covered with Aubusson tapestry, for which Gary paid a fortune to Alavoine.

ON SATURDAY the little Houdon girl sold at auction for $245,000. Prices paid in America depend not on value, but on the ease with which $245,000 can be acquired.

Houdon's little girl was named Sabine, in honor, presumably, of ladies carried away by Roman soldiers. Now little Sabine is carried away by American dollars.

MR. NYE, chairman of the oil committee investigating bribery, says following Mr. Sinclair's acquittal: "You can't convict a million dollars in this country."

It needs no ghost come from the grave to tell you that power creates the laws and is above them. Power, just now, is organized money.

HOWEVER, every man is bound to recognize a legal decision as final, and putting aside generalizations about millionaires, to remember that Mr. Sinclair is acquitted by a jury, convinced that no evidence was presented sufficient to convict.

THE Rev. Dr. Straton wants to argue evolution with Mr. Osborn, head of the Museum of Natural History. Mr. Osborn, believes that man developed on earth, like other animals, through millions of years of evolution.

Dr. Straton says all living things, also the earth, sun, moon, stars, comets, clouds, oceans, etc., were created in one week, by the will and power of God. He had existed from all eternity, when He decided, about six thousand years ago, to create this earth, with man in His image, sun, moon, stars, etc., to light the earth for man.

DR. STRATON says man was made from red earth in a few minutes. He looked lonesome, in Eden, so a deep sleep was put upon him, one of his ribs removed, the first surgical operation on record, and Eve was made from that rib.

For centuries clergymen taught that men had one more rib on one side than the other. Somebody counted the ribs of 1,200 male skeletons, and the odd rib theory was dropped.

THE clergyman and scientist, debating, would find it hard to agree on any starting point. Mr. Osborn says our pithecanthropoid, or monkey-man ancestors left their life in trees, about 15,000,000 years ago, and started life in the open. To that the Rev. Dr. Straton could only reply, "You're a liar." And add, "See what is written in this Book of Genesis." You could not call that a "debate."

ON Saturday Rome celebrated its two thousand six hundred and eighty-first birthday. And Rome today is as energetic, powerful and intensely earnest as at any time in the past 2,681 years.

Marvelous are the Italian people, with their tireless leader, Mussolini. For more than 25 centuries they have contributed great men to the world, some among them greatest in the world.

MUSSOLINI celebrates this happy birthday by inaugurating great public works.

One of his birthday presents to the great city will be the finest airport in the world.

This country, 2,529 years younger than Rome, and 10 times as rich as Italy, has two of its greatest cities, New York on the Atlantic, and Los Angeles on the Pacific, with no airport worthy of mention. We ought to find a Mussolini.

THE small monoplane that carried Capt. Wilkins over the North Pole weights only 1,650 pounds, goes 135 miles an hour, and was created by Allen Longfeed. The load carried weighed much as the plane.

Similar powerful little machines will soon be the pride of many young fliers.

CAPT. WILKINS deserved success. He smashed five planes in previous efforts to conquer the pole. Australia, his fatherland, offered him the job of air minister, but he prefers work more dangerous. He was a newspaperman in the Balkan War, an aviator in the World War and went with Shackleton on the Antarctic expedition that cost Shackleton his life.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW offers socialism as a remedy for war, poverty, disease, marriage troubles, drunkenness and other social evils. His "The Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism and Capitalism," tells about it.

Socialism, Shaw brand, would facilitate divorce. Any married woman could walk out, free as air, if she wanted to. And that, says Shaw, would make marriage permanent and happier. Husbands would live in dread of finding the lady gone, and behave.

There would be no alimony, for that is blackmail, says Shaw.

ALL amusing. But Mr. Shaw's ideas would not work in the Congo, where the native crouches beside his decaying rhinoceros, until his stomach is distended, then goes home to sleep it off.

And they won't work in our civilization, only a few thousand years from the Congo stage.

LAWS socialistic, plutocratic, or otherwise, do not change human beings fundamentally. They only reflect human beings as they are.

Not socialism, but 50,000 years of work and disappointments are needed to do the things enumerated by Shaw. Discussion and suggestions, even foolish ones, are useful, however. Any hypothesis is better than none.

FLIER RELIEF PLANE LANDS

U. S. ASKED TO PURGE PGH. OF VICE

The United States government has been called upon to clean up Pittsburgh. Last night, a mass meeting in the First United Presbyterian Church, North Side, representatives of 20 churches voted unanimously to demand a Federal grand jury probe of commercialized vice and liquor law violations in the city.

Steps were taken to organize the members of all Pittsburgh churches into a vast committee to demand enforcement of the laws and to force public officials to do their sworn duty. Mayor [illegible] H. Kline and Director of Public Safety James M. Clark were [illegible] assailed for their alleged failure to act in ridding Pittsburgh of lewd women, bootleggers and booze joints.

The Rev. Dr. J. Alvin Orr, pastor of the church where the meeting was held, presided and presented the speakers and a number of resolutions. Judge James G. White, of Columbus, O.; Attorney William H. McNaugher and the Rev. D. S. Scott, pastor of the Greenfield Avenue Negro Baptist Church, addressed the crowd of 1,500 persons, who applauded their speeches, lauding the prohibition cause and the prohibition enforcement officers, and their criticism of public officials who wink at vice and crime. McNaugher was especially warm in his praise of J. D. Pennington, prohibition administrator here, and of his predecessor, F. C. Baird. He urged church folk to do all in their power to have Pennington retained and hinted at a possibly successful scheme to have the dry chief removed from Pittsburgh.

Judge White spoke on the national aspect of the prohibition movement. The Rev. Mr. Scott described what he termed terrible vice conditions among members of his race in the Fifth Ward.

More than 1,000 persons signed cards calling on Federal prohibition officials to keep Pennington in this district and endorsing the organization of a city-wide committee composed of one member from each church, headed by Dr. Orr, to work for law enforcement. This phase of the proposed work will be presented to the representatives of 21 East End churches at a mass meeting to be held next Sunday night in the Sixth United Presbyterian Church, North Highland avenue.

Mrs. Ward Jailed for Murder

Mrs. Catherine Ward, 24, slayer of her two children, Dorothy Mae, 8 months, and Billy, 3, in her apartment, 7314 Hamilton avenue, March 8, was committed to jail charged with murder today pending an inquest Thursday.

She had been in the Pittsburgh Hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown and poison she is said to have taken.

Kidnaping 'Imagined'

DOLORES DEL RIO

The plot to kidnap Dolores Del Rio, Mexican film actress, is only a "figment of wild imagination," as Los Angeles police brand it. The plan existed, police said, only in the mind of Gustavo Carillo, 27, Mexican student, whose "confession" caused police to guard Miss Del Rio, now in Mexico seeking a divorce from her writer-husband, Jaime. Producers and Miss Del Rio's banker-father were to have been asked for $100,000 in the "plot."

YEGGS GET $20,000 IN STAMPS

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 23.—Robbers, foiled in their efforts last night to open a vault containing several thousand dollars cash in the local postoffice, escaped with $20,000 in stamps, a check-up today revealed.

Government agents and state police today were believed on the trail of the yeggs.

The robbers, using a large acetylene tank, had cut through two heavy steel doors leading to the vault, but apparently were frightened away before they could complete the job. It is believed gloves were used, as no fingerprints were discovered. No cash or registered mail was obtained.

FORD SHIP REACHES GERMANS ON ISLE

By LESLIE ROBERTS,
International News Service.

GREENLEY ISLAND, via Point Amour and Murray Bay, April 23.—The Ford relief plane piloted by Brent Balchen and carrying replacement parts for the German trans-Atlantic plane Bremen arrived from Seven Islands shortly before noon. Maj. James E. Fitzmaurice, Irish member of the Bremen's crew, was on board. Work of removing the spare parts for the Bremen was begun immediately.

CARRIES REPAIRS

Associated Press.

The relief plane left Detroit Friday morning and reached Lake Ste. Agnes in one hop, 800 miles, in about nine hours. Floyd Bennett, in charge of the expedition, fell ill there of pneumonia and had to be taken to a hospital in Quebec. Balchen pushed on yesterday to Seven Islands and made an early start this morning for Greenley Island.

The plane carried a propellor, both ski and wheel landing gear and various other parts for the Bremen as well as a supply of fuel. Maj. Fitzmaurice, who flew out to civilization to get aid for his German comrades, Baron Von Huenefeld and Capt. Koehl, also packed into the relief plane food, clothing and smoking supplies for the marooned aviators.

With Balchen and Fitzmaurice in the plane on the final leg of its flight were a Junkers mechanic to help in reconditioning the Bremen, damaged in landing after the ocean flight a week ago last Friday, and a New York newspaper man.

Police Lose Dry Graft Appeal

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The Supreme Court today denied the petition of eight former police officers of Westmoreland county, Pa., for a review of their conviction on liquor conspiracy charges in Federal Court.

The petitioners were Walter Wyatt, ex-chief of police; William Horne and Constables Joseph Mochnaly, "Heine" Edwards, Andy Dudas, Harry Bieber, Joe Plankenger and John R. Mahusky. They were alleged to have combined to obtain protection money and "shake down" bootleggers by raids.

Wyatt, Horne and Mochnaly were sentenced to a year and a day in prison and others were sentenced to jail terms at Greensburg.

TEENIE NEIMAN

PITTSBURGHER OFFERS COAL ILLS REMEDY

WASHINGTON, April 23.—R. Templeton Smith, of Pittsburgh, came before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today and offered a plan for a revised and scientific freight rate structure on a ton-mile basis as a remedy for the distress of the coal industry. Mr. Smith is secretary of the Ontario Gas Coal Company of Washington county and the Lower Gas Coal Company of Fayette county.

He reviewed the history of his companies' relations with the United Mine Workers and discussed in detail the adverse effect that unfair freight rates have had on the business of Western Pennsylvania operators.

"We believe," said Mr. Smith, "that the permanent prosperity of the coal industry depends upon a scientific freight rate structure. Rates on coal must be fixed on a basis of service rendered by the railroads—ton-mile rates, if you please, modified by terminal charges and transportation condi-

CONVICT 5 MORE IN FRAUDS

Fifth Ward Officials Guilty of Cheating; Jury Asks Mercy.

Allegheny county scored its fourth consecutive triumph against cheating at the polls, in Criminal Court today, when a verdict of guilty was announced against the five election officials of the Twentieth District, Fifth Ward.

The defendants in the Hill district ward were Myer Angel, judge of elections; John Miller, Negro, and Melvin Kiest, inspectors; John Jacobs and J. W. Jeffries, Negro, clerks.

The jury found them guilty "as indicted," or on the five counts charging irregularities. The jury recommended "mercy."

This was the second successful prosecution waged by Assistant District Attorney Roy T. Clunk and the fourth, in as many cases for the district attorney's office.

Not one prosecution has been lost since the crusade against vote-cheating was started last week in the courts. In the four trials, nine officials have been found guilty, four have pleaded guilty and seven have not been placed on trial because of the four pleas.

The verdict was reached a few minutes after the adjournment of Criminal Court Friday afternoon by Judge J. Frank Graff, visiting jurist from Armstrong county.

The case was the fourth of those involving 40 election boards whose members have been indicted for fraud and irregularities. Nearly 200 defendants have been tried or remain to be put on trial. The trials will proceed this week. Thus far one convicted election official has been sentenced, John H. Bates, Negro, judge of the Ninth District of the Third Ward, who was ordered to serve 30 days in jail by Judge Harry H. Rowand.

Policeman Shot at Mine

Shot with his own gun during a fight with a drunken non-union miner in a bunkhouse at Coverdale mine of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, according to county detectives, Robert L. Christy, 40, a coal and iron policeman, was probably fatally wounded early this morning. Michael Bisensky, 30, is in the county jail charged with the shooting.

According to an investigation by County Detectives John Geisler and David Catlin, Bisensky entered the bunkhouse about 3 o'clock this morning, and went to quell the disturbance and Bisensky is said to have attempted to throw him out. They trappled, detectives say, and Christy's pistol dropped from his holster. Bisensky grabbed it and fired five shots, it is said. Three lodged in Christy's body, two in his left leg and one in his abdomen. He is in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Other coal and iron policemen hearing the shots rushed to the bunkhouse and were told Bisensky had fled. He was found in a field.

Clean Election Association Will Watch Polls Tomorrow.

A fund of $2,500 has been placed at the disposal of the Allegheny County Elections Association for court proceedings to open ballot boxes in the Thirty-fifth congressional district where fraud is suspected in tomorrow's election.

The fund was sent to Francis S. Guthrie, secretary of the association, by a committee of business men interested in the congressional campaign of James M. Magee, opposing Conresman Harry A. Estep. The committee consists of former State Senator Wilson S. McClintock, treasurer of the Magee campaign committee; James Francis Burke, W. S. Arbuthnot and D. A. Ramsbottom.

The law requires a $50 deposit for each ballot box opened, to be forfeited in event fraud or error is not discovered.

WARNING ISSUED

A general warning has been issued by the association, to all who might attempt any illegal procedure.

Henry P. Payne, an independent legislative candidate in the First district, today sent a letter to the aldermen of the First, Third and Fifth wards, to the Mayor, Sheriff and Commissioners, demanding that after tomorrow's election "the ballot boxes be delivered and returned in strict compliance with the election laws of the commonwealth" and threatening prosecution of any officials who fail in that duty.

The Rev. Dr. W. Wofford T. Duncan, of Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, sent out a letter to his members stating that a survey has shown only 50 per cent to be registered and urging them to support Louis Kable for Legislature in the Fourth district, saying he is running to give "the independent voters and friends of the Eighteenth Amendment an opportunity to express themselves."

In his last statement, Jacob Teager, independent legislative candidate in the Sixth district, said members of the Legislature "should be something more than well paid messenger boys commuting between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg," and pledges himself to be an active member if elected. The majority of the county's delegation in the past, he charged, "have been under the control and guidance of a small group of self-seekers and slatemakers."

Watchful eyes will check proceedings in at least 13 polling places at tomorrow's primary election. Overseers were named in that number of precincts today by Judge James H. Gray. The districts include the Fourth of the Twenty-eighth ward; Sixth, Ninth, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth, Tenth ward; First, Ninth and Twentieth, Ninth ward; Fifteenth, Third ward; Second and Third, Sixteenth ward.

Polls Open From Seven to Seven Tomorrow

At tomorrow's primary election, the polls will be open from 7 a. m., to 7 p. m.

Girl, 8, Seized in School

A Negro invaded Brushton School, Brushton avenue and Mulford street, this morning and attacked an 8-year-old girl.

The child's screams summoned Prof. Arch L. Hope, who arrived just as the Negro fled through a side door.

The girl was passing through the hall shortly before recess when the Negro tried to drag her into the basement.

Police summoned from Frankstown Avenue Station searched the neighborhood for the Negro, on a meager description furnished by the girl.

The Weather

Cloudy, preceded by light rain this afternoon or tonight; Tuesday fair; not much change in temperature; lowest temperature [illegible] about 40 degrees.

METHODIST PASTORS RIP "CAPITALISTIC SYSTEM" ABUSES

Members of the weekly conference of Methodist ministers overwhelmingly went on record at their meeting in the Methodist Book Concern quarters today as opposed to "hereditary wealth, abuse of the injunction in the mine union strike, and other principles of the capitalistic system."

Minister after minister arose in the meeting to oppose the "unequivocal stand for the capitalistic system," espoused by Elmer L. Kidney, attorney, who attacked the "Communistic and socialistic utterances of Dr. Harry F. Ward, executive secretary, Methodist Federation for Social Service." Dr. Ward has his headquarters in Boston, Mass.

"If that be socialism, or communism," one minister declared amid applause, "then there should be more like Harry Ward to carry on."

Attorney Kidney spoke for half an hour and was given an extra 15 minutes by unanimous vote to speak against making the Methodist Federation for Social Service, a branch of the general conference. The federation at present is composed of Methodists but is not actually a part of the official organization.

Mr. Kidney called Dr. Ward a "gadabout," quoted articles adopted at the 1924 General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in which Methodism "opposes the right of private property and inheritances" and compared them to the "Communistic Manifesto" issued by Carl Marx in 1847 and the Civil Liberties Union of 1927.

Another minister declared "Russia, the most progressive nation in the world today, has indorsed the creed of the Methodist Church and will provide a church every time we have 60 members incorporated." This brought another salvo of applause.

Some members were more conservative in their appraisement of the "capitalistic system," placing themselves on record as opposed only to its "sins."

IMPORTANT PROVISIONS OF ELECTION LAWS

POINTING out that the law punishes ignorance as well as wilful negligence, a digest of the most important provisions of the election laws has been prepared at the suggestion of the League of Women Voters. It was prepared by Attorney Ralph H. Frank and approved by Judge James H [illegible]ay. The digest follows:

1. No city, county, state or national officer or employe may serve as an election officer. This does not include justices of the peace, aldermen, notaries public and persons in the military service of the state.

2. Vacancies in election boards by absence or disqualification are filled as follows: if the office of judge of election is vacant, the majority inspector appoints a person to act as judge; if the vacancy be in the office of majority inspector, the judge of election appoints a majority inspector; if the vacancy be of minority inspector, the person who received the second highest number of votes for judge of election at the last preceding election shall act as minority inspector; if any office remains vacant for one hour after the time fixed by law for opening the polls, the vacancy is filled by a curbstone election; if any clerk is absent, the inspector who appointed him or the person filling the place of that inspector appoints a person to take the place of the absent clerk.

3. All members of election boards must be sworn or affirmed before undertaking their duties. The minority inspector first swears the judge, and the judge then swears all the other members of the board, including overseers, if any. Be sure BOTH copies of the oaths of all election officers are completely signed.

4. Be sure that a guard-rail is available and in place before receiving any votes.

5. Do not detach a ballot from the stub until there is a voter waiting to receive it.

6. In cities, allow no person to vote whose name is not on the Ballot and Voting Check Lists, unless he is in the actual military or naval service. In boroughs and townships, add no names to the lists unless the person desiring to vote shall furnish the written proof required by law.

7. Allow not more than four voters in excess of the number of voting booths WITHIN the guard-rail at any time, and allow NO OTHER PERSON WHATEVER within the guard-rail at any time except members of the election board, supervisors, overseers, and peace officers only in case of a disturbance of the peace.

8. Until the polls are closed, allow no person in the polling place OUTSIDE the guard-rail, except (a) not more than 10 voters awaiting their turns to vote; (b) watchers who have proper certificates of appointment, not more than one at a time for each candidate; and (c) constables and peace officers only when necessary for the preservation of the peace.

9. Allow no electioneering or solicitation of votes within the polling place, and allow no political literature to be exposed or displayed within the polling place except the official cards of instructions received from the county commissioners, statements of penalties, and sample ballots, UNMARKED.

10. Allow no person to have assistance in voting because he "does not understand the ballot" or "does not understand how to vote." A voter is entitled to assistance only when (a) he cannot read the names on the ballot; or (b) he is unable to see or mark the ballot, or (c) he is unable to enter the booth without assistance. In any such case have the voter make the proper affidavit, taking care that all persons present have an opportunity to hear the cause given by the voter for requiring the assistance; the VOTER must be permitted to choose the person to assist him, and the judge of election must make a proper record in the Record of Assisted Voters.

11. No police officer, whether in uniform or not, is permitted within 100 feet of the polling place except to vote, or to serve warrants, or in case of a disturbance of the peace.

After the Polls are closed and BEFORE THE BALLOT BOX IS OPENED

12. See that no person except the election board and overseers is within the guard-rail, and allow no other person to come within the guard-rail, OR TO HOLD CONVERSATION WITH ANY MEMBER OF THE ELECTION BOARD, until the count is completed, except peace officers only when necessary for the preservation of the peace.

13. Ascertain from the numbers of the ballot-stubs the number of ballots of each party which have been issued and announce this to all present in the voting room, and enter the figures on the General Return Sheets.

14. Count and announce to all present the number of ballots of each party spoiled and cancelled.

15. Count and announce the number of names checked as having voted on the ballot check list, the voting check list and the numbered lists of voters.

16. If the number of names checked and entered on these lists does not agree with the number of ballots used of each party, go over your work again for clerical errors, and if you cannot make the figures correspond, note the discrepancy on the general Return Sheets.

17. Post one copy of the Numbered List of Voters outside the polling place, seal the other, seal the Voting and Ballot Check Lists, and seal all stubs of used ballots, all unused ballots and all spoiled and cancelled ballots, and turn the sealed packages over to the Judge of Election.

18. ONLY AFTER YOU HAVE DONE ALL THIS, and the the ballots, stubs, lists, etc., have been sealed and given to the judge of election, can you OPEN THE BALLOT BOX.

19. Separate the ballots of each party, and count the number of ballots of each party, audibly, one by one, so that all persons in the voting room may follow the count.

20. Count the votes for the candidates. The judge of election calls off audibly the names marked or inserted on each ballot, one of the inspectors watching the ballot as the judge calls, or an inspector calls while the judge watches. The other inspector and the two clerks tally the votes as they are called, on the triplicate tally sheets.

21. In calling off the votes from the ballots, and tallying them, it is good practice to read off all the names marked or inserted on each ballot before taking up another ballot, instead of getting the complete count for one office before taking up the other offices.

22. All ballots, after being taken from the ballot-box shall be kept within the unobstructed view of all persons within the polling place until the count is complete and the ballots are replaced in the box, and no person while handling the same, shall have in his hand any pencil, pen, stamp or other means of marking or spoiling any ballot.

23. Do not sign any tally papers, return sheets, etc., "in advance" to "save time." Wait until all figures are inserted and all notations made before you sign.

24. All election officers and overse[illegible] if any, shall sign all return sheets, or in case of refusal to [illegible], shall note upon the return sheets the reason for the refusal and sign the notation.

25. After completing the calling of the ballots, insert the totals in the tally sheets, and make up the triplicate return sheets for each party. Then make up the general return sheets. Announce the result in the room and from the window to the citizens present outside, and post one of the general return sheets outside the polling place.

26. Replace the ballots cast, including void and cancelled ones, in the ballot box, with one set of tally papers, one set of triplicate return sheets, one numbered list of voters, one oath of each election officer and (outside of cities) the voting check list, and lock and seal the ballot box so that nothing can be inserted therein without re-opening, and the judge and minority inspector shall then deliver the box to the nearest alderman or justice of the peace on or before Thursday noon.

27. The minority inspector shall take and retain for at least one year, one set of tally papers for each party, one triplicate return sheet for each party, and one set of affidavits of electors and other persons.

28. Watchers with proper certificates, not more than one at a time for each candidate, are entitled to be present outside the guard-rail during the entire election and count until the box is sealed, and to hear and see whatever goes on.

29. If overseers of election have been appointed for any election district, they have a right to be present within the guard-rail during the whole time that the election is held, the votes counted, the returns made out and signed, and the box sealed. Any person who shall by violence or intimidation threaten or drive away watchers or overseers is subject to fine and imprisonment.

30. It is the duty of the Judge of Election to see that order is maintained in the polling place, that no persons are allowed in contrary to law, that no electioneering is permitted, that no political literature is displayed, and, in general, that the law is observed.

31. The election laws contemplate the constant presence of the entire election board. Attempts to get along with an undermanned board, or to permit long absences of acting members, conduces to error, and may result in fraud.

SKIRMISHES FEATURE SYMPHONY TRIAL

JUSTICE QUESTIONS RIGHT OF APPEAL

Minor skirmishes between court and counsel on the interpretation of the "blue" laws featured arguments in Superior Court today on the Allegheny County Sabbath Association's appeal from the decision which allows the Pittsburgh Symphony Society to give Sunday concerts.

Justice Keller said the issue was whether the presentations of concerts amounted to a business. Attorney John M. Freeman, counsel for the society, defendants, was quick to point out that the society was not a money-making concern, that its concerts were uplifting and that tickets were not sold but accompanied memberships.

In a hypothesis, Justice Keller pointed out that Sunday baseball is unlawful by the ancient blue laws of Pennsylvania if a business is made of that activity.

Chief Justice Porter quizzed Attorney John Robert Jones, counsel for the Sabbath Association, why an appeal had been taken in a criminal action in which the County Court had found the society officers not guilty. Attorney Jones cited three decisions to uphold the action, and the court asked for a brief of the decisions.

PRESIDENT WIRES PAIR WEDDED 64 YEARS AGO

CHILTON, Wis., April 23.—(AP.)—Telegraphic congratulations from President Coolidge were received by Col. George D. Breed and his wife as they observed their sixty-fourth wedding anniversary yesterday. The couple were married at Chilton in 1864. Both are in good health. Col. Breed is a veteran of the Civil War.

DANCERS GET SET

Pittsburgh's second dance marathon, "bunion derby," or "corn hop," staged by Milton D. Crandall in Motor Square Garden, gets under way tonight.

Contestants will have their pedal extremities examined at 11 o'clock by Police Surgeon D. E. Sable, who will test their wind and heart. He will be assisted by Dr. John P. Henry, Dr. William McCarthy, Dr. William Rote and Miss Erma Hagerty and Miss Susan Degman, registered nurses.

Immediately after the medical examination the long-distance dancers will register at Motor Square and then go to sleep for their last nap before they endeavor to break the 61-hour record hung up in the marathon several weeks ago.

"Bossy" Gillis, mayor of Newburyport, Mass., will start the dancers on their way.

Irene Castle Braves Smoke Filled Garage to Save Dog and Puppies

Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 23.

MRS. IRENE CASTLE M'LAUGHLIN

MRS. IRENE CASTLE McLAUGHLIN, long the champion of humane treatment for dumb animals and particularly the friend of homeless dogs, was repaid for her friendship shortly after midnight today when "Limey," a Sealyham dog, raised a frantic alarm when the garage on the estate of the McLaughlins caught fire, thereby saving the lives of four servants and of Limey's three puppies.

Mrs. McLaughlin and a maid were aroused by the barking of the dog after fire had started in a furnace room. The former dancer and her maid crawled on hands and knees through the black smoke into the garage to rescue the puppies which Limey already had dragged as far as the door. Limey, believing her babies still were in the garage, refused to leave, however, and the women were forced to crawl into the burning garage a second time to rescue the mother, while the servants, who also had been aroused by the dog's barking, made their escape from quarters over the garage.

Mrs. McLaughlin recently took issue with Dr. W. H. Kegel, Chicago Health Commissoner, who had issued a warning against rabies. Mrs. McLaughlin said she did not believe there was such a disease and that most dogs believed to have rabies were merely hungry or frightened.

Flames Rout Two Families

Two families fled today a fire which swept two two-story frame building at 6359 and 6360 Penn avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Rachino carried her son, Carl, 7, down a rear stairway of No. 6361 when she found her escape by the front stairs cut off by the flames. The Rachino home and Testa Confectionery on the first floor were damaged $2,000.

Mary Dent, 20, Negress, ill with pneumonia, was carried from No. 6365 by her father, Charles Dent, and her mother when smoke penetrated their apartment. Three other children also left.

Patsy Tauro's restaurant, first floor of No. 6359 was slightly damaged. Origin of the blaze is undetermined.

NEW CASTLE MEN BUY PLANT AT YOUNGVILLE

WARREN, Pa., April 23.—The Standard Shale Brick Company, at Youngville, has been purchased by the Keystone Face Brick Company, Inc., owned by New Castle men, and is operating at capacity after five years' idleness.

BEGIN ANNEX TO WELFARE HOUSE

Ground was broken today for the new addition to the Irene Kaufmann Settlement House, Center avenue. The new addition is made possible through the recent gift of Henry Kaufmann, and when completed it will cost more than $625,000. There will be no formal ground breaking ceremonies, the annual meeting of the executive board today at 2 o'clock being devoted to the presentation of plans and drawings of the new building. A program of entertainment will be presented by members of the settlement.

FEMALE PONZI

EMILY C. R. PETERSON.

Branded by police as a "female Ponzi," Miss Emily C. R. Peterson, 40, is expected to be arrested in Los Angeles or Mexico on warrants of forgery and one of forgery of an endorsement. She's said to have bilked victims by forgery of notes, trust deeds, and other documents in the operation of a Los Angeles brokerage office.

40 INJURED IN CHURCH

CAMDEN, N. J., April 23.—(AP.)—One man was killed and more than 40 others were injured, some seriously, last night, when a balcony of the Zion Methodist Episcopal Church collapsed. All the victims were Negroes.

The man who lost his life was George Brooks, 35, of Red Bank, N. J.

Among the seriously injured were Harriett Bynine, 35, Hackensack, N. J., crushed chest; Martha Egerton, 15, broken spine and her sister, Elsie Egerton, 21, fractured skull and crushed chest. The Egerton girls live in Camden.

In all, 46 persons were sent to hospitals, 26 to the West Jersey Homeopathic, and 20 to the Cooper Memorial.

The balcony was of wooden construction. Police said the weight of the crowd had driven the supporting pillars through the floor to the cellar. Most of the injured were among those trapped in their seats under the wreckage. All but nine of those taken to the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital were discharged after their injuries had been dressed.

More than 200 men, women and children were in the balcony and the auditorium was crowded. Suddenly one end of the balcony tottered and then nearly the whole structure crashed on the heads of those below.

BERLIN STREET MAY BE RENAMED FOR KOEHL

"GREETINGS!"

Baron von Huenefeld and Capt. Koehl, still marooned at Greenley Island, send greetings in German to the "United States." The note, translated, reads: "Already on the soil of Canada, whose government and people greeted us with incomparable hospitality, we have received so many proofs of sympathy and recognition from the government and citizens of the United States that we call out from the bottom of our hearts to the great American public: heartiest greetings from old Europe. (Signed) Koehl, Huenefeld." Koehl and Huenefeld are the idols of the few children on the island, while Maj. James A. Fitzmaurice is at Murray Bay and has taken over some of the relief supplies brought by the Ford plane, the arrival of which is shown. Left to right in the photo are Fitzmaurice, Floyd Bennett, pilot; Duke Schiller and Bernt Balchen, pilot.

HOLD GIRL AS ROBBER

Before she can return here where she is said to be wanted for house robberies, Fay Hecks, 21, of Lock Haven, will first have to face a charge in her home town, local detectives were notified last night.

The young woman, who police say worked as a maid in several homes here and then looted the houses during the absence of her employes, was arrested Saturday night at the request of local detectives. The charge against her in Lock Haven is not known here. The young woman is charged with the theft of jewelry valued at $400 from the home of Harry Rouse, 1126 North St. Clair street, Friday.

Chamberlin Will Guide Fliers From Island

International News Service.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 23.—Temporarily abandoning his aerial lecture tour in the interest of airports, Clarence D. Chamberlin plans to hop off from Hartford today for Greenley Island to pathfind the way into New York for the Bremen and her crew.

Chamberlin feels that this courtesy is the least that he can show to the men who made the first western flight across the Atlantic in appreciation of the honors accorded him upon the successful completion of his flight to Germany last year. He will fly a Fairchild monoplane.

Hint Publicity When Actress Loses Purse

It may be publicity, but Central Police Station has a report from Lenore Ulric, appearing here this week, that she left her purse in a taxicab downtown. When reporters went to see her they had it that the purse contained jewelry valued at $1,500. Miss Ulric denied this and said nothing of value was in the bag—that she valued it chiefly as a gift from Gilda Gray.

WOMEN'S AUTO DAY POSTPONED

The field day for women auto drivers and other women aspiring to be drivers, to have been held at Schenley Oval this afternoon, has been postponed until a later date, W. N. Owings, secretary of the Pittsburgh Automobile Dealers' Association, announced this afternoon.

The field day was to have been held from 3 to 5 o'clock, during which a large number of expert mechanics and service men were to have explained the operation of automobile mechanism. A display of three dozen motors cars was to have been included.

AMERICA REGAINS RECORD

DAYTONIA BEACH, Fla., April 23. — (AP.) — The world's automobile speed record today was written beside the name of a young American, Ray Keech, and the figures were 207.55 miles an hour.

The 27-year-old driver wrested the "fastest time on earth" from Capt. Malcolm Campbell, the Englishman, by a scant margin of half a mile an hour yesterday when he reeled off an average mile in 17.34 seconds at the wheel of J. M White's "Triplex Special."

Success followed a series of heart-breaking failures, the last of which came a few minutes before he broke the record when his first attempt of the day was thrown out because a timing device failed to function.

Tears streaked down the grimed face of the crestfallen driver when Odis Porter, official American Automobile Association timer, told him his speed had not been clocked.

KEECH RILED

"But my instruments showed 220 miles an hour," he exclaimed.

When he realized the futility of protest, Keech jerked the Triplex in gear.

"All right," he snapped angrily over his shoulder. "I'll show 'em. But the timer better be working this time. I'm not running for my health."

Ray drove the monster slowly past the stands to the south end of the hard-packed sand course and turned around. The 35-cylinder craft gathered speed, and the crowd reared as it started past in a blue haze.

A moment later Keech's time was announced as 16.53 seconds and his speed 213.9 miles an hour with the wind.

Once more the youthful driver lined up the huge "triplex" at the north end for a final effort against a 35-mile wind.

The racer belched smoke, backfired and zigzagged down the course, but when it struck the measured mile it was roaring its triumph only too plainly.

RECORD!

Judges worked feverishly.

"Time 17.86 seconds," they announced, "and speed 201.567 miles an hour."

Keech was grinning as he drove back to the pit and when the official two-way average was announced he yelled:

"Boy howdy! I never did so much running in all my life."

The crowd carried him on shoulders to the stands.

Kech dismissed a slightly burned arm, spattered with flame when his machine backfired on the last run, with a deprecative gesture.

Meanwhile, Frank Lockhart, whose Stutz "Blackhawk" shot into the sea with him in February, was tuning up an identical machine for a record attempt.

THEIR HAPPINESS UPSETS COURT

RUTH MAY AND MYRON IRVING SWISS

So happy were they to see each other when they met in Common Pleas Court, where their parents were fighting for their custody, Ruth May and Myron Irving Swiss had to be "ejected" to allow the wheels of justice to turn. Their antics were innocent but noisy, the court decided. The reunion was effected only after Ruth May had cried when "Buddy" at first adopted the typical "brother" attitude. Mrs. Bertha Swiss, 6139 Jackson street, and Allen B. Swiss, 5518 Stanton avenue, each has asked the court for custody of both children. The parents are separated. Mrs. Swiss was represented by Attorneys Esther I. Katten and Rody P. Marshall. Swiss had E. Lowry Humes for counsel.

REPORT INDICTS COAL OPERATORS

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The operators are held responsible for the troubles of the coal industry by the People's Legislative Service, which studies and advises on economic and political subjects, in a report issued today and published in the organization's paper, The People's Business.

The report, signed by Richard W. Hogue, associate editor, who has personally investigated conditions in the Pennsylvania strike zone, follows:

"The coal operators of America stand indicted on the following grounds:

"Refusal to heed recommendations of the great fact-finding body created by the government, the United States Coal Committee.

"Refusal to attend conferences called by the federal government through its Department of Labor.

"Refusal to answer essentially important questions before the Senate committee.

"Selling to big railroads below cost, while forcing householders to pay exorbitant prices.

"Violation of agreements and repudiation of contracts with employes.

"Ruinous competition and unregulated overproduction.

"Colossal waste of 250,000,000 tons a year of an indispensable natural resource as a result of uncontrolled competition.

"Inflicting untold costs and hardships on other industries and on the public by inability to maintain industrial stability and peace.

"Abrogation of civil liberties and denial of human rights.

"Use of 'yellow dog' contracts, persecution, intimidation brutality. 'Everywhere your committee visited they found victims of the coal and iron police who had been baten up', reads the report of the Senate Sub-Committee.

"Securing injunctions barring the miners from organizing, on the ground that coal mining is a part of interstate commerce; while denying federal jurisdiction on the ground that coal mining is not a part of interstate commerce.

"Refusing to co-operate with the Senate, the public, among

WILL QUIT ARCTIC BY SHIP

By ARNE KILDAL.
International News Service.

OSLO, Norway, April 23.—Capt. George H. Wilkins and Carl B. Eielson, who flew over the Arctic from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Spitzenbergen, by plane, have abandoned their plan to fly to Oslo and will remain at Spitzenbergen until they can leave for Norway by steamship, said a Green Harbor dispatch to the newspaper Aftenposten this afternoon.

On account of the huge masses of ice off the Spitzenbergen coast, it may be a fortnight before the exploring airmen can leave for the south. They intend to take their plane with them.

If, as some Arctic explorers believe, a continent exists at the North Pole, Capt. Wilkins and Pilot Eielson failed to find it.

Capt. Wilkins is assembling his data for a report to the National Geographical Society of America. While he made observations of great scientific value, reports received here so far indicated that he had made no new discoveries. Part of the time the aviators were in the air their vision was obscured by mist and clouds.

PLANE DAMAGED

The landing gear of the plane was slightly damaged in landing on the ice at Green Harbor, after the hop off from Dead Man's Island, but it is believed here that the damage is not extensive and can easily be repaired. However, it is not known if there is sufficient gasoline at Green Harbor available to allow the explorers to continue their flight southward if they decide to do so.

The explorers ran into an Arctic gale of great violence after they had flown approximately 2,100 miles and were within 25 miles of their goal—Spitzbergen. This storm continued to rage for five days, holding the airmen upon Doedmansoeira from Monday afternoon until Saturday morning when they were able to hop off from the bleak, desolate and uninhabited bit of land to complete their long and daring voyage at Green Harbor.

Despite the hardships, cold and lack of food, the men are both in good condition and are able to continue their journey at once if they decide to do so.

The weather was far below zero during the entire flight and at times the cold was terrific, but the Lockheed-Vega monoplane used by the airmen, demonstrated that icy atmospheric conditions do not hinder the working of an airplane motor.

For more than 20 hours the ship roared over the Arctic wastes with the motor working perfectly.

CARRIED RIFLE

In addition to concentrated food, matches, tobacco and extra clothing the men carried a rifle with ammunition and fishing tackle for use in event they were forced down near the pole and compelled to wait for weeks and perhaps months until rescue arrived.

TWO WITH NITRO ARRESTED

Clairton police believe they frustrated a series of burglaries here today when Patrolmen William Hughes and Clarence Jones captured Frank Howard, alias Scott, Baltimore, and Frank Lewis, Shamokin, Pa., attempting to enter the Wilson Auto Wrecking Company. Each man carried a revolver and they had one pint of nitroglycerin and nine fuses. Howard, police say, has a penitentiary record of 16 years and has just been released after a 14-year stretch at Eastern Penitentiary.

3 BODIES FOUND IN RIVER

PLANE OR AUTO TRAGEDY SEEN

HAMILTON, O., April 13.—(AP.)—Authorities today continued their search along the Great Miami River for the wreckage of an airplane or automobile, following discovery of three bodies floating in the river here yesterday.

The body of a man was recovered but the two others were carried away by the storm-swollen stream. These were said to have been garbed in aviators' helmets.

The body recovered has not been identified. Coroner Edward Cook said that it had been in the water only a few hours. He gave drowning as the cause of death.

Owen Markleand of this city reported seeing the three bodies carried over a dam, one mile north of here. After all three were swept over the dam, Markleand said, two continued in the middle stream while the third, the one recovered, floated into calmer water.

Airports at Dayton and Cincinnati reported no pilots of these fields were missing.

Shakespeare, Stratford-on-Avon.

LIGHT IN STOREROOM FRUSTRATES ROBBERY

A flickering light in the Victor clothing store, 310 Braddock avenue, Braddock, early today caused Patrolman Ray Quein to investigate. He found the store had been entered and a quantity of clothing piled up. He arrested Arthur Riles, 17, of Thirteenth street and Washington avenue, Braddock. Police are searching for another man.

DR. DUNCAN RAPS PASTOR AS 'WET'

The Rev. Charles W. Tinsley, pastor of the West View Methodist Episcopal Church has made himself "unintentionally a mouthpiece of the wets," it was charged by the Rev. Dr. W. Wofford T. Duncan, pastor of Emory Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Duncan also attacked political machines and crooked politics in his address, which was made before members of Duquesne Chapter, Order of DeMolay, attending special services in a body.

Last Monday at a Methodist ministerial meeting, Dr. Tinsley openly stated that he was in opposition to the Eighteenth amendment and that he believed prohibition a failure. His paper, read at their weekly meeting, created considerable talk among the clergymen.

Dr. Duncan also said "Dr. Tinsley, whose ability I admire, and whose friendship I enjoy, has unintentionally made himself the mouthpiece of the wets. His plea for temperance as against prohibition was pitiably weak and unworthy of his mental strength."

"Every organization candidate defeated is progress toward decency," Dr. Duncan said in touching upon the political situation here. "Only 30 per cent of the people vote in some sections of the city, and the political machines have a strangle hold on the people of Pittsburgh. The people can say tomorrow whether they want this to continue."

"Here is a chance to clean up the city. The police cannot do it unless they are ordered by the higher-ups. Mayor Kline and Director Clark are not doing it, or 500 pre-war saloons would not be running, with vice conditions obtaining that are a stench in decent nostrils."

BONDS TO PASS, MALONE SURE

The $7,248,000 city bond issue to be voted upon tomorrow "is a plain business proposition, with each elector of Pittsburgh serving as a stockholder in this municipal corporation," said Councilman James F. Malone in a statement today.

"Each improvement," he said, "whether it be a small back alley or way to a family garage or a main artery in our residential districts, will add to the city's wealth, progress and above all to the peace of mind of our citizens.

"I am confident that the people's judgment will be a verdict which will place Pittsburgh up front as a municipality in which citizens are given at least the necessities of life, ideal home surroundings, modern parks and up-to-date recreational facilities, and we must get 100 cents for every dollar expended."

Jazz Orchestra Plays Way to Freedom

Morals court took on the appearance of a cabaret for a few moments yesterday morning when members of a Negro jazz orchestra gained their freedom through entertaining Magistrate A. D. Brandon and court attaches. The members of the band were luckier than their boss, Wesley Irons, proprietor of a cabaret at 142 Fullerton street where the orchestra nightly entertains. Irons and his chef, George Sheppard, were held for court on charges of violating the Snyder act and fined on charges of keeping a disorderly house and with operating a cabaret without a permit. Police raided the place early Sunday and arrested everybody, including the orchestra.

WOMAN KILLS NEIGHBOR WITH PARING KNIFE

OHIO WIFE, 19, SLAIN IN HOME OF SISTER

ALLIANCE, O., April 23.—April 23.—Breaking down the door of her neighbor's home, Mrs. Goldie Vargo, 20, mother of a two-year-old daughter, fatally stabbed Mrs. Bernice Huth, 19, mother of two children, early today, police report. Mrs. Vargo is under arrest charged with murder.

The stabbing occurred in the home of Mrs. Grace Jackson, 22, sister of Mrs. Huth, and was the culmination of neighborhood gossip which concerned Mrs. Vargo.

Shortly before last midnight, Mrs. Vargo armed with a butcher knife, attempted to enter the Jackson home, but was stopped by her husband, Joe Vargo. Two hours later she escaped from her own home and armed with a paring knife, battered down the door of the Jackson home and attacked Mrs. Huth, police were told. Mrs. Huth was stabbed in the neck and died before a physician could be summoned.

LOOTER CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

Chasing over the roofs of downtown store buildings early today, city detectives cornered a man who they say was surprised in the act of looting the store of the Palace Clothing Company, 627 Liberty avenue. Taken to detective bureau on a suspicious person charge, the prisoner said he was Enrique Contreras, 19, a Mexican, no home.

Detectives Vincent Cavanaugh, Edward Harkins and William Sullivan participated in the chase and cornered the man in the store of the Bluestone Electric Company at 617 Liberty avenue. They had rushed to the clothing store when a burglar alarm had been sounded and after entering the building, saw Contreras leaving through a trap door. They followed, clambering over walls and skylights, finally capturing their prisoner as he was descending into the electric company quarters.

"Just two handshakers, eh?" suggested Bossy Gillis, positively the First Man of Newburyport (Mass.), as he and Mayor Kline mingled mitts in Kline's offices today. Bossy, here to open the national dance marathon tonight in Motor Square Garden, promised the Mayor he'd step a wicked foxtrot if Kline would drop around.

OFFERS COAL ILLS REMEDY

tions. All other factors had been secondary. When this is done the uneconomic, unnecessary long hauls and cross hauls will be eliminated. Coal will move from the districts adjacent to the various markets until those districts can not supply the demand and then the outlying districts will begin to ship."

Mr. Smith did not read his statement, but discussed it with Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the committee, and with Senator Frank R. Gooding, of Idaho, who presided as chairman today, and they agreed to accept it for the record.

Mr. Smith said Senator Gooding told him he was "sold" on the plan.

Ohio coal operators presented their version of the situation in the bituminous industry in that state to the Senate committee this morning. They were signatories of the Jacksonville wage agreement with the United Mine Workers and complied with its terms until it expired on March 31, 1927. Since then the miners have been on strike and most of the Ohio mines have been shut down.

The Ohioans painted a dismal picture of conditions. They have lost their markets, their mines are going to ruin, and a number have become insolvent. They are unable to compete with their nonunion competitors in West Virginia and Kentucky.

Repeated efforts have been made by the Ohio operators to persuade the United Mine Workers to accept a wage scale lower than the Jacksonville basic rate of $7.50 a day, but to no avail.

The Ohio operators assert that they cannot pay a higher rate than $5 a day and still meet West Virginia competition.

Mr. Smith presented an exhaustive study of the subject and went into an analysis of freight rates and their effect on markets and the development of distant fields. He pointed out that discriminatory rates enabled investigations to open up new coal properties in West Virginia and Kentucky and seize the lake cargo market. As an example he said Pittsburgh, only 231 miles from Toledo, shipped 31,000 tons to Michigan while Southern West Virginia and Kentucky, from 101 to 200 miles farther away, shipped over 18,000,000 tons to Michigan. He declared the reason is obvious—that the south had a lower labor cost and favorable freight rates. He continued:

"We believe that the permanent prosperity of the coal industry depends upon a scientific freight rate structure. Rates on coal must be fixed on a basis of service rendered by the railroads, ton-mile rates, if you please, modified by terminal charges and transportation conditions. All other factors should be secondary. When this is done the uneconomic unnecessary long hauls and cross hauls will be eliminated. Coal will move from the districts adjacent to the various markets until those districts cannot supply the demand and then the outlying districts will begin to ship.

"If this had been done 15 years ago we would not have had the tremendous overproduction we now have and the spectacle could not exist of hauling coal hundreds of miles to pass idle mines almost at the destination of the long haul.

"Waste is always paid for. If a railroad isn't paid any more for hauling coal 476 miles than it is for hauling it 281 miles, either the consumer at the end of the 281-mile haul pays too much for his coal, or the farmer or shipper of other goods pays excess freight on those goods, so that the buyer of the coal at the end of the 476-mile haul can get the cheap rate.

"This new basis of figuring rates would not work such a hardship on even the outlying districts as might occur to you at first.

"Kentucky would be assured of its markets west and Missouri would get cheaper coal. Kentucky would increase its business in Southern Indiana because the rates would be lowered. It's not fair to the consumers in Indiana now to maintain a rate of $2.52 for a 342-mile haul from Harlan, Ky., to Indianapolis, so that the same rate can be maintained for a 100-mile longer haul from Pittsburgh to Indianapolis. The low voltatile and smokeless coal of Southern West Virginia will always retain their markets. They have no real competition. Northern West Virginia's markets would be widened. Maryland coal could move into its natural markets and the residents of Washington, D. C., would have a lower coal bill. New York state and city would benefit. Connecticut and Rhode Island would get their coal cheaper. Naturally Ohio would be benefited, and Michigan would pay less freight on coal.

"It has been suggested to you that the laws be changed to permit great combinations of coal operating companies, or to permit the establishment of district selling agencies under government regulation. Something like this might tend to reduce the competition within the districts, but it would not go far toward preventing overproduction.

"Suppose, for instance, right now we had one operating company in the Pittsburgh district. There isn't local business enough, independent of freight rates, to pay interest on the capital that would be invested. That company would still have to get two-thirds of its business in markets bringing it into competition with the southerners on an even freight rate basis, so that this big company couldn't pay more wages than they do and the competition would be just as keen.

"However, if you first fix this freight rate structure so that long hauls and cross hauls are eliminated and the country is thus divided into its natural districts, then combinations in the districts would be helpful.

"This proposal points a way for the government to promptly relieve the deplorable condition of the bituminous coal industry in a way that will make possible the payment of better wages in the coal fields in the heart of the consuming territory and in curbing the chief trouble, overproduction, acts to close those mines which now pay the lowest wages and depend for their markets on wasteful, unnecessary long hauls by the railroads."

ROBBED BY ARMED TRIO IN LIBERTY AVENUE

Three armed robbers early today robbed Robert Falconer, 75 Congress street, of $25 in Liberty avenue near Edmond street. Falconer told police that when he passed the three who were standing on the curb, they drew revolvers and surrounded him.

Co-eds Half Date Costs During Dutch Week

CHICAGO, April 23.—(AP.)—In Northwestern University they'll re-enact a quaint old Dutch custom this week. Co-eds will be given the only privilege which American women have failed to wrest from men.

They'll be permitted—that's the way the male students put it—to pay half the taxi fare, half the price of the dance tickets and half the cost of the corsage, if any.

It took a conference of 103 student leaders to arrive at this dating millenium, and then it took two hours of persuasive arguments by the boys before the women delegates could see the justice of Dutch dates.

"It's conceit," declared a girl speaker. "These boys want us to pay for the privilege of being dated by them."

COAL MEN HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR TROUBLES

themselves, or with the mine workers to cure the evils of the industry.

"Crushing fair-minded operators who desire to maintain honorable contractual relations with their workers, who acknowledge the authority of the government and who recognize the rights of the public.

"The reasons for public control of this diseased and defiant basic industry are obvious and compelling.

"Ample evidence to sustain this indictment has come from the coal operators themselves. Some of it with insolence, some with despair and some with the candor of this president of a coal company controlling eleven mines:

"'The coal industry is sick, and the outstanding cause of its condition is that operators have consistently and continuously been at war with labor, with the public and with each other.

"'The only resort to government agencies and powers by coal operators has been to employ them to help support and maintain existing ruinous policies and conditions.'

"The malignant evils in the coal industry are of long standing. These evils were so serious in 1922 as to compel the government to take action by creating the United States Coal Commission. We quote from the measured and moderate report of that commission:

"'A corporation, which is a creature of the state, must not be permitted to break up a defacto organization of labor in other ways than by argument and advice. The so-called "yellow dog" contract is no more justifiable than any other form of contract which debars the individual from employment solely because of membership or non-membership in any organization.'

"Speaking of coal as 'absolutely necessary, not only to interstate commerce but to the comfort of the whole people,' the commission denies that the mine owners have the right to operate the mines 'as a mere business enterprise.'

"The issue is plain and fundamental. Either the government must control industrial power in the common interest of the people, or industrial power will control the government in the selfish interest of its possessors.

"The evidence is before the Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate. A great basic industry, deeply diseased and feverishly defiant, stands in urgent need of immediate heroic treatment.

"The government and the people of America await the decision of this committee in the hope that as sworn representatives of the public good, they will render a verdict in keeping with the facts and devoid of compromise with fear or favor."

SHAKEUP HITS W. VA. AGENTS

WHEELING, W. Va., April 23.—A shake-up in the federal prohibition districts in Northern West Virginia was reported today by Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington, of Pittsburgh.

George B. Heide, of Wheeling, for eight years deputy commissioner at Wheeling, will be succeeded by Alva D. Stautler, of Pittsburgh, who has been in charge of the Fairmont office. Edward Hawkins, formerly in charge of the Fairmont office, has tendered his resignation. H. N. Bradley, former state administrator, tendered his resignation some time ago.

Frank Virginis, four months, son of Joseph Virginis, a coal miner at Russellton, was found dead in bed early today. The cause of death was not determined.

Bryan's Offspring Bred to Politics, Says Col. Will

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 23.—Say, you know I wrote you the other day about a wonderful woman politician who has since been nominated, Mrs. Ruth McCormack of Illinois, daughter of Mark Hanna. Well, there is a live Democratic woman, too, and that's Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan. She is running for Congress in Florida from the Miami district and she is another woman that really belongs in politics, for she was bred in politics. That will be two daughters of two great politicians. Who are the Republicans going to nominate for President? They are liable to furnish the comedy this year.

2 DIE IN CHAIR AT ROCKVIEW

BELLEFONTE, Pa., April 23.—Two men were electrocuted at Rockview Penitentiary here today for murder.

Marko Matakovich, 35, of Washington county, was executed for the murder of George Greich, of Cokesburg Junction, Pa., March 26, 1927.

Robert Loftus, Philadelphia Negro, paid with his life for slaying Fora Terrell, a Negress, in Philadelphia in 1926.

TOTS REUNITED IN COURTROOM

For the first time in months, Ruth May Swiss, 3, and Myron Irving ("Buddy") Swiss, 5, met in Common Pleas Court today, as their separated parents fought for their custody.

"Buddy, Buddy, oh Buddy," the blonde Ruth May cried as she ran to her brother.

Buddy said nothing and looked away. A minute passed and tears were trickling down the cheeks of a little girl who was trying to fill a wide chair in Judge James H. Gray's court.

Then Buddy capitulated. He smiled across the counsel table at Ruth May. And Ruth May ran to him. Five minutes later they were kindly "ejected" from the courtroom because their happy antics were disturbing the wheels of justice.

Mrs. Bertha Swiss, of 6139 Jackson street former Pitt co-ed, who has had the custody of Ruth May, asked the court for possession also of Buddy, who has been with his father, Allen B. Swiss, of 518 Stanton avenue. Swiss retaliated with a similar request that custody of both children be given to him.

BEAT LINDY

Who crossed the Atlantic first in an airplane? Lindy? Wrong! Lieut. Brown and Capt. Alcock in 1919 flew from Newfoundland to Ireland across that prominent stretch of "H-2-0" in 16 hours in a Vickers Vimy bomber equipped with a Rolls-Royce motor. Brown is alive today, but Alcock was killed in a plane crash near Paris.

MISS SHEARER, SCHOOL HEAD, SUCCUMBS

Miss Sara Shearer, 50, head of the Shearer private school, and widely known in educational circles, died yesterday at her home, 832 Amberson avenue. Before starting the school she had been associated with the Winchester School for Girls. Born at Fond du Lac, Wis., she taught in Brookline (Mass.) and Chicago private schools, and came to Pittsburgh in 1906 to Miss Mitchell's School for Girls. She established her own school in 1911.

Miss Shearer was educated at the University of Chicago, at Columbia University and at Harvard Summer School. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Professional Women's Monday Lunch Club, the Women's Press Club, the International Kindergarten Union and of the Women's City Club. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Paris, of Green Bay, Wis.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon from her home.

MURRAY AVOIDS CLERGY TALK

Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, it is reported, has declined the invitation to address the clergymen who will meet here tomorrow in the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal Church to investigate the coal strike situation. The reason for his refusal, it is said, is because John Brophy, chairman of the "Save the Union" committee, also has been invited to speak.

The ministers, coming from all parts of the eastern half of the country, will remain in session three days, beginning tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Tomorrow afternoon and Wednesday afternoon the clergymen will visit coal mines, according to the Rev. Dr. Ralph B. Urmy of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal Church.

Will Tells One Joke Too Many, Costs Him $5

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(INS.)—Will Rogers, the comedian, has told one joke too many and his last one will cost him $5, according to Senator William E. Borah, (Rep.) of Idaho.

Rogers boasted of sending $5 to Borah's "Republican conscience fund," which the Idaho Senator is raising to repay the $160,000 "loaned" by Harry F. Sinclair to the Republican party in 1923. Rogers said he had listed five Republicans he wanted Borah to "clean" for his five dollars.

The only thing wrong with Rogers' little joke, Borah said today, was that he never sent in the five bucks.

"But," Borah added, "I'm going to write him and ask for the five."

Borah also announced he would not abandon his plan for raising the $160,000 even though Sinclair won an acquittal here Saturday.

New Pastel Berets

According to Descat

Descat has made berets of antelope in pastel shades, to closely fit over the sleek locks of her smartest clients, and these child-like little caps have taken smart points along the Riviera, by storm.

Now, they have come to America, and their copies and adaptations in felt and in braid, are first presented to Pittsburgh by the Millinery Salons. In delectable colorings and neutral shades, to top the sports costumes of maid and youthful matron, they are priced $5.00 to $15.00.

The Moire Coat

May Easily Be Made at Home

Heavy moire silk tailors beautifully, and is not difficult to work with, which means that anyone who sews at all may have one of the extremely smart coats of this material at slight expense.

Black and navy are the most usual colors for moire coats. Good for afternoon or street wear. Pastel colored moire coats worn over matching chiffon evening gowns will be prominent this summer.

Choose from the good assortment of markings and colors assembled here. All 39 inches wide. Colors, priced $3.95 yard; black, priced $2.50 to $7.50 yard.

Printed Crepes to Complete the Ensemble

At the same time the material for the coat is selected, it would be a good idea to select a silk print for a frock to wear with it.

A navy-and-beige or black-and-white polka dot to complete the street ensemble.....

A colorful floral print with navy or black ground for afternoon.....

A flowered chiffon, with the color of the coat predominating for evening.....

These are but a few suggestions. More will occur to you when you see our wonderful selection of printed silks, all 39 inches wide, and accommodatingly priced from $1.95 to $9.50 yard.

CHICAGO GANGLAND 'GETS' CROWE EX-DETECTIVE

SHOOT SLEUTH AS HE GOES TO BED

CHICAGO, April 23—(AP.)—Shot-gun assassins, standing on a soap-box and firing through a bedroom window, slew Ben Newmark, formerly an investigator for State's Attorney Crowe early today.

Newmark was preparing to retire when he was shot down. His wife, hearing the shots, ran to the bedroom and found her husband's body lying on the floor. He had been shot in the abdomen.

During his years as head of the detective squad at the state's attorney's office, Newmark, who was 41, led numerous raids against vice and gambling resorts. He played a prominent part in the questioning of Harvey Church, "the show-off murderer," who later was hanged.

Aside from the soapbox, still in place below the window through which Newmark was shot, police had no clue. Burglars or enemies made during his years as a law enforcement officer may have slain him, officers said.

In 1922, while Newmark was employed by the state's attorney, his home was bombed, but he was not hurt.

BEN AVON PASTOR LEAVES HERE SOON

The Rev. William G. Brown, pastor of the Ben Avon Presbyterian Church, will leave for New York next week to take up his new duties as general secretary of the American Bible Society. He succeeds the late Dr. Arthur C. Ryan. Brown has been pastor of the Ben Avon church five years.

Girl in Coma 98 Days Thought Recovering

PAINESVILLE, O., April 23.—(AP.)—Increased flickering of the eye-lids and slight movements of arms and legs indicate that Helen Buschmann, 19, student at Lake Erie College, who has lain unconscious in a hospital here for 98 days, may be recovering, her physicians announced today.

Miss Buschmann's skull was fractured when she was struck by a bus at Mentor, O., January 15.

Dr. V. N. Marsh believes the destroyed brain cells are slowly re-forming.

KILLS HIS WIFE, SHOOTS SELF

DETROIT, April 23. — Joseph Dawoskiewicz, 42, former superintendent of the Hamtramck Department of Public Works, today shot and killed his wife, Stella, and then turned the gun on himself, inflicting a fatal wound. He died half hour later.

According to police the couple attended a party last night and quarreled over what time they should go home.

MAN FALLS 196 FEET TO DEATH IN SHAFT

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., April 23.—(AP.)—Falling 196 feet down the shaft of the Panama mine of the Ben Franklin Coal Company, Russell McCain, 24, was killed instantly here yesterday. The coroner held McCain's death was accidental. He fell while working at the mouth of the shaft.

ITALY DESIRES PEACE, SAYS MARTINO

"Mutual understanding is the best foundation for a peace which will further the ends of humanity and civilization," Baron Giacomo de Martino, Italian ambassador to Washington, said last night at a banquet in the William Penn Hotel, celebrating the founding of Rome. Baron de Martino was guest of honor. The Baron recently was a signer of peace treaties between the United States and Italy.

"No government is so interested in peace as the Italian government, which has been more successful in the work of post-war restoration than any other European country," the Baron said. He also paid tribute to the city of Pittsburgh, its industries and its citizens.

Other speakers were Mayor Charles H. Kline, Judge J. B. Drew, of Common Pleas Court, and Judge E. Alessandroni, of Philadelphia. Chevalier G. Castruccio, Italian consul at Pittsburgh, was toastmaster.

The day's program included several other gatherings, one of them a large mass meeting in Memorial Hall, attended by more than 2,000 persons, addressed by the Baron. Mayor Kline welcomed the ambassador in behalf of the city. The principal address was made by Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, who spoke on "The Roman Empire."

Other speakers included Lieut. C. Calabrese, of Pittsburgh, president of the Italian Legion; Attorney John F. Fortunato, Dr. Louis Paolino and the Rev. De Dominicis, of Carnegie.

Special squads of police guarded the speakers against any possible anti-Fascist outbreak.

HIGHWAYMEN'S VICTIM SENSELESS IN STREET

Found beaten unconscious in Arlington avenue, the victim of highwaymen, John Coyle, 57, of 511 Wilmot street, was removed by a motorist to Mercy Hospital. It was said his condition is serious.

It was first believed that Coyle might have been struck by an automobile but, revived, he said he had been attacked by three men, who took his money.

FRANKLIN PRIMARY QUIETEST IN YEARS

FRANKLIN, Pa., April 23.—This city experienced its quietest primary campaign in years, the only real fight being in Independent Republican circles where an attempt is being made to oust John L. "JOIN ME OR ELSE—"

CONNIE PLANT

Connie Bennett Plant, former actress, had laid down an ultimatum to her husband, Philip Plant. It's in a wire, the exact context of which has not been revealed, but her friends intimate that it means that Phil had better join her in Paris before June 1.

PHILIP PLANT

Philip Plant, son of Col. and Mrs. William Hayward and well-known on Broadway and Park avenue, is thusly ordered to his wife's side. Divorce proceedings are believed to be the penalty. Recently, Phil's been attentive to Margot Keene, the unmarried one of the famed Keene sisters.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Proper Breathing Will Round Out the Body

DR. COPELAND

THERE are found many physical reasons for being thin. Dyspepsia interferes with proper digestion of the food. Heartburn, water-brash, belching, vomiting—all these symptoms are signs of indigestion. You cannot expect to be firm in flesh when the digestive organs fail to function.

Ulcer of the stomach, gallstones, chronic appendicitis, bad teeth and bad tonsils are possible causes for loss of weight, or for continued thinness. If you are ill from any cause and stay ill long enough, there will be loss of weight and sometimes perpetual thinness.

You may have perfect teeth, healthy organs, normal action of stomach and intestines and yet be thin as a rail. You may eat everything that does not bite you first and still be skinny. You may select your diet with painstaking care and not be able to add a pound to your weight.

The amount of food one takes does not determine the fatness or the leanness. What happens to the individual depends on the assimilation of the food.

Have you ever seen a fine-looking girl, with strong body and limbs, but with a flat chest and outstanding collarbones? Below and above those bones are great hollows.

Invariably this lack of symmetrical development of the body is due to failure to breathe properly. Good lung action is essential to good health.

To stand out on the porch to indulge in a lot of deep breaths may make you feel foolish. You may be afraid of the neighbors. To attach this idea to some sort of sport or game helps a lot. For this reason I have advised a great many times that blowing exercises be taken.

Stand in front of a lace curtain or a short distance from a strip of paper suspended in a doorway. Fill the lungs and blow steadily until the curtain or paper moves with the current of air.

Needless to say, it isn't the blowing that does the good—it is the filling of the lungs which is necessary in order to blow. This exercise will open a lot of air cells and whole areas of lung tissue which, it may be, have never been used before. Practiced two or three times a day, this exercise will lead to habitual use of increased areas of lung tissue.

By the way, do not overdo the blowing exercises at first. If you should do so, the chest muscles may become very sore and lame.

Blow till the object moves and then step back two feet and try again. Gradually increase the distance from day to day. It won't be long before you will have increased your weight materially.

Fill your lungs with good air and load your red corpuscles with oxygen. Then your food will become of real value to you. Your chest will fill out and your figure will improve correspondingly. More than this, your resistance to disease will be added to and your chance of long life will be increased.

Answers to Health Queries

B. H. G. Q.—What would cause the nails on the great toe to drop off once a year? This year they have become discolored and stopped growing. There is no pain.

A.—It would be difficult to advise you without examining the trouble. Why not have your doctor look at the toes and suggest the treatment you need.

For the Lovelorn

Wondering

DEAR MISS GALE:

While on my vacation this summer I met two girls. They both attracted me, but one seemed to attract me more than the other. I have visited these girls in their home and when I came back to my own city I find myself, duty bound it seems, writing to both these girls. I have tried not to show any partiality for fear I would hurt the other one's feelings. I can see no sense in writing to both and hate to stop writing to both, for they might think I was in love with one of them. I want to keep both these girls for friends, so would ask you what shall I do? Do not ask me to stop writing to both, as that would be impossible. I agree with you on the kissing question.

WONDERING.

You have answered your own question, haven't you? You say it is impossible to stop writing to both girls, so I see nothing for you to do but keep on as you are.

Middling

DEAR MISS GALE:

I have been reading your column for a along time, and think your advice is very good in general, but don't you admit that there are exceptions to every rule? I am very popular with both sexes, go out a lot, and lead a happy life on the whole, and still I "neck," "pet" and smoke, but I do not drink. Of course, I indulge in the so-called "vices" in moderation, and always remember that there is a time and a place for everything. I have thought I was in love many times, but I know now that I have never really loved. I am terribly fickle, but there are a few boy friends whom I really do like a lot. I have been told I am good-looking and am neither a pronounced blond or brunette, but am just

MIDDLING.

There is never a time nor a place for promiscuous love making, my dear. I think you will discover some day the difference between being kissed by the man you really love and by a boy who just finds you pretty and easy to kiss.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

The High Soul climbs the high way and the low soul gropes the low.—OXENHAM.

ACCORDING to the conflicting planetary operations on this day there may be some complications and anxieties. While new ventures are under an encouraging rule and seem to promise assistance from unexpected quarters, yet they may be most successfully engineered by tact and diplomacy. Changes are shown and some unsatisfactory and inharmonious contacts.

Those whose birthday it is are on the opening of a year of opportunity in new ventures, but there may be changes of a disagreeable nature attendant. With good judgment and management, and without undue haste and indecision, affairs may prosper.

A child born on this day may be restless and changeable, but will succeed in employment or in singular or unusual occupations.

This hard-water soap soaks clothes whiter!

I USED to be dead tired every washday because I had such a heavy wash and it was such a hard job for me.

But no more drudgery for me! Now I use Rinso, the granulated hard-water soap. It loosens the dirt and stains like magic! Clothes come out so white and snowy that I scarcely have to rub a thing. I don't even bother boiling any more.

Rinso alone—without a softener—makes our water wonderfully soft and sudsy. And the suds stand right up until I'm ready to rinse.

One of my neighbors uses Rinso in her washer. She says it's great, too—no other soap comes up to it.

Just ask your grocer for

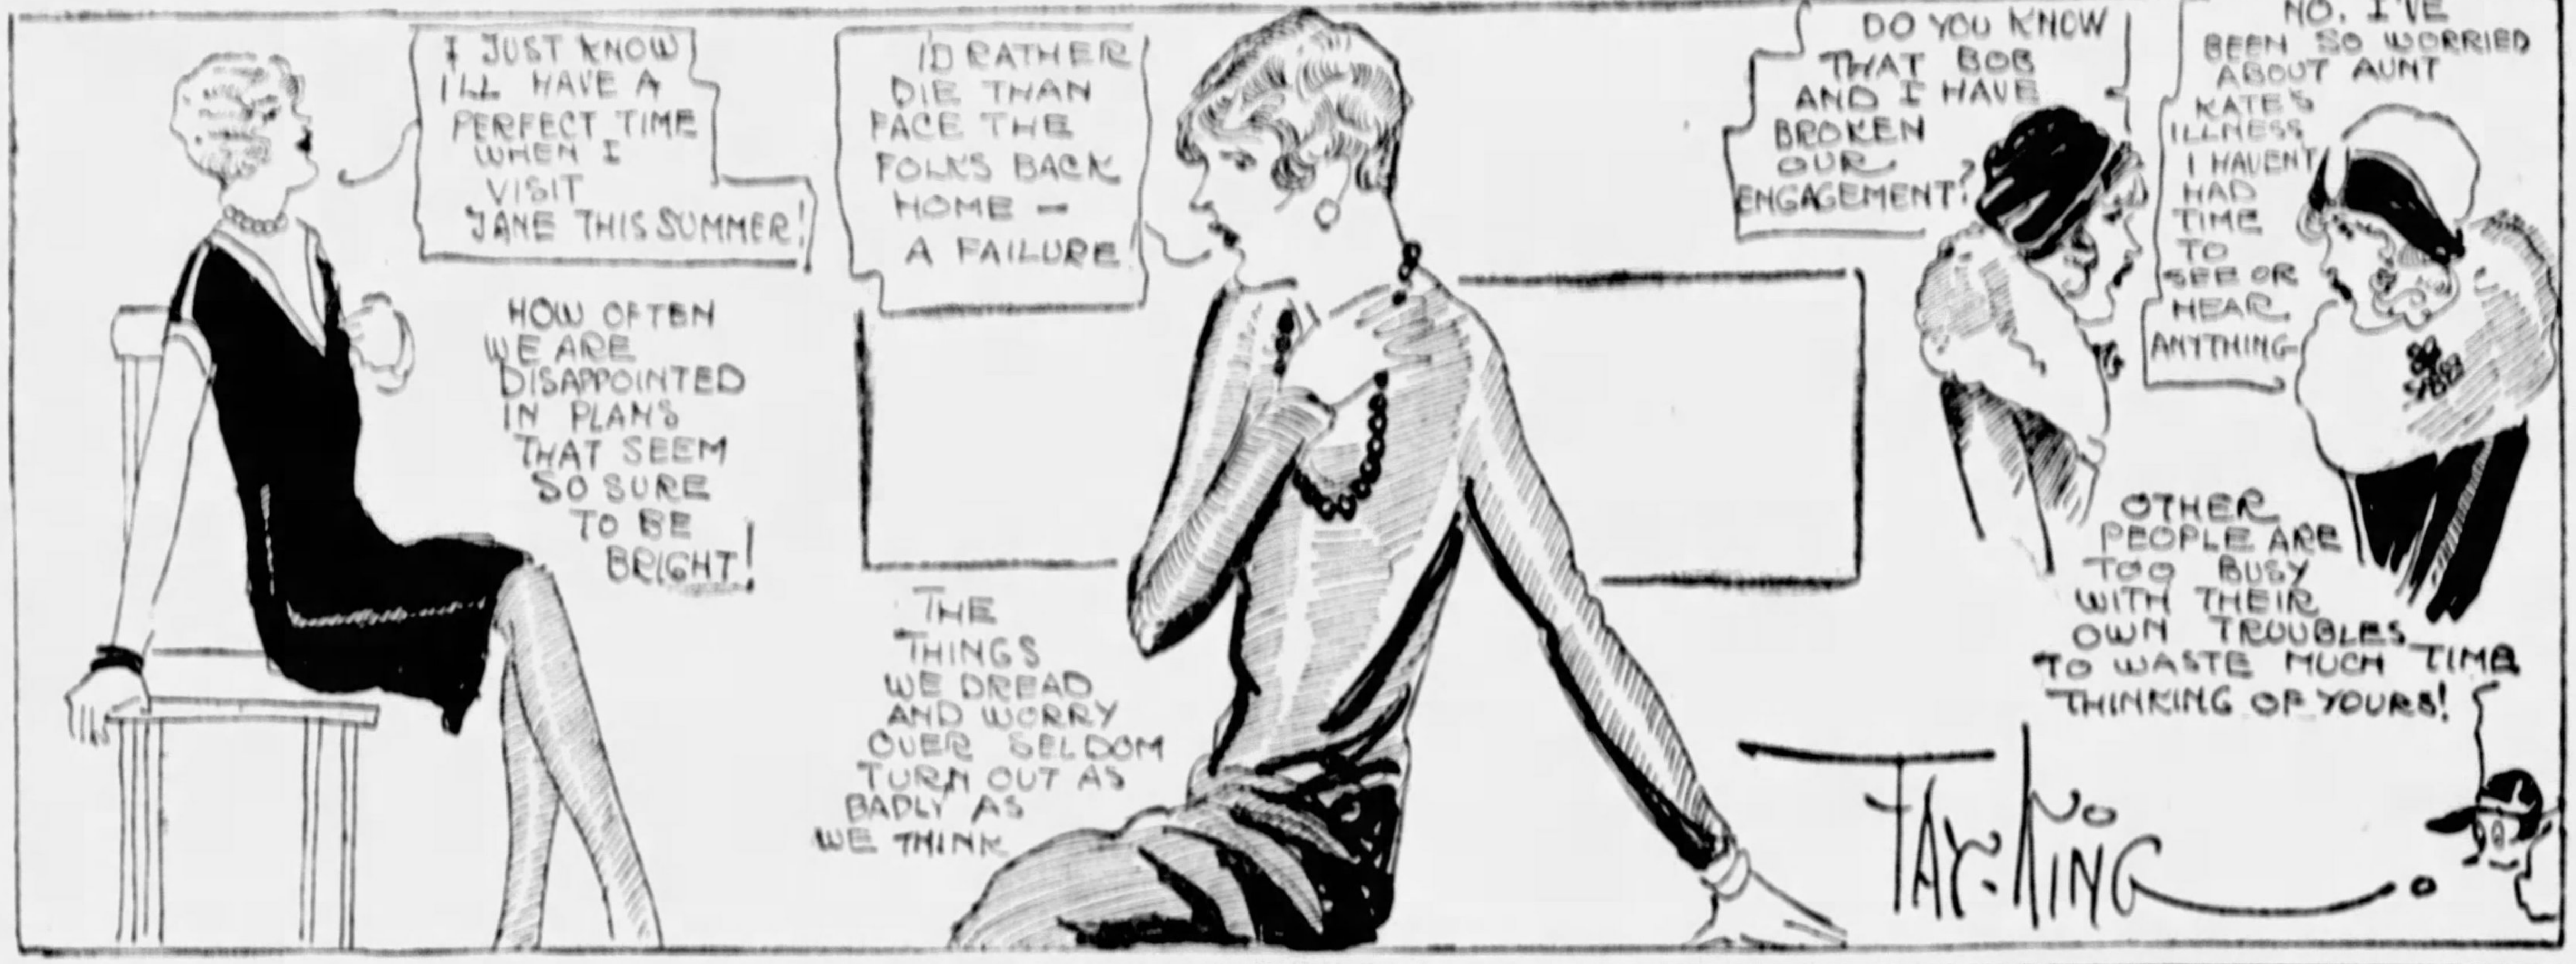
Fay King Tells Why Troubles Are Your Own



I JUST KNOW I'LL HAVE A PERFECT TIME WHEN I VISIT JANE THIS SUMMER!
HOW OFTEN WE ARE DISAPPOINTED IN PLANS THAT SEEM SO SURE TO BE BRIGHT!
I'D RATHER DIE THAN FACE THE FOLKS BACK HOME — A FAILURE
THE THINGS WE DREAD AND WORRY OVER SELDOM TURN OUT AS BADLY AS WE THINK DO YOU KNOW THAT BOB AND I HAVE BROKEN OUR ENGAGEMENT?
NO, I'VE BEEN SO WORRIED ABOUT AUNT KATE'S ILLNESS I HAVEN'T HAD TIME TO SEE OR HEAR ANYTHING
OTHER PEOPLE ARE TOO BUSY WITH THEIR OWN TROUBLES TO WASTE MUCH TIME THINKING OF YOURS!
FAY KING
NO

By FAY KING.

WHAT a waste of time and worry it is to wonder what people are saying and thinking about one's success or failure.

Everyone has interests of his or her own which mean much more to them than anything good or bad which can or does concern you!

Many girls have preferred death to facing the folks back home as failures, and all the time those very good persons they so dreaded to face may have been planning not to mention failure to them.

A broken engagement, a sudden misfortune in one's financial affairs, a tragedy of some sort, and some folks begin to think the whole world has stopped to concentrate on this particular something that has happened to them—good or bad!

The world and his wife, however, is busy trying to make their own plans work out! They are busy living down their own pasts or building up their own futures.

Life is full of changes for everyone.

And the pivot of everyone's world is himself.

While you weep and think that everyone is wondering why you broke your engagement to Bob, they are all busy trying to get themselves engaged to Tom, Dick or Harry!

A word or two at the moment, and the best is as soon forgotten as the worst.

Meditations of a Married Woman

By HELEN ROWLAND

WHY PLASTIC SURGEONS GET RICH

HELEN ROWLAND

ONE of the most enviable things about a man is his beautiful and sublime serenity.

A woman has a panic at the sight of the first gray hair, but not until he sees his LAST hair vanishing does a man begin to wonder if he ought to try a hair tonic.

A woman worries when her throat begins to sag and begins at thirty to ward off a double chin. But not until his chins are tripled and get in his way when he's shaving does a man suspect that he may be losing his boyish beauty.

A woman begins dieting and banting at the discovery of the first few pounds of superfluous flesh, but not until a man has to let his belt out three or four notches and can no longer get into his college tuxedo does he feel any anxiety about his increased girth or his vanishing waistline.

A woman begins thinking about love and marriage and planning her life long before the first lover arrives on the scene. She has her hope chest filled before there is any "hope" and the wedding decorations all picked out before the man has discovered the color of her eyes.

But a man never gives marriage a serious thought until he finds himself walking up the aisle to the altar—and then it's too late.

A woman lies awake nights for weeks before the wedding wondering IF she ought to do it—but a man waits until after the wedding and then lies awake nights wondering WHY he did it.

"Worrying" is woman's favorite indoor sport, but it is the one thing that a man dodges as long as he can.

* * *

That is why most men have such nice, smooth, jolly faces long after their wives' faces are covered with crow's-feet and the marks of plastic surgery.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, speaking from a studio in the White House, will be heard on the air tonight over WCAE and other stations associated with the Red Network. The President will be heard in connection with an American Forest Week observance program at 8 o'clock. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior of Canada, will be another speaker. Louise Homer Stires, soprano, and Harrington Van Hoesen, baritone, assisted by Frank La Forge, composer-pianist, will sing Mr. La Forge's own composition, "Trees at night," written especially for the occasion.

A new musical instrument will be heard on the air for the first time in the General Motors' program over WCAE at 9:30 o'clock. It will be the "tubaphone," which will be utilized by Joe Green and his orchestra. A baritone soloist and a male quartet will sing selections from musical shows. A symphony orchestra also will be heard.

Works of Beethoven will feature the Works-of-Great-Composers' hour over KDKA and other Blue network stations at 9:30 o'clock. Two hours earlier, Viola Philo, dramatic soprano of opera and concert stages, will be heard over the same station, appearing with Roxy's Gang. The usual Roxy choir, chorus and orchestra presentations will be offered. Time-tried favorite songs will be rendered by a male quartet during the Riverside hour over KDKA at 9 o'clock. Among them will be "Sweet Genevieve" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Among other programs tonight will be the Fisk Time-to-Retire Boys' presentation at 10:30 o'clock over WCAE and Spur Tie hour over WJAS at 9 o'clock. This latter program will open with a medley of college songs. Vocal and instrumental soloists, as well as orchestra music, will be offered.

DISTRICT VETS BOOST MAGEE

The nomination of James M. Magee is urged in an open letter made public today by the executive committee of the Association Veterans of the Thirty-fifth congressional district.

"No one can deny the right of the veterans to tell how James M. Magee has worked untiringly in Congress and out of Congress to aid our comrades in receiving hospital treatment and compensation for disabilities as the result of their service during the World War," read the letter in part.

The committee is headed by Clarence B. Hall, who said that Magee has adjusted the claims of 1,500 disabled veterans.

FIREBUG DIES IN JAIL

In jail for a mental examination, Peter Joniko, 34, of 144 Morningside avenue, Wilmerding, died from apoplexy last night. He had been committed 10 days ago by Judge Joseph M. Swearingen after confessing to setting fire to two duplex houses in Wilmerding because he was unable to meet mortgage payments.

EDUCATIONAL CENTER TERM ENDS TONIGHT

WESTINGHOUSE PLANT HAS FEW FATALITIES

In the 59 years of its existence the Westinghouse Air Brake Company has suffered only 12 fatal accidents, a record perhaps unequalled by any other industrial manufacturing concern of size. This announcement was contained in the report of the Westinghouse relief department, which is in its twenty-fifth year.

2 PETERSVILLE MEN CAPTURE PORCUPINE

BUTLER, Pa., April 23.—Charles and Raymond Burr, of Petersville, had only seen pictures of porcupines, but now they have a living specimen. The other night they discovered a strange animal in the chicken coop and put it in a box. The animal is rarely found in this section.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Goings and Comings of Pittsburgh Society Folk Prompt Envy From Those Staying at Home

THE desire to "go places and see things" is instilled in most of us—but the majority is unable to indulge it. Those of us who have to stay at home look on rather enviously while this person goes for a hurried trip to Europe or that one starts on a leisurely tour around the world. And it does seem as though our society folks are either going somewhere or just coming home again, most of the time.

Most of our visitors to Florida are at home again, and travelers are slowly getting back from other points. Tomorrow Richard Edwards Chislett and his daughter, Miss Rebecca F. Chislett, will be back in their Ellsworth avenue home after spending the winter at their place in La Jolla, Cal. Mr. Chislett's other daughter, Miss Alice Chislett, returned home last month.

And the Harry Darlingtons and their family, who have been South all winter, got in New York from Bermuda last Thursday and have been spending a few days at the Ambassador before coming home.

Other home-coming travelers are Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. A. Stewart, Jr. They are landing today in New York on the Isle de France after spending the past three months motoring on the French Riviera and through Spain and North Africa. They are planning to be in the East for about a month and then will go on West to remain for the summer at their ranch at Jackson's Hole, Wyoming.

And Mrs. Alfred E. Jenkins, who went on to New York direct from Colorado Springs, sailed on Friday night on the Paris for a trip aboard.

As for Sewickley Valleyites, they are doing their share of traveling, too. Mrs. Frank R. Dravo, of East Drive, Edgeworth, is in New York for several weeks, I hear, and Mrs. Alfred Gibbs Harlow, of Newbury lane, is just back from a 10-day stay in Gotham. And Miss Margaret Campbell has come back home again after being in Atlantic City and Philadelphia all winter. I understand, too, that Mrs. Van Lear P. Shriver sailed on Friday with friends from New York for England. They are planning to spend a month motoring through the countryside.

A visitor in Sewickley is Mrs. H. Page Warden, of Pasadena. She is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, of "Linganore," having come back East with Mrs. Laughlin when she returned from California early last week.

Another who is visiting in the East is Mrs. Harry C. Milholland, of Wellesley avenue. She and her husband have just recently come back from Honolulu, where they spent the winter, and now Mrs. Milholland is in New York. She is going to visit both of her sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carter Milholland, Jr., of Eighty-first street, New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Milholland, of Hewlett, Long Island.

Miss Jane Tomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tomb, of Oakmont, is visiting Mrs. J. M. Wood, of Memphis, Tenn., for several weeks.

* * *

Mrs. Harry G. Ehrenfeld and her daughter, Mrs. Paul W. Huhn, of Peebles street, Wilkinsburg, will entertain with a bridge shower Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Dorothy D. Clapper, daughter of Mrs. J. S. Clapper, of Church street, Swissvale, whose marriage to Homer L. Ehrenfeld will take place in May.

* * *

Mrs. Cornell Emanuel, of the King Edward, Jr., apartments, who will be remembered as Miss Elizabeth Reid before her wedding in October, and her sister, Miss Janet D. Reid, entertained with a bridge party Saturday in the former's home to announce the engagement of Miss Dorothy Parker, daughter of Mrs. Stanley H. Parker, of Munhall, to Harry S. Schweinsberg, of Philadelphia, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Scott Schweinsberg, of Crafton. The wedding will take place in June and after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Schweinsberg will leave for a motor trip through New England. They will be at home in Philadelphia after July 1.

The annual spring card party given by the sodality of Sacred Heart Church will be held Monday night, April 30, in the Guild Hall, Center avenue. Miss Alice Larkin, Miss Mary Moore, Miss Teresa Conway and Miss Lillie Schmid are in charge.

* * *

Mrs. Oscar Bieler, Mrs. C. Glenn Sipe and Mrs. Paul D. Hutchinson are in charge of prizes for the benefit bridge party being given this afternoon by the Dilworth Hall Club in the Morrowfield Hotel. Mrs. H. F. Handloser and Mrs. H. W. Kunkel are chairmen for cards and tallies; Mrs. Harold Voigt, Mrs. J. F. McClurg and Mrs. S. G. Little, tickets and publicity, and Mrs. George Swan, candy. Mrs. Thomas Pringle is general chairman.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the South Side Hospital will holds its annual card party for the benefit of the children's department and the social service work May 19 in Syria Mosque. Mrs. Daniel Beech is president of the society.

Court Duquesne No. 659, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold its annual spring dance and card party May 2 in the Knights of Columbus clubhouse, Fifth and Bellefield avenues. Mrs. Caroline A. Nuttall is general chairman.

Bethel Chapter No. 269, O. E. S., will hold a card party Thursday in Gimbel's. Mrs. Gwendolyn M. Henner is in charge.

The women's social committee of the Shannopin Country Club, of which Mrs. J. L. Rodrigues is chairman, will hold a luncheon-musicale Wednesday afternoon. The program will be given by Miss Angelina Casale, soprano; Mrs. Mildred Hoch Fage, pianist, and Miss Helen V. Irwin, reader. Mrs. J. F. Stewart will be hostess at the bridge luncheon scheduled for Saturday at the club.

Miss Marian Katherine White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. White, of Sewickley, has chosen June 12 as the date for her marriage to Thomas W. Neely, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Neely, of Sewickley. The date was made known Saturday at a bridge luncheon given in the Dorian Club.

* * *

Mrs. Emil Swensson, of North Highland avenue, has returned home after an extended stay in various cities in Florida.

Miss Olga L. Freedman, of Stanton avenue, has gone to Chicago to attend the music supervisors' national conference.

Story will present dramatically "Socially Effective Manners" and Mrs. Clarke K. Harvey will conduct a round table book hour at 7 o'clock. On Saturday afternoon the "hikes with a purpose" party will have its first hike of the season and will go to Sandy Creek under the leadership of Miss Marie B. Knauz. The group will leave the Central Branch Y. W. C. A. promptly at 2 o'clock. Following the study of trees, plants and birds, there will be a bonfire supper.

A program will follow the business meeting of the Western Pennsylvania section of the Women's Auxiliary to the American Institute of Mining Engineers which will be held Tuesday in the home of Miss Lois Scaife, North avenue. Mrs. Louis Young will sing two groups of songs, accompanied by Mrs. M. Snee, and Mrs. Ralph E. Davis will read. Tea will be served. Mrs. Thomas Girdler will give a musicale tea for the auxiliary in the Longue Vue Country Club on Friday, May 4.

An additional feature of the Shakespeare's birthday meeting of the Quota Club tonight will be a demonstration of "The Evolution of the Dance," by Miss Anne Wassel, accompanied by Miss Rose Minetti. Guests of honor will be Mrs. Mary Jane Clark Myers and Mrs. Alberta H. Hull, retiring and new presidents of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and Elmer Kenyon, president of the Pittsburgh Drama League, who will speak.

A special meeting of Pittsburgh Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held Friday afternoon in the Hotel Schenley. Reports of delegates to the thirty-seventh Continental Congress will be heard and delegates will be elected to the thirty-second state conference.

The Italian Women's Club will hold a card party at the Congress of Clubs on Thursday night. The committee includes Miss Angela Mancuso, Miss Connie Libretti, Miss Helen Pacelia, Miss Rose Cagni and Miss Mary Gentile.

The annual evening meeting under auspices of the activity committee, Dames of Malta, Protectors' Assembly No. 1, will be held in Kaufmann's auditorium, May 4. A banquet with cards and dancing to follow will mark the affair.

* * *

Its annual luncheon will be held tomorrow in McCreery's by the Secretaries' Association, Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Bertha E. Hamilton, worthy grand matron, and the newly-installed matrons, will be guests of honor.

Invitations have been issued by the Women's Civic Club of Brookline for a reciprocity day reception in the Brookline Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday afternoon, May 1. Mrs. G. B. Ross is taking responses.

In the new home of Perry Highway Post No. 161, American Legion, the auxiliary to the post will hold a card and bingo party next Saturday night.

A program will follow the business meeting of the Western Pennsylvania section of the Women's Auxiliary to the American Institute of Mining Engineers, which will be held tomorrow in the home of Miss Lois Scaife, North avenue. KLINE DUDE, SO SAYS "BOSSY"

Mayor Kline today was described as the best-dressed Mayor in the land by that very unofficial sartorial expert, "Bossy" Gillis, the boss of Newburyport, Mass., who makes no pretensions to a full wardrobe for himself.

The two mayors met in the City-County Building and gossiped, as two mayors will. They talked about prohibition, vice, mayors' salaries, gasoline, fog, reformers and Bossy.

"Say," Mr. Gillis whispered to 50 hangers-on, "I think that guy has something on Jimmy Walker at that. He's a dude, that guy!"

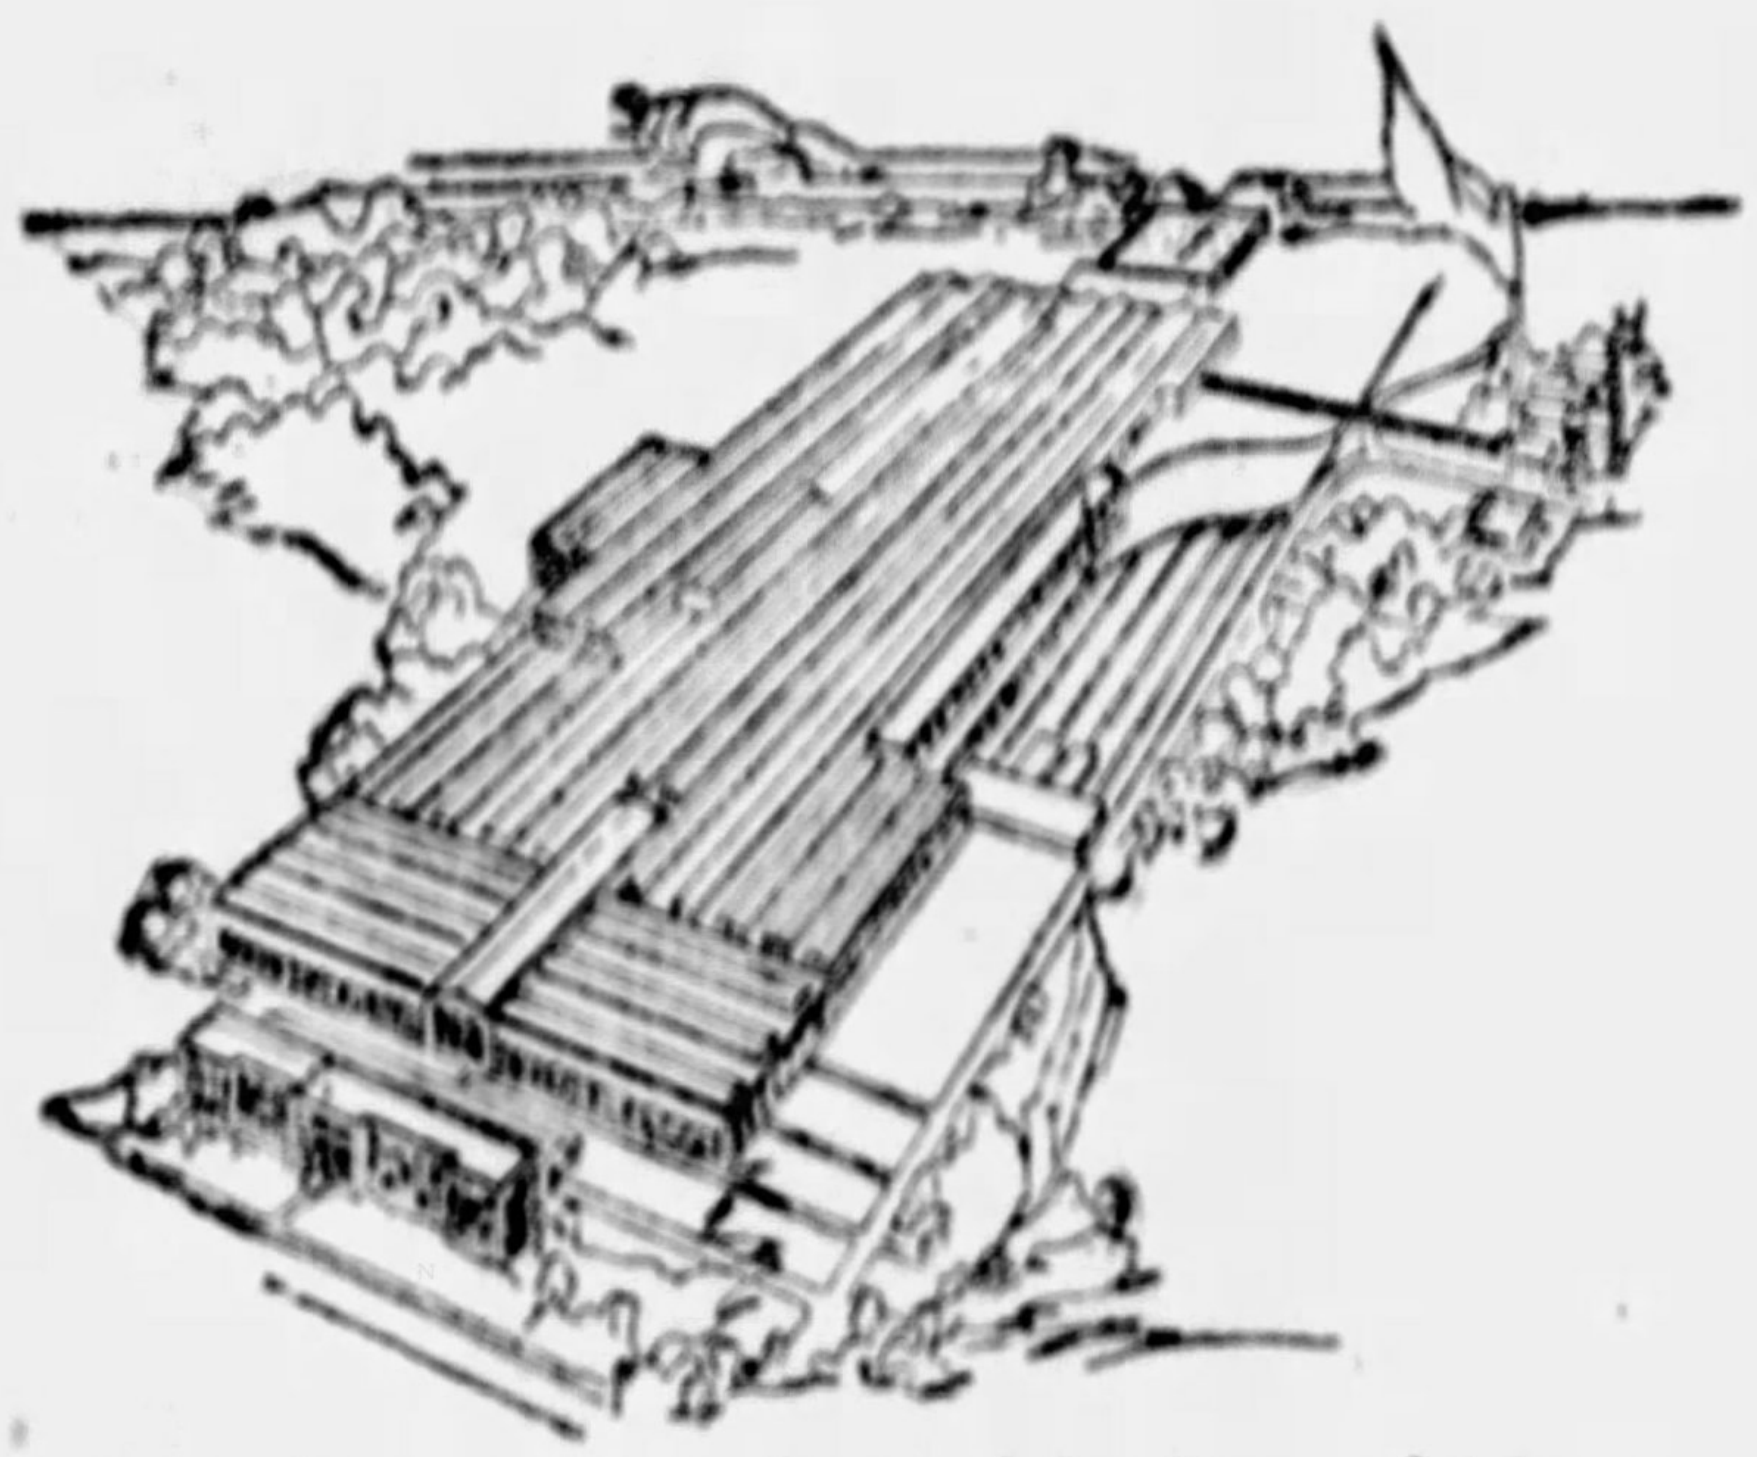
The Mayor was equipped with a natty brown suit, black oxfords, spats, a many-hued necktie and a white shirt. Bossy was more or less resplendent in a topcoat, suit and what was identified as a hat.

Mayor Kline handled the visiting wisecracker with diplomacy. "I don't," he apologized, "run a gasoline station, as you do, but I have a hot-air station."

Bossy is here to lend an official touch to the national dance marathon which will be sent on its way in Motor Square Garden tonight by the urging hand of Milton (Dance) Crandall.

"Come out and see the boys and girls waltz," Bossy invited Mayor Kline. "If I find a sweet-looking mamma I may step around myself."

ALWAYS INVESTIGATE WHAT GENERAL MOTORS HAS BEFORE YOU BUY!



Steadily increasing demand for General Motors Trucks has made necessary this new $8,000,000 plant at Pontiac, Michigan. GIRL KILLED AS AUTO OVERTURNS

SIX INJURED IN SUNDAY CRASHES

Mildred Clark, 18, of 822 Brownsville road, was fatally injured Sunday morning when an automobile in which she was riding with four young men and women overturned in the Thompson Run road, four miles from Millvale. She died in the Allegheny General Hospital two hours after the accident.

James Weir, 23, of 30 Bascolm street, an automobile salesman, is held as the driver of the car. He will be turned over to the coroner today and then will be released under bond of $2,500, which the coroner set yesterday. Louis Marx, 22, of 805 Walters street, one of the passengers, also was injured. He is in the Allegheny General Hospital in a critical condition. Another couple in the car at the time escaped uninjured.

Hit by an automobile near her home last night, Mrs. Ellen Maria Butler, 66, of Evans street, McKeesport, is in the McKeesport Hospital in a serious condition, suffering a fractured skull. Martin Dahlin, 30, of Jenny Lind street, driver of the machine, took the woman to the hospital and then reported the accident to the police.

Three women were injured last night when their automobile skidded into another machine on Browns Hill, near Browns Place. They are Mrs. Molly Simon, 43; Mrs. Anna Wolf, 24, and Miss Mildred Simon, all of 2226 Shady avenue. Mrs. Simon suffered a fractured ankle and is in the Homeopathic Hospital. The others were taken home. The two drivers were arrested on reckless driving charges.

"ALIEN" TEACHER BAN AROUSES TITUSVILLE

TITUSVILLE, Pa., April 23.—Titusville is aroused over action of the school board in refusing to renew contracts with a dozen out-of-town grade and high school teachers on the ground that preference should be given to local women. The board's action was by a margin of one vote, several members declaring it to be "the worst possible thing that could happen to the school system." Parents are divided, one mass meeting has been held and others are planned.

JAIL BUCKAROOS FOR COW THEFT

GREENSBURG, April 23.—Fred Benemann, 21, and John Kozuch, 22, two-fisted buckaroo cowpunchers from Bell township, are in jail here, sombreros, lariats, chaps and all, charged with horse stealing. They were arrested last week by two state police who were following the trail of a stolen cow from Milligantown, near Parnassus, and were committed to jail in default of $3,000 bail each.

"They're sure enough real cowpunchers," declared Private Stephen Green, telling how he and Private Ralph L. Jones followed the cow's trail in the soft mud back of New Kensington in a rickety old farm buggy. They trailed the cow to a hard road, where it was evidently loaded on a truck and then carried their investigation to the farm where the two young men were living a bachelor life.

DOCTORS FIGHT RE-ELECTION OF GRIMES

Ten thousand licensed physicians of Allegheny county are seeking to defeat Helen Grimes, candidate for re-election to Legislature, according to a statement by the public health legislation committee of the Allegheny County Medical Society, circulated today. The physicians, in the statement, declare her re-election would be "a menace to public health."

In the last session of Legislature Miss Grimes sponsored a bill to give chiropractors the legal right to treat contagious diseases and the right to treat patients in hospitals, says the statement. This would place chiropractic practitioners, without concern as to their previous education, except study in their own schools for 18 months or less, on the same legal plane as physicians with seven years' university and hospital training, the allopaths object. This, they say, would be a grave menace to public health.

The statement was signed by Dr. Thomas G. Greig, chairman; Dr. Walter F. Donaldson, Dr. John S. Hageman, Dr. Thomas M. T. McKennon and Dr. James A. Munster.

12 MORE BARRACKS FOR EVICTED MINERS

BELLAIRE, O., April 22.—(AP.)—Material for 12 more barracks to house miners evicted from coal company houses in eastern Ohio has been unloaded, Adolph Pacifico, vice-president of the eastern Ohio union sub-district, announced here last night. More than 300 families of union miners in eastern Ohio have been served with eviction notices, effective May 1.

Pacifico said one barrack building would be built at Smithfield, that eight or 10 would be needed at the Dorothy mine of the Y. & O. Coal Company, Glen Robbins, and that four or five were needed at the Crabapple mine of the Warner Collieries Company.

CLEVELAND LANDS EDUCATIONAL MEET

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP.)—Announcement was made yesterday that the National Education Association's fifty-ninth annual convention will be held in Cleveland, O., February 24 to 28, 1929.

MYSTERY PAPER ATTACKS G. O. P.

Containing a vicious attack on what is termed the Regular Republican organization, an anonymous election circular was distributed in Dormont and Mt. Lebanon late Saturday night. Residents of both communities, mystified as to who is responsible for the circular, are much aroused.

"The taxpayers be damned!" is the heading over the hand bill, which continues: "Nearly $3,000,000 per annum is being paid to the payrollers in this town, yet they are not delivering the votes. This will now stop or off goes some of their 47 heads."

Dormont and Mount Lebanon are referred to as "sanctimonious burgs," and the charge is made that both communities "must be led to victories such as are given the regular ticket in the Strip, Homestead and McKees Rocks."

Notice is served that "if church people get too 'nebby' around the polls, start a fake riot. They will rush home."

"If you are a person with nerve," the circular says, "get on the election board in your district. It pays well. In connection with your regular pay, the Regular Organiaztion gives each of you from 2 to 20 watcher certificates (value $5 each), according to how strong your district comes in for the Regular Ticket. Good church people call this extra money bribery, but pay no attention to them."

Now in Full Swing and Ready for Another Big Week

MOTORISTS BY THE SCORE took off their old tires last week and are riding now on safe, new Generals.

THEY SOLD US THEIR OLD TIRES at flattering prices. We took in undersized tires from brand new cars — partly worn tires from others — some aged "blowout prospects" from some more.

LOW LEVEL PRICES on new tires—full allowances for worn tires. A tire buyers' event auguring easy sailing for the motorists and hard going for the makeshift bargain tire boys.

STOP FOR THREE MINUTES at our store and learn how little it costs to equip with Generals and know the trouble-freedom and extra mileage that other people enjoy.

GENERAL BALLOON
Our 3rd Annual Special TRADE IN CORD
Sale
INCREASES in the use of General tires exceeded that of any other tire in the world last year. Annual statements of General and the country's other great rubber factories showed this.

Aside from the top quality reputation, a big factor in General's achievement in leading the field last year was the low price of rubber which made it ridiculously foolish to look for cheap tires the way prices for good tires were—and are today.

Thousands of motorists who have always wanted Generals but believed they could not afford the slightly higher first cost, are taking advantage of present low rubber prices and this special Trade-in opportunity and buying Generals for less than they had paid for other tires, good and bad.

Trade in Every Make, Every Size--Old or New

With Our Full Value Allowance and Today's Low Rubber Prices, What's the Use of Worrying Along With the Ordinary Tire

The General Tire goes two, three and four seasons—more uninterrupted miles, two to one, than any other tire — This is because it is built from the ground up of pure new rubber and first grade fabric. A tire large and strong enough to do the job.

There are tires as bulky as General—made partly of reclaimed rubber, lubbery, loosely put together tires of inferior quality, but they are not the tires that give you the second ten thousand uninterrupted miles.

The experienced motorist knows the General is the correctly built, properly proportioned tire that makes driving safer—traveling more comfortable—that saves clothes, nerves and patience because it doesn't give out with a pinch against the curb or a bump in a bad hole—that doesn't merely protect against accidents or abuse but furnishes unlimited protection—the kind that can be had only when built into the tire itself.

This is the kind of tire you need this year, above all years—with faster speeding cars, shorter stops and more of them, and hurried get-away, you need the big, safe Dual Tread, proper size General—always the preferred tire of the big car owners who want everything the best that money can buy.

This is the tire you need today even on the lighter cars — and can buy — for your car — at less than your usual price for tires by taking advantage of this Trade-in Sale.

Jack Holt Takes to Saddle Again as His Young Son Helps Him Out in Zane Grey Thriller

By MILDRED FILLMORE

JACK HOLT has rescued his chaps and spurs from the attic dust. He is back in westerns again. Right now he is on location somewhere in Utah, making Zane Grey's "The Vanishing Pioneer."

Yes, Holt's back with Paramount—under contract to make four pictures at $20,000 per. And the company that displayed a don't-give-a-whoop attitude when Holt checked out from their studios a year or so ago is glad to have him back. Somehow, Zane's yarns didn't click so well at the box office when Jack wasn't doing the heroics.

You might be interested to know that Mr. Holt's young son, Tim, aged 9, appears in the photoplay—in a prologue sequence. But it's not Tim's first picture venture. He helped his father out in other Grey vehicles in the past.

Incidentally, Holt, Sr., also has retained connection with Columbia, which he joined when he first left Paramount. He will alternate between the two companies.

Rita Carewe, actress-daughter of Edwin Carewe, has been assigned a part in Dolores Del Rio's newest production, "Revenge." Mr. Carewe will direct. Don Jose Crespo, Spanish actor, also has been signed for a part.

We have heard rumors that Rita and Don Jose, who are being seen a lot together in Hollywood's Montmarte, are engaged. But Rita denies it. She says: "Our only engagement is to appear in 'Revenge.'" Denials from Hollywood can't always be taken seriously, however. For months Dolores Del Rio was denying she and her husband were at differences. Now she's after a divorce.

"Revenge," in case you're interested, is based on Konrad Bercovici's gypsy story, "The Bear Tamer's Daughter."

Ho, ho, hum! The villains of the screen are all becoming virtuous. And the heroes are getting tough.

George Bancroft, I hear tell, now balks at bad man parts. Too bad. What a great villain George used to be. Mr. Bancroft, however, isn't the only one to do so. An alarming number of our nicest villains are refusing to be bad any more. Evidently, they want the little children to love them.

And it seems while the bad boys of the films are turning good, the virtuous young heroes are becoming rough guys. Bill Haines is always a conceited, egotistical young upstart, and Bill Boyd a tough bird in overalls, who does not live for one girl alone.

We sigh for the older and chemically pure days!

Harold Lloyd now is Chief Ron-was-der-ista of the Iroquois Indians. The name, freely translated, means Chief Make-'Em-Laugh. The comedian went to Montreal for the Canadian premiere of his production, "Speedy," and there he was inducted into the tribe.

Renee Adoree has been signed for the feminine lead in "The Tide of the Empire," a forthcoming filmization of Peter B. Kyne's romance of the California gold rush.

"Skeets" Gallagher, former Broadway light, has been given a part in "The Racket," starring Thomas Meighan. The picture is being made by the Caddo company for Paramount release, under the direction of Lewis Milestone. Mr. Gallagher was seen on the Pittsburgh screen a couple weeks ago in "Alex the Great."

HAMPDEN IS TO PLAY DANE

In the Alvin, tonight only, Walter Hampden will be seen in "Hamlet." Tuesday evening, Wednesday matinee and night and Thursday evening, he will present "Caponsacchi," taken from Robert Browning's "The Ring and the Book." Friday night, Saturday matinee and night, he is to offer Henrik Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People."

Phases of college life, lack of sympathy of parents and a girl's loyalty to the boy she loves are the themes interwoven in "Young Blood," this week's offering of the George Sharp Players in the Pitt Theater. Ralph Morgan plays the role in which Norman Trevor appeared in a touring production of the play in the Pitt a year or so ago and Anne Forrest will have the Helen Hayes role.

Lenore Ulric is the Keith-Albee vaudeville headliner in the Davis this week, appearing in a dramatic playlet, "A Legend of London," by Michael Arlen. On the screen Marie Prevost appears in "On to Reno."

"Wings," the movie of the air, has been breaking records in the Nixon, it is said, and today it goes into its third week. At the first five matinees of this week an autographed photograph of Clara Bow will be given to every woman in attendance.

Presenting 20 novelty numbers selected from his London, Paris, Berlin and New York program, Balieff will bring his "Chauve Souris" to the Alvin Monday night, April 30, for a week's engagement. There will be the usual matinees.

"Tommy," a comedy of American youth, which was presented in the Nixon less than three months ago, will be the attraction offered by the George Sharp Players in the Pitt for the week of April 30.

DEFENDS WOMAN SLAYER

SOPHIA ANN RILEY Photo by P. & A.

Miss Sophia Ann Riley, 22, two years out of law school, will defend her first major crime case as attorney for Miss Marie Howard, confessed slayer of "Speedy" Stephens, Kansas City "Bad Man" policeman. Miss Riley is one of the youngest women ever admitted to the Missouri bar.

30 DEAD, HUNDREDS FLEE IN QUAKE

ATHENS, Greece, April 23.—(AP.)—At least 30 persons were killed and heavy material damage caused in a series of earthquakes which have been shaking Central Greece during the last 24 hours, the heaviest damage being in the towns of Cornith and Lutaki.

More than 20 separate shocks, varying in strength, were felt over the Peloponesus.

Reports from Corinth stated that 20 persons were killed there, and that the population, in terror, spent the whole night in the open. The local power house was destroyed and the town was in darkness. There was possibilities of further deaths, as a complete checkup was virtually impossible in the confusion.

At least 80 per cent of the houses in Corinth were destroyed and many of the remaining buildings were in a dangerous condition. The prison collapsed.

Members of the American school, who have been excavating the city of old Corinth, which was destroyed by an earthquake in 1858 and lies three miles from the new city, are believed to be safe. Old Corinth was a historic city of ancient Greece.

In Lutraki, a neighboring watering place from Corinth, 10 persons were known to have perished. All the hotels were damaged.

BABY, 3, SMOKES OR CAN'T EAT

SEATTLE, Wash., April 23.—(AP.)—Having developed into an ardent cigar smoker at the age of 3, Freddie Riggs, Seattle youngster, has become the subject of much speculation among doctors.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Ralph Riggs, explained that when Freddie was a baby he was weak and undeveloped and refused to eat until he chewed on a pipe. That was when he was 10 months old. Then he began to eat. He cut his teeth on the same pipe. Then he began to chew cigars and shortly after that to puff on them. Efforts to make him quit tobacco have resulted in his stopping eating. Aside from smoking—he has one cigar eevry night—he is a normal and healthy child. He will be 4 next month.

Dr. Ira C. Brown, public school physician, announced he would examine the younster today in an effort to learn why he craves tobacco.

"I have known many youngsters who smoked," Dr. Brown said, "but I never knew one to start as young as Freddie. There is a cell change going on in the youngster which gives him a craving for tobacco. There are cases on record where sick folks have benefited from smoking, but they are exceptionally rare."

Grave and Treasures of Her Father Discovered; Her Ancestors Aristocrats

What Has Gone Before.

Alfred Aloysius Horn, out as a trader in the early Seventies on the West Coast of Africa, has been admitted to the Josh House of a river tribe that worships Izaga, a white goddess. He learns that she is Nina T——, daughter of George T——, an English trader of aristocratic family, who had died when Nina was a little girl. Horn, then a boy of 18 from St. Edward's College, Liverpool, is initiated by the beautiful goddess into the rites of the Isorga. The following is a continuation of his narrative, written by himself at the age of 73.

By ALFRED ALOYSIUS HORN
Edited by ETHELREDA LEWIS.

Life With Ivory Coast Natives

CHAPTER IX.

ALFRED A. HORN

BEFORE leaving Angola for the coast I received my mail from Liverpool and reading this was a delightful pastime. As the waterway is wide and deep to the mouth of the river, there was no need for sounding, so that I had a delightful day.

After my mother's letter, the most important was from a young college friend. We were always together at school and he felt lonely after my departure for Africa. He was born in Peru, South America. He was the son of an Englishman who had wandered to Peru and had married an Inca chief's daughter and become the owner of a famous silver mine.

He had died and had left a tremendous fortune to Little Peru, who was my best friend and always remained so. Besides his affectionate letter he had sent me two long sixshooters, specially made for big-game shooting. One of these was specially good, was sighted to 500 yards and was the best small weapon I have had. A supply of ammunition for these small arms was always sent and arrived by each mail about every three months.

The river at the commencement of the dry season was crowded with water-fowl, ducks of many varieties, flamingoes, cranes, etc., in great variety. I amused myself shooting these, especially mallard ducks, so that we always had plenty of table birds for food. My boys were always very fond of these and always had good appetites.

By about noon we were at the seaside. And thanks to my good attendant Renchoro, we found a nice little village nestled in a large pindo or plantation, owned at one time by the father of Nina, the goddess. On his death he had freed all his slaves who had married and formed quite a colony of peaceable natives.

The chief of these liberated slaves spoke English fairly well and showed me a little casquet or box inlaid with mother of pearl which his master had put in his care.

On opening this I found two old faded tintypes. One was T—— and the other was a lady that might be his mother. T—— was well clad and wore a hunting jacket and hunting leggings.

The other photo was a bust and on her head was something that looked like a small ornament of jewels. The face and the rest of the bust was so faded and indistinct I could make nothing of it.

In the box I also found a letter from T——'s mother, a very affectionate letter and she had begged him to come home, etc. The contents of this letter I shall never divulge for conscience sake.

A small copybook, etc., told me that T—— had taught little Nina how to write, this I was pleased with, as Nina would have perhaps not have forgotten yet. This I found later was correct, as far as reading went, so that I could always smuggle in a short note to the goddess when I used to visit the temple to make a wish.

It was customary to make a visit by Isogas congregation. The supplant generally had his wish granted if his present was sufficiently large to please the spirits, whom I found easy to satisfy.

I bought the casket and contents from the old slave for four bottles of trade rum. This old slave also pointed out to me the island where his master was buried at the entrance to the Ogowe river. I visited this and easily found it. The stone had been broken to pieces, the grave had been opened and being only a few feet from the edge of the island was gradually being washed away.

I removed this, with what remained of T—— to the center of the island, but was surprised to find T———'s head had been removed entirely, together with portions of the gravestone, which I put together, but I could not have understood the inscription on it if I had not had T———'s mother's letter, which, however, proved a clue to his family and likewise his standing with his people, who held a very prominent place amongst the British aristocracy.

Vessels entering the river were forced to use the main channel, which was deep at low tide and went close to the island on the north side. This island was a good landmark for entering vessels and should easily be told, as there were two tall decayed upas trees on it, in which a colony of huge vampires made their home.

Goddess Nina Is Heir

These trees were easily seen from a long distance seaward and made splendid beacons but gave the island an uncanny appearance.

I felt more than sad that T——, a piece of flotsam and jetsom like myself, should have such a last resting-place. But it was Mother Earth, and I laughed inwardly when I asked myself the question: Will your finall be as good as his? I also found T——'s marriage certificate with his wife's name. They were married at Princess Island and T—— had first met his wife in Madeira. They were legally married.

The goddess had, I should say, every right to whatever property or title would have been her father's, as her elder brother was killed in Northern Nigeria by a British patrol who came up with Josef Cariella and his band of Morocco desert thieves. This, I proved to be true by the Nigerian Protectorate Border Patrol. T——'s son had fought it out with the rest, as the law of nomads is no surrender. He was killed on the Lake Chad road.

The Ivory Coast, where I now found myself, was skirted with long islands and there was a navigable passage from Cape Lopez nearly as far south as Fernandez Vaz, and these islands were called itovas, pastures for animals.

Whilst I remained here I always made my home with my boy, Renchoro's brother, whom we found busy making salt and preparing salt fish for the slave traders. Most of this salt and fish were sold at Samba Falls on the Angani River. Samba Falls was then the largest slave market of the faraway hinterland of the Ivory Coast.

LOCAL BOY WINS CONCRETE HONOR

REAL SIDEWALK GIVEN HAVEY BOYLE

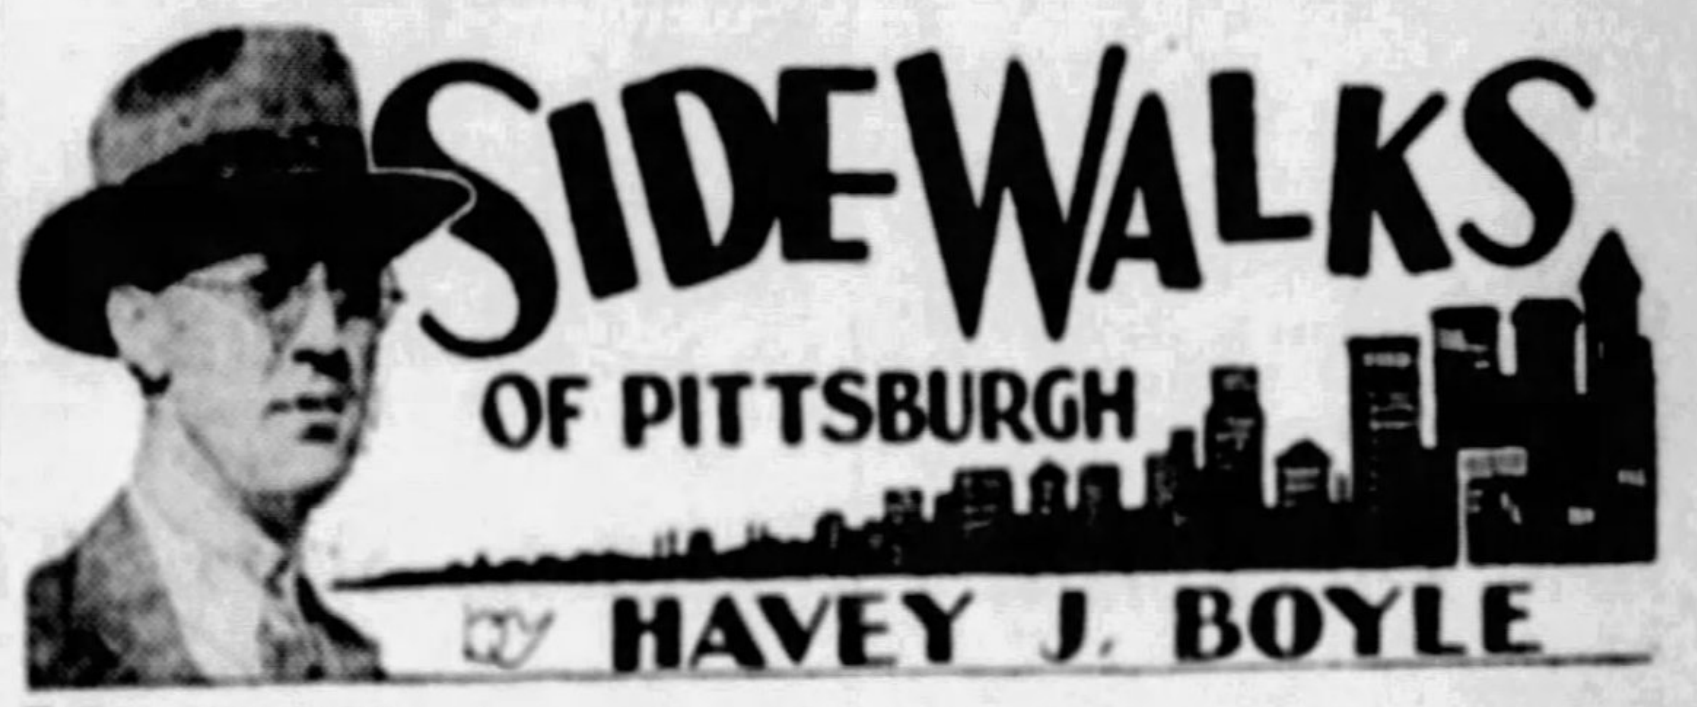
"No, gentlemen, I did not bring my own cameraman—that picture hound slipped in without me knowing it," spoke Havey J. Boyle, producer of "The Sidewalks of Pittsburgh," appearing daily in the Sun-Telegraph, as a flashlight went off in the "Poison Den" of "The Royal Order of Poison Shooters" and he accepted from Public Works Director E. G. Lang a block of real Pittsburgh sidewalk. It was the weekly luncheon and Mr. Boyle was the honored guest, speaking on "A Poison Shooter's Propensities and Proclivities." Assistant United States District Attorney Ralph H. Smith acted as "Chief Brick-Bat Heaver" and limited all speeches to two minutes, but that of the honored guest. The organization, composed largely of attorneys, is unique in Pittsburgh. Its membership object is to "ride" each other. Among the speakers were Judge R. W. Martin, President of City Council James F. Malone, United States District Attorney John D. Meyer, Assistant District Attorney Ralph F. Hunter, Attorneys John Frankle, James Malone, H. D. Hirsh, M. Barney Cohen, and A. C. Leslie; James Alexander, H. J. Lenon, George Meyer and Mr. Lang, who declined to tell from what part of the city he got the piece of sidewalk.

FLEE TRAIN AS GUARD SLEEPS

LATROBE, Pa., April 23.—(AP.)—Taking advantage of one guard's absence while the second was asleep, two Federal prisoners who were being taken to Washington from Topeka,, Kas., aboard the Liberty Limited of the Pennsylvania railroad, made good their escape yesterday morning..

At Derry, east of here, the pair, Jack Mew, 18, and Owen Richards, 18, convicted automobile thieves, pulled the emergency cord, stopping the train; smashed a window in the drawing room in which they were riding, took the guns of their guards and disappeared through the window into the night.

The guards, United States Marshal E. H. Baker and his deputy, Tom Powell, of Kansas, left the train at Altoona, and started back in search of their prisoners.



SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

By HAVEY J. BOYLE

MY DEAR SIR: I am using a few minutes of my time to explain to you why unless you desire to continue a laughing stock you will either spend your leisure hours in educating yourself in the use of the Engish language or depart from the profession of writing. In your column of Wednesday, April 18, I discovered the hybrid English-French monster "ring de plume," which presumably means ring of the pen or pen-ring.

I can only guess that this ridiculous phrase—the pretentious effect of a presuming half-knowledge—you intended to carry, in some way which is imperceptible to me, the meaning of ring-pseudonym. For shame. Simple Phyllis or Corydon, nay, even a child in the grades, could correcty guess which part of the phrase nom-de-plume means name.

ALMOST every day you manage to perpetuate some neologism. The very day after you used ring de plume the word caption which means seizure, act of taking, is used in your column in the sense and in the rightful place of heading. The affectation of fine, big-sounding words which have a flavor of classical learning has had few more laughable or absurd manifestations than this use of caption. This monstrous blunder was first made by some person who knew that captain and capital expressed the idea of headship, but who was sufficiently ignorant to suppose that caption, from its similarity in sound to these words, had a kindred meaning. But captain and capital are from the Latin caput, a head; and caption is from capio, seize, captum, seized.

If you at all consider the matter I shall regard myself as amply repaid for my time. It is, indeed, a joy to read newspaper accounts that are written in correct English. Signed: R. R.

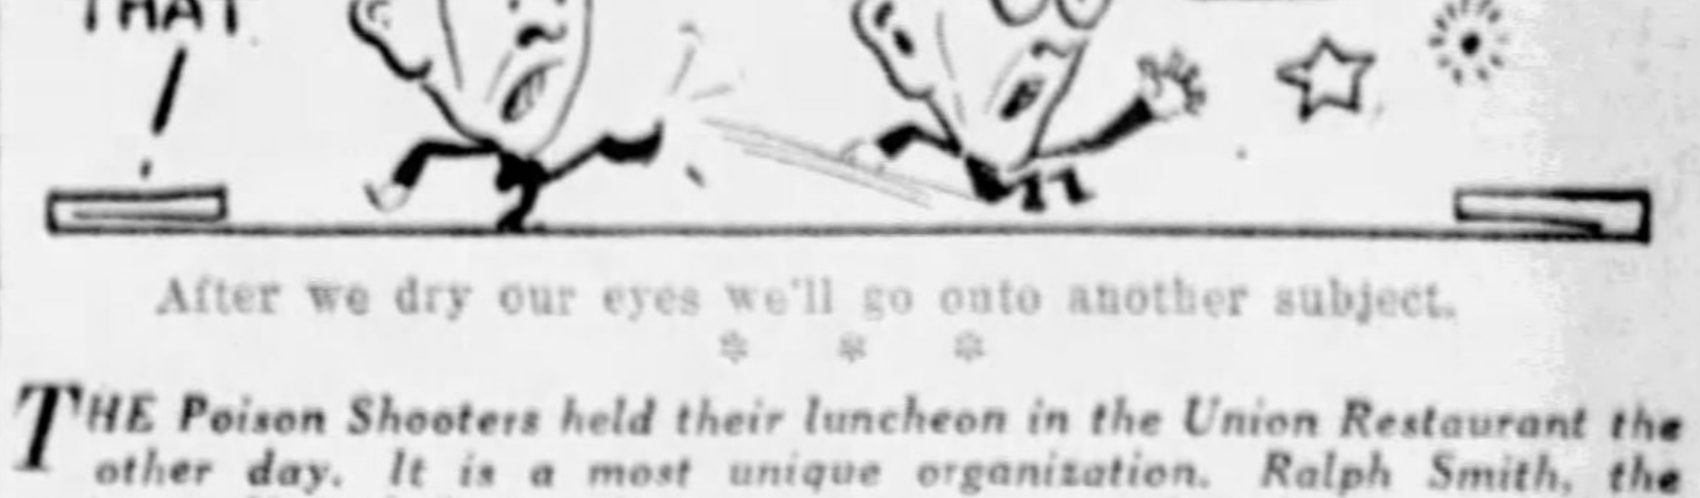
IT MAY please our critic to know that we have written nom de ring 25 times on the blackboard; it may pain him to know that we are still perverse in believing that caption, for our purposes, means heading.

* * *

THERE is no surprise at receipt of the letter, for only the other day a lady wrote in to say she liked the column pretty well, and a long experience in such affairs has taught us that as one makes ready to bow acknowledgement to a compliment there is usually someone in the rear ready to deliver a well-aimed kick, and one usually deserved.



After we dry our eyes we'll go onto another subject.

THE Poison Shooters held their luncheon in the Union Restaurant the other day. It is a most unique organization. Ralph Smith, the assistant United States district attorney, was the chairman, and he spared no one in the introductions.

SOME of those who attended were Director Lang of the Department of Public Works; Charley McBride, a county official; John Meyer, United States district attorney; Judge Richard A. Martin, Jim Malone, who is president of the club; Art Leslie, Ralph Hunter, Dave Roberts, Barney Cohen, and many others. The organization is distinct in that none of the speakers are allowed to have a "message."

* * *

OUTSIDE of the different volunteer fire organizations which we have joined from time to time, the Poison Shooters is about the best lodge we ever hooked up with.

JERRY The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait. by Elenore MEHERIN

The Crowd Visits a Spanish Gambling Place and the Game Is Fast and Wild

SOON it was a tree and its pink roses famous all over Monterey. It was a tree that climbed to the roof of the old adobe.

The soldier didn't return. Years passed, and he didn't come.

But the girl waited. The dons married other senoritas. But she went on watering her rose. She grew old waiting and doing this.

One day a young man came to the presidio. He was a boy of 15 and the soldier's son.

In this way the Spanish girl knew. She ceased watering the rose. It grew anyway. But the man never returned.

"They never do!" whispered Jerry with hard cynicism into the dark. "They never return!"

She would get up early in the morning—play golf with Hugh, go swimming, take Stephanie for a short drive. And if by chance she should meet Saxon and Mary, she would be most breezy and radiant.

But all the next morning, insistent and anxious came the whisper to her ears: "I wonder if he's got here yet? I wonder if he knows I'm here!"

At 4 o'clock she was suddenly laughing; suddenly silly with relief. She was grabbing little Nellie Spears and bowling her over with the warmth of her greeting. For Saxon wasn't coming! He had work to do and couldn't make it. Mary Eunice took the note Rod brought—a brief note. Jerry had the satisfaction of knowing this.

Mary split the envelope, a sharp whiteness compressing her lips. "Wonder when the work piled up, Rod? I can't say I like this!"

Thought Jerry with child-like glee: "Who cares! I like it. He'll never come down here and tell you that he loves you, Mary Pennings! I'll lay 10 lives to that. He'll never come here to say it!"

Mary's disappointment found a rather shocking outlet.

They were sitting about after dinner, Heinie telling of a picturesque Spanish gambling joint deep in the Salinas hills. You had to go down this dark, unknown road, turn to the right into that forbidden wilderness; then you knocked very loud at a little cottage buried in forest gloom.

A black old Don who was 77, but sharp as a whip, opened the door. He had second sight and could tell at a glance whether to admit you or not. If you passed this scrutiny you were ushered stealthily into a lighted room. Presently you were offered cigarets and real old bourbon—all with ancient Spanish hospitality. Then you played roulette or shook dice and settled the score.

"But I've got a way to beat roulette," said Heinie, taking out pencil and paper, "a system that never fails. I've worked it any number of times."

"I'm for it," said Mary, leaning over Heinie's shoulder. "I'm for the gambling joint tonight."

Heinie's system, which he stoutly declared was given him by a man who once broke the bank at Monte Carlo, consisted of choosing red or black, odd or even and betting on the same one of these every time.

You covered each loss with an increased bet. These increases were worked out according to a mathematical formula that at the end of a game left you 15 points to the good.

Of course, you might lose a scandalous amount before your increased bets would recover for you, but in the end, if you had sufficient funds, you were bound to win.

"How much money do you need?" asked Mary, excited and taking a long draught of her highball.

"One night I was $500 behind," said Heinie slowly, enjoying their excitement. "I stayed with it and came out $300 to the good. I was betting a dollar a point. Half that is enough. You should have about $500. With that you can't lose."

"I'm with you, Heinie—$250 each—how about it?"

They figured and planned, going through imaginary games—now you lost seven times in succession, win three, lose again. At the finish of the game you were always those 15 points ahead.

At 9 o'clock they were all climbing into Heinie's machine.

"This," said he, "is the place I've always wanted to take you, Jerry. One of the few adventures left in California. Old Spaniard is the greatest fellow. Tomorrow they'll have cock fights."

"Isn't $250 an immense amount to lose in one night, Heinie?"

"Why, we're not going to lose. Didn't I demonstrate that?"

"Of course!" said Mary. "You can't possibly lose as long as two plus two make four!"

It was very dark. The moon not up and the headlights of the machine cutting through massy, formidable shadows. They were in a labyrinth of shrubs now—nosing along. Miles like this—then a dim light—the sound of a guitar—a girl singing.

"The don's granddaughter," whispered Heinie. "We're here!"

A large plain room, fully lighted. Groups in evening dress sitting around the roulette wheels, small mountains of chips before them.

One young man excitedly marking down his bets, excitedly ordering the croupier not to touch his stacks. "I'll hand them. Don't touch them!"

"He's playing our system," Heinie murmured, grinning.

"And losing!" added Jerry. "He's almost having St. Vitus' dance over it."

"Give me the money," said Mary. "Let me play."

"You play—I'll keep count."

"No—I'll do it all—more luck."

"Are we half and half on it, May?"

"Half and half!"

They all heard that. And they all remembered it.

CHAPTER LIX.

MARY took her place at the table. She bought chips and stacked them nervously, 20 to a pile. Red stains of excitement daubed her cheeks. She gripped the board and watched the agitated young man.

He was playing the black and losing, his bets increasing at an alarming rate—$76 on the turn of the wheel; $105, lose again; now $160—lose that.

"Red's the thing," said Mary. "Here goes—a dollar a chip."

She laid her first bet, won, scratched off the top and bottom numbers of her progression; laid the second and third: won both. The numbers in the formula were all used up.

"What now?" she asked stupefied.

"End of game one and we're $15 to the good," said Heinie. "Begin over."

Brisk, clean went the second and third game. Win, lose—win, lose, win twice, lose five times. Winning now—scratching off numbers.

The fourth game was interminable. The great mountain of chips dropping. Mary became nervous as the bets increased and with each loss a larger number added to the bottom of her column. She played $19—$23—31.

"Are you sure it always comes out $15 to the good?" she whispered huskily to Heinie.

"Keep on! You can't lose. Watch the figures."

They stood behind her—scarcely breathing. The young man playing the black became reckless and discarded the gradual progression. With each turn of the wheel he doubled his stakes.

He was winning: the red losing. Reluctantly Mary played $37, lost it; $43, $57; lost both. Now $71.

"Ye gods," whispered Jerry through fevered lips. "You've lost about $290."

"That's all right. We've capital enough. Keep a-going, Mary. That's it—$105."

Mary's hand shoving the stack slowly, her eyes burning.

"Remember," she said thickly, "this is on your responsibility!"

"Play it!"

Mary leaned forward, not breathing. Watching the wheel.

"Thank God!" she gasped as the pointer came slowly to rest on the red.

The next bet was $117. She lost. The next was $160. She won: won seven times in succession, the man playing the black losing. He kept doubling.

As Mary scratched off her last two numbers, he laid $1,100 on the table. The red came up; Mary's game finished.

She shoveled in her chips, her cheeks blazing. She turned flushed, fascinated eyes to Heinie's: "Tough going for a while there. We were almost to the end of our pile."

He laughed. "Better quit. We're $60 to the good."

"Quit! Tomorrow morning, perhaps! This is better than bridge."

She sat tense, the score tablet beside her. "Sixty dollars! By morning we'll be $500 to the good!"

Midnight. The room gradually crowding. Men and women in dinner clothes thronging about the craps table and the roulette. The names of celebrities whispered about. Over there a famous writer from Carmel, and there a millionaire from Pebble Beach.

The old Don moved about cordially: giving cryptic orders to a Chinese butler who bore his tray of liquor and cigarets from room to room.

"Come on," whispered Heinie in Jerry's ear: "I'll show you the back rooms and the kitchen. The Don's granddaughter will offer you a home-made enchilada."

It was hot about the roulette table and a little tiresome. Jerry followed Heinie down a narrow passage to a room screened off with a yellow curtain.

A pretty, black-eyed girl was sitting tailor-fashion on a small table. She smoked an extravagantly long cigaret. As Heinie entered, she jumped down and, pulling out a very wide pleated skirt, demurely dropped a curtsy.

"You like enchilada for the senorita?" she asked, taking the cover from an immense oven, when a rush of garlicky steam filled the room. "Verra good, aren't they, Senor Heinie? I made by myself each little part."

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By ADELE GARRISON

Philip Veritzen Stages an Interesting Tableau

LILLIAN turned to me with a grin as the Veritzen limousine swept out of sight around a bend in the road.

"Phil's the great little stage manager," she said. "Wasn't that perfect in its way of showing Mary that papa's little boy wasn't going to be allowed to play in her front yard any more?"

"You think he meant to do that?" I queried.

"I don't think, I know," she retorted. "I haven't been acquainted with that lad 40 or 50 years without getting next to his little ways. He's signaling to Mary that it's to be hands off his precious boy from now on. I wonder why."

"Did you notice the direction that limousine was taking?" I asked, with apparent irrelevance, but Lillian shot a quick, comprehending glance at me.

"I sure did," she returned. "Not being absolutely lacking in a sense of direction, I know that the only possible reason a car from Phil's hotel would have for coming down the road would be for its occupants to call either here or at the Larches. There are more direct roads from the inn to every village around and to the shore. And as they did not stop here—ergo," she spread her hands with a gesture of finality.

"But don't make any mistake," she resumed after an instant. "He would have driven past here if he had had to go 10 miles out of his way. The theatrical old goat! I'd like to feed him a razor-edged tin can. Do you suppose he'd stop on his way back if I held one out to him camouflaged with some nice green grass?"

"You think he's coming back then?" I countered, when I could speak from laughing at the vision of my stately employer which she had spread before me.

"If I'm not mistaken, that's part of his plan, my dear," she said. "Why he's staging this stunt, Allah only knows. It seems to me pretty heavy artillery for the mere squelching of Mary. But just keep your eyes peeled for the return of the chariot."

I did not obey her injunction implicitly, for I devoted part of my watchfulness to the group on the lawn. It did not take me long to discover that there were two members of the group on whom the passing of the limousine had left a distinct impression. Dicky, with arms folded, was staring after it with the expression of a man to whom has just been presented an unpleasant problem, while Mary's laughter, too shrill, and her intensified gestures betrayed that the sight of Noel had upset her.

I did not have to wait long for the fulfilling of Lillian's vague prediction. Within half an hour the limousine again passed the house, this time with four occupants—Philip and Noel Veritzen, Eleanor Lincoln and a muffled feminine figure, apparently very frail, which I guessed to be the mysterious "Aunt Anna," of whose illness Miss Lincoln had spoken, but whom I had never seen. The two men did not look toward us this time, apparently being absorbed in conversation with their guests.

I did not know Lillian's reason, but in the interval between the limousine's first passing and its return she had joined the group on the lawn, bringing me with her. Thus it was that I heard Mary's quick intake of breath as she caught sight of Eleanor Lincoln and saw the frightened look which flashed into her eyes. I think in that moment she sensed some definite, resolute, indeed implacable plan, behind this queer maneuver of Philip Veritzen.

It's Film on Teeth

That makes them lustreless, "off color"

You must remove it

Accept free 10-day tube

"OFF-COLOR" teeth can be lightened amazingly, even to often give dazzling whiteness.

With right daily care you can work a great change in the color of your teeth. Can give them clear and charming gleam.

There is a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. . . . A film that absorbs discolorations and keeps teeth dingy looking.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

It clings to the teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack, your teeth open to decay. Those germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Old-time methods failed in successfully removing film. Ordinary brushing fails to do it satisfactorily. Under film are the clear, whiter teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combatant, called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then remove it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

VETS INDORSE TOWN HALL PROJECT

The following resolution indorsing the Town Hall project, was adopted by the Veterans' Association, One Hundred and Seventh Field Artillery, Twenty-Eighth Division, at a recent meeting:

"Information has reached this association that it is the intention of the county commissioners of Allegheny County, to propose in the near future a bond issue for the express purpose of erecting in this community what has been generally referred to as a Town Hall.

"We, the members of the Veterans' Association of the One Hundred and Seventh Field Artillery, realizing the need for and the value of such an institution, hereby most heartily indorse the plan and pledge to those active in the furtherance of the movement, our whole-hearted support and co-operation."

WARN OF FAKE COLLECTORS

"Be on guard against fake collectors," is the warning issued by the Board of Mercantile Appraisers of Allegheny County to 40,000 taxables.

"The public is warned that the board does not send out collectors and the only place where the tax can be legally paid is at the office of the board, room 215, old Court House," a statement declares.

Merchants who consider the assessment on their business excessive may appeal. The board will hear all appeals Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. No readjustments will be made later, the board states.

Now You Can Banish Pimples In Few Days

Costs But a Few Cents to Have Clean, Clear Skin You'll Be Proud Of.

No matter how many things you have tried to rid yourself of pimples and blackheads, or how expensive the treatments have been, you are not doing yourself justice until you get a 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment and give it a chance to free your skin from all blemishes and make it soft, velvety and good to look upon.

Mrs. Minnie Jones of Louisville writes: "Peterson's Ointment also is fine for blackheads. My face was covered with them, but after using the ointment they are all gone."

And in a letter about pimples, Miss Genevieve Linehan of Bradford, Mass., writes: "I had tried most every kind of ointment for pimples, but found none as good as Peterson's Ointment. I saw your ad in the paper and sent for a free sample and was very pleased with it and have got some more. I am on my first box and my face is nearly clear. I am very well pleased with it."

BUCS OUT TO END SLUMP TODAY

BOXERS IN OLYMPIC TOURNAMENT

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Pirates Won Seven of First Eight Games in 1927 But Lost Six of First Eight This Year. Hurling Improves, But Hits are Needed. Bottomley's Bat Hurts Bucs.

QUITE a difference is to be noted between the Pittsburgh baseball club's starts of 1927 and 1928.

Last year the Buccaneers won seven of their first eight games and were out in front of all other clubs in the pennant race, with the huge percentage of .875.

Carmen Hill

This season the Bushmen have lost six of their first eight contests and today they are in eighth place with the modest mark of .250, yesterday's defeat in Chicago having broken their tie with Boston for the cellar berth.

However, it would be well to bear in mind that the season is still very young. In spite of the bad start, the Bucs still have more than five months in which to right matters. Stick to the ship.

AN ENCOURAGING report in the days of gloom is that the injury suffered by Carmen Hill last Thursday will not be serious enough to keep him out of the game for long, and that he is likely to appear on the slab before the end of the Chicago series.

His return to fitness will be a great help to the club, in view of the form he was showing up to the time of his mishap.

Even though he was nosed out yesterday, John Miljus also showed the closest approach of the spring to his real form.

So things are looking up in the pitching department, and once matters are right there it won't take the club long to get going. At present a little more hitting would be greatly appreciated by the fans. George Grantham cannot do it all.

PITTSBURGH fans had the right dope when they figured that Vic Aldridge, former Pirate pitcher and annual holdout, would discover sooner or later that he was dealing with a different taskmaster this year when he tried his old game on John McGraw. Vic monkeyed too long with the buzz-saw, and rather than waste any further time with him McGraw has suspended him for 30 days for having failed to accept the club's salary terms. The suspension can be lifted only if the New York club applies to Commissioner Landis for the reinstatement of the former Pirate. McGraw declares he will not negotiate with the flinger during the period of his suspension. Aldridge wanted to make a trip to New York Saturday, but club officials wired him it would be useless as McGraw was out of the city.

LOOKING back over the four straight games dropped by the Pirates to the Cardinals since the season opened, it is easy to see that one of the most fruitful sources of Buccaneer woe was the big bat swung by Jim Bottomley.

Jim Bottomley

All that the Redbird first-sacker did in the four engagements was to make seven hits and score six runs in 19 times at bat, for the healthy average of .368. His safe blows included a home run, a triple and a double, and he knocked in eight runs in addition to the six scored by himself.

And that's not counting the damage done by one of Bottomley's smashes in putting Carmen Hill out of commission in the fourth inning of the opening game last Thursday, as Hill was going along so effectively that he was giving every promise of pitching the Corsairs to a tidy victory.

BOTTOMLEY, who has the enthusiastic disposition of a schoolboy in a game, has the respect of every pitcher in the National League when he ambles to the plate with his big bat and with his cap set rakishly on the side of his head. For all know him to be one of the most dangerous hitters in the business in a clinch.

A tribute was paid to Bottomley's hitting powers in an amusing way by Fred Blake, the ex-Pirate flinger now with the Cubs, back in 1926. Rogers Hornsby was batting third and Bottomley fourth for the Cardinals, and even with two out these two could crack out a single and a double, or vice versa, and manufacture a run more quickly than any other pair in baseball.

ONE DAY, when the Cubs were playing the Cardinals, there were two Cardinals on the bases and Hornsby at bat. Blake was given the sign to walk Hornsby, but evidently was ignoring it, as he proceeded to pitch to Rogers as if trying to make him hit at one not altogether to his liking. The Cub infielders and the men on the bench became wildly excited, and repeated their signals. "Walk him! Walk him and fill the bases!" whispered the infielders excitedly as they ran to the mound and surrounded Blake. "Then where in the heck will I put Bottomley?" demanded Blake.

When informed at the Yankee-Cardinal world series in 1926 that the averages for the season, just compiled, showed that he had batted .299, or just one point short of the .300 class, Bottomley said in all seriousness, "Doggone the luck; if I had known that I needed only one more hit to land in the .300 class I certainly would have made it."

OFFICIALS of the Pittsburgh club emphatically deny the report that has bobbed up several times to the effect that Pirate agents are seeking Earl Averill, outfielder of the San Francisco team in the Pacific Coast League.

Joe Devine

There is no denying that the Corsair management would like to pick up an emergency man, either infielder or outfielder, who is a left-hand hitter of the slugging type, being forced to depend upon Pitcher Erwin Brame for such pinch-hitting roles in the meantime.

But President Barney Dreyfuss declares that Averill is not being given any consideration.

It is reported by coast men that Averill is only a spring hitter.

ACCORDING to rumors from the far west, there is another man in the Coast League whom the Corsair chiefs have ordered looked over. The man in question is Larry French, a young pitcher with the Portland club.

Coast rumors have it that Scout Joe Devine, Pirate scout, who dug up the Waner brothers, Remy Kremer, Dick Bartell and others, has been looking over the Portland and Oakland

PITTSBURGH AMATEURS TO SEEK TITLES

BOSTON, April 23.—(AP.)—The greatest spectacle in the history of American amateur boxing, the A. A. U. national championship tournament and final Olympic tryouts, starts at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The first pair of the 183 boxers entered will get to work then. The last pair is expected to finish about dawn.

Three of the 1927 national champions have entered, two of them to defend titles, and the other 180 boys have either won district titles in 11 cities or honors in a dozen colleges.

The semi-final and final bouts will be held tomorrow night and the winners in the eight classes, which range from the 112 pounds to the heavyweights, will be named as members of the American Olympic boxing team which will be sent to Amsterdam next summer.

Included in the huge list of entries are 10 Pittsburgh district boxers, including Young Iovino, 112-pounder; John Haggerty, 118 pounds; Joe Orsini, 126-pound class star; Andy Andrucci, lightweight; A. DeLuca, 147-pound class; Max Ziff, light-heavyweight class; Bob Moody, national junior heavyweight champion; Dan Billick, 118 pounds; Russell Verge, 147-pound class, and Buck McTiernan, 147-pounder.

TOM HEENEY WORKS OUT IN FRANCE

CHALLENGER LIMBERS UP WITH SENEGALESE

Tom Heeney, who meets Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship in New York in July, in a workout stunt at the military camp for athletic training at Joinville, France, with Senegalese troopers, who once had one of their own—Battling Siki—as a world champion. The boys are seen tossing about the heavy medicine ball.

Tunney To Open Camp

NEW YORK, April 23.—Gene Tunney is back in New York, ready to start training for his heavyweight title defense against the plodding Anzac, Tom Heeney, in July, and quite reconciled to Tex Rickard's program of one championship "shot" a year.

After a week here, Tunney plans to start on a program of light training at Speculator, N. Y. Lou Fink, the heavyweight champion's trainer, will leave New York this week to get the camp organized.

Tunney arrived from Miami Beach, Fla., yesterday in time to characterize as "ridiculous" reports that he planned to tour Europe on a "honeymoon" after he battles Heeney.

"Do you know," queried the champion, "anyone of sound mind who has a business paying him at least $750,000 a year who would jeopardize all that by getting married? Last year I received $1,000,000 for taking seven punches on the chin. After all, the man who is not willing to do that is just plain selfish."

Backing Tex Rickard's selection of his opponent, Tunney said he believed Heeney was the best of the challengers.

"I have never seen Heeney with his hands up inside the ropes, but from what I hear he must be a pretty good man. He wins his fights and that's what counts."

Sunburned to a deep tan, the champion appeared in fine condition as he stepped off the train, although he admitted he weighed 202 pounds, more than he ever has scaled.

Extra! Tunney Quits New York to Lecture On Bill Shakespeare

NEW YORK, April 23.—(INS.)—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, left here suddenly this morning for New Haven, Conn., where he will lecture before Prof. William Phelps' class at Yale University on "Shakespeare."

CHILLY SAUCE

BY CHILLY DOYLE

Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Manager Bush and Secretary Watters have filed their formal protest of the Cubs' victory of yesterday. Bush registered a stormy protest of Barry McCormick's decision on balls and strikes early in the game. When Bill Klem runs a contest from behind the catcher one seldom hears a flutter from the opposing players. He ran off the opener in St. Louis and nobody even looked at him in a mean manner.

THE Pirates' protest surely was justified, but many believe that the main office will back up the umpire on the grounds that the point involved was one of judgment.

BUCCANEERS PROTEST BRUINS' 3-2 WIN

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, April 23.—It was a disappointed and somewhat peeved squad of Pirates that assembled here this morning. As they made ready for the second clash with the Cubs, the Bushwhackers continued to discuss a defeat which came to them yesterday under official protest. Regardless of how President John A. Heydler views their papers of objection to the Bruin victory, the Pittsburgh boys are quite certain that they are right and that Umpire William Klem is wrong over a decision in the eighth inning which had an important bearing on the 3-2 session credited temporarily, at least, to the home team.

Meantime, the Pirates contemplate looking at the speed ball of Altoona Pat Malone in the second scrap this afternoon. Manager Joe McCarthy stated he would use the big boy from the famous railroad town against Pat's breathren from the Keystone state. Eager to break his team's losing streak, Donie Bush will send Remy Kremer to the rubber.

BUCS PROTEST WIN

The protest of yesterday's game was registered quite dramatically by Manager Bush who was allowed to remain on the field after his tumultuous actions over a ground-rule decision given by the renowned arbiter, who would lend more distinction to the sport if he were kept behind the plate calling balls and strikes and otherwise running the conduct of the game.

Klem was called on to act on a ball hit into the crowd by Leftfielder Riggs Stephenson. At least everybody on the Pirate bench says the ball went into the leftfield crowd, Klem contending the rocket was in play, after he had yielded to Joe McCarthy's contention on the drive. The Pirates aver that Bill gave a somewhat compromising decision owing to the fact that Manager Joe reached him first after the significant hit skidded off Pooch Barnhart's shins.

The score was tied at two all when Stephenson stepped up to open the last half of the eighth. Riggs' drive was headed for the dense throng in left field for a PROMINENT in the excellent showing of the Cleveland Indians in the American League race to date is George Uhle, veteran right-hander, who has started three games, completed all of them and boasts three victories.

Uhle is the only hurler in the majors who has pitched three complete games and has obtained three victories. His three victories have been scored over the Indians' western rivals, namely the White Sox, 8 to 2; the Tigers, 5 to 4; and the Browns 2 to 1.

Two Pirates, George Grantham and Lloyd Waner, were stopped by Percy Jones, Cubs' southpaw yesterday, after hitting safely in every one of the seven games played to date.

Numbered among Grantham's 15 hits registered so far this season are seven of the extra base variety. Boots has connected for four doubles, one triple and two home runs.

The Cincinnati Reds have been involved in five shutout games to date, winning two and losing three. They lost to the Cubs three times without the semblance of a score by counts of 2 to 0, 13 to 0 and 5 to 0.

Kansas Meet Records Best

By JESS CARVER.

THE same heavy downpour that drenched the tristate and Pittsburgh district athletic program over the week-end, or it's big brother, can probably be blamed for the mediocre performances given in the two opening middle western relay carnivals of the season at Columbus, O., and Lawrence, Kansas, on Saturday.

Don Gwinn.

Marks made and performances turned in by athletes touted as possible Olympic candidates were of such caliber that they caused some of the old-timers to rest easily Saturday night. With the possible exception of the veteran Rinehart's javelin throw at Columbus (with the wind) of 204 feet 11 inches, there was not a single record set up of outstanding worth.

The local track event that was to have entertained the boys in the Tartan Bowl between Tech and the P. A. A., was called off early. Pitt had some boys at Ohio State, as did Bethany and West Virginia. The West Virginians were the only ones to do anything of creditable nature. Harry Adam Stansbury's medley relay team, with Montgomery, Buvinger, Skender and Riley running, beat Illinois and Indiana to win the grind.

Vic Pickard of Pitt finished second in the pole vault, in which he was defending champion. His 13-foot record was broken by Otterness, who won the event, by a single inch.

The Kansas marks surpassed those made at Ohio State in almost every instance. There was a difference of 19 5-10 seconds in the times in the two-mile relay. Missouri won the event at Kansas in 8:02 and it took Illinois 8:22 5-10 at Ohio State.

The Kansas 440-yard relay, distance medley relay, and discus marks were all better.

PITT UNFORTUNATE

IT WAS extremely unfortunate that Gibby Welch and Don Gwinn were unable to compete at Ohio State. Welch would almost certainly have copped two firsts, and possibly a pair of seconds. He would have won the discus hands down, and would have been a 2 to 1 bet in the shot. As for the javelin, he'd have been a second or third and would have placed high in the broad jump.

Gwinn, who seldom if ever throws the hammer under 156 feet, would have found the 154 feet 11⅝ mark set by Ketz of Michigan easy to better. The mark was almost 10 feet under the relay record, which is held by Gwinn.

WANTS STAR PROTESTED

GENEVA, so the report goes, has asked Duquesne to make a formal protest on Capt. Dave Cullen, Covenanter grid leader, to the tristate Conference, so that a test case can be made of the affair.

Cullen, it is claimed, has played his four years of varsity football. He has been at Geneva three years and was at McAndree College, of Illinois, in 1924.

Geneva claims that Cullen was given the official O. K. of the first Conference commissioner, and contends that the year at McKendree should not count as a varsity season, claiming that McKendree is not a college, but a normal school.

McKendree, according to John D. Holahan, manager of athletics at Duquesne University, insists that it is a college. The boys ought to know, and their claim is supported in a measure by the returns from the Ohio relays. Goode, listed as being from McKendree College, finished second in the javelin, an event for colleges and universities only.

Dean Freisell of Pitt, and the new Conference commissioner will be asked to settle the dispute.

M'CRACKEN'S BROTHER WINS

HERB M'CRACKEN'S kid brother, who has been showing some fine speed in the sprints at State, won the 220-yard event in the dual meet with Bucknell Saturday in 21 4-5 seconds. He placed second in the 100, close on the heels of the Lion dash star, Bartholomew. The time for this race was 10 2-5.

McCracken is also a member of the Lion's mile and 880-yard relay teams.

The big sensation of the meet was the defeat of Cox, crack distance runner, in the mile. He finished second to Offenhause, a teammate. The time was fairly fast, 4:31.

Bates, the Lion broad jump star, leaped 23 feet, 4½ inches to win the broad jump. This indicates that the gentleman will in all probabilities continue to lead the eastern jumpers, even as last year.

Tomorrow afternoon, Guy Halferty, coach at Tech, will pick his mile relay team, which he will send to Philadelphia Friday to compete in the Penn relays. The Tartans meet Grove City in a dual meet here on Saturday. Pitt will have almost its entire team at Philadelphia.

Geneva, after a warm-up class meet, will open the varsity schedule Saturday by engaging West Virginia at Beaver Falls, or those members of the Mountaineer team that do not go to Philadelphia. Geneva is also planning to send some of its athletes to Philly. The West Virginians trimmed the Covenanters in last year's meet.

short fly. Paul not only showed a lack of steam on the toss, he threw many feet wide of the plate. His arm is not yet in shape.

KI CUYLER has played all the games to date with an injured hand. Cuyler was hurt in an exhibition game in Kansas City just before the season started. The right hand is the one affected, but the ailment is in a bone on the back of his hand and does not seem to affect his throwing. His shot nicking Sparky in the second inning was a feature of the game.

MILJUS was a tough puzzle for Cuyler and Wilson, but Stephenson reached John for three hits, including his disputed three-bagger.

PRESIDENT VEECK of the Cubs announced after the game that the attendance exceeded that of opening day by about 3,000.

THE throng was all the more remarkable in view of the cold weather. It is true the sun was out, but the wintry zephyrs made overcoats comfortable. Chicago is a great baseball town, it having been known to turn out just about as many in honor of the White Sox, although the real appeal lay in Babe Ruth.

CUYLER, Wilson, Grimm, Hartnett and Stephenson are a galaxy of appealing players. Their supporters think the club has a fine chance to cop the flag, the enthusiasm being at a fever heat despite the cool weather.

BOTH Adams and Cuyler were given big receptions when they first went to the plate. Little Sparky is a heavy favorite in this town, while Cuyler appears to be popular throughout the country.

JOHN M'GRAW has ever been a standard-bearer for discipline. Vic Aldridge might win his usual 15 ball games for the Giants, or enough to away a pennant, but the Giant chieftain after dickering with the former Pirate for many weeks decides to suspend him for 30 days for failure to come to terms. It may be that the latest move is meant to weaken Vic, but John J. would be running true to form if he goes through with his plan.

IT IS the baseball's player's clear prerogative to bargain with his employer. Vic has generally exercised this privilege, sometimes to the extent that his motives were questioned. The Hoosier Schoolmaster will lose a lot of sympathy in his present controversy. In McGraw, Vic is dealing with a man who is noted for his fairness to players. John J. may be a magnate in one sense, but his deepest love is for the boys of the diamond as any versed athlete will tell you. If a player cannot get a square deal from McGraw there is small chance of his getting one at all.

JOHNNY BUTLER, late of the Dodgers, and Freddie Maguire, who came to the Cubs from Casey Stengel's flag-winning Toledo team, are likely to be fixtures on Joe McCarthy's revamped club, provided either or both are able to hit fairly well.

BUTLER was rated as one of Uncle Robbie's best infielders, but he was ill during a part of the season. In any event he is thought to be a better batsman than he showed the fans last summer.

clubs and it is said he thinks pretty highly of French. The latter won 11 and lost 12 games last year for a fifth-place club.

YESTERDAY'S game in Chicago was the only one in which the Cubs participated in three straight days that did not end in a shutout. The Bruins and Reds played three whitewash games in a row, Blake beating Luque and others 13 to 0 on Thursday, Rixey trimming Root and Welch 6 to 0 on Friday, and it might be remarked that Grove and Walberg of the Athletics did some pretty fair work in that line when they held the mighty Yankees to 1 run in 18 innings. Grove beat the world champs, 2 to 1, on Friday, and Walberg downed them, 10 to 0, on Saturday. In the two games Ruth, Gehrig & Co. batted only .175 as a team, and failed to score in the last 11 innings against the pitching of the A's.

Champ Refuses Nation's Colors As Belt

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP.)—The heavyweight champion of the world has conscientious scruples against wearing the national colors around his waist.

Representatives of the Tough Club, a social organization, presented a belt of red, white and blue to Gene Tunney when he arrived here from Miami Beach, Fla., but the champion turned it back with the request that some other scheme be used.

"You can deck the bier of a general with the colors of the American flag, but they should not be used to drape around the portly stomach of a fighter," the champion commented in returning the gift.

THREE AND TWO

and won from Pittsburgh, 5 to 0, and from Chicago, 6 to 0.

Wiley Moore, sensation of the Yankees last season, apparently is finding it difficult to get off to a winning start. Although he won his first game at the expense of the A's, 8 to 7, he lasted only seven innings. He has suffered defeats in his last two games, both in the role of relief pitcher. The Red Sox beat him, 7 to 6, and the A's, 2 to 1.

Al Thomas, White Sox star, who boasts among his notable feats eight straight wins over the Browns, has allowed only one run in his last two games. He defeated the Browns, 7 to 0, and the Indians, 11 to 1.

Jimmy Ring, veteran National League righthander, seems to have the "Indian sign" on the Robins. He has scored two victories over Robbie's club to date, winning, 4 to 3 and 9 to 5.

John Miljus, Pirate righthander, has lost three games so far without registering a victory, each setback coming in a different manner. He started against the Reds on April 14 and lasted only six innings, losing, 5 to 0; he appeared as relief pitcher against the Cards here opening day and although pitching only one-third inning, he was charged with the 13-10 defeat, while yesterday he went the distance only to lose, 3 to 2.

Percy Jones, Cubs' lefthander, has allowed only 10 hits in his last two games, winning both by scores of 3 to 2. He defeated the Cards in 10 innings, 3 to 2, allowing five hits, and yesterday he vanquished the Pirates by the same count on the same number of hits.

GETS EARLY K. O.

BUENOS AIRES, April 23.—(AP.)—In his last bout before leaving for the U. S., Victorio Campolo, Argentine champ, knocked out Carlos Scotti in one round here.

Italian Champion Gains in Derby

CONWAY, Mo., April 23.—(AP.)—Cross-country bunion artists, with rain dripping down their necks, were led into the fiftieth control point here by an Italian, Giusto Umek of Trieste, who is rated as walking champion of his country. He did the 43.1 miles from Springfield in 6 hours, 12 minutes and 3 seconds, more than an hour ahead of the two elapsed time leaders, Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., and Peter Gavuzzi of Southampton, Eng., who finished in a dead heat for sixth place in 7:26:15.

A Finn, John Salo of Passaic, N. J., was second in 6:52:02; a Negro, Ed Gardner of Seattle, third in 7:07:33, and a New Yorker, Louis Perrelala, fourth in 7:13:26.

John Gober of Moberly, Mo., who led the runners into his native state, needed almost eight hours to complete the day's journey, trotting in with Seth Gonzales of Denver in 7:47:59.

Payne still has a margin of 36 minutes on Gavuzzi in elapsed time for the 1,885 miles of tortuous trail left behind by the seekers after the $25,000 prize. The Oklahoman's time for the distance is 315:31:40; the Englishman's, 316:07:40.

Following are the 12 leaders in the transcontinental foot race and their elapsed time for 1,885 miles: Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 315:31:40; Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, 316:07:40; John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 348:22:07; Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 358:23:59; Ed Hardner, Seattle, 359:21:28; Mike Joyce, Cleveland, 360:24:09; William Kerr, Minneapolis, 360:30:59; Louis Perrelia, Albany, N. Y., 362:44:13; Oli Wanttinen, New York, 354:44:22; John Cronick, Saskatoon, Sask., 367:21:11; Giusto Umek, Trieste, Italy, 369:25:29; Harry Rea, Long Beach, Cal., 372:35:43.

Earl Dilks, New Castle, Pa., covered yesterday's lap in 8:30:58 for an elapsed time of 462:14:52.

Bucs Protest Defeat

ground-rule double when Barnhart, unable to reach the sphere with his hands, pushed his foot against it, deflecting the ball to a point close to the foul line. By the time Barnhart became untangled with the fans of that plot, Stephenson had reached third.

Umpire Magee, who also was on the bases, plainly motioned Stevie back to second. The Pirates insist forcibly that Klem ordered the runner back but that Bill, after hearing McCarthy's plea allowed a claim that the ball was in play. Thousands of persons were scattered all over the playing field and before the contest began the opposing captains were apprised of the two-base rule. An impartial view would support the Pittsburgh contention, but Klem refused to change his stand despite the heated protests of Bush and other Pirates. At one time it seemed as if Bush were to be ordered off the field, but he stayed around.

WOULD HAVE BEEN DOUBLE

Had Barnhart not kicked the ball it would have rolled straight into the throng for the alloted two-bagger. The fact that he touched it does not alter the rule, provided the sphere reached the spectators, and it surely seemed bound to get mixed with the throng, from a press box viewpoint.

A little later Stephenson, as result of a poor throw by Paul Waner, scored the winning run. The Pirates were held scoreless in the ninth and they filed sadly to their clubhouse.

John Miljus' pitching was more striking than the classic performance of Percy Jones, the lanky southpaw, who recently fell heir to a half million dollars. Jones' heritage of yesterday was worth more than a half million to the Bears and their supporters, judging by the actions of the largest crowd that ever saw a ball game in Chicago. About 50,000 fans jammed the big park.

Miljus rose to heroic heights in several instances, not the least of which was the seventh when he fanned Ki Cuyler and Hack Wilson with runners on first and third.

In the second frame, Penn Avenue John whiffed Johnny Butler with the basses jammed and only one out, no runs being made in the inning. But Butler made it square with John in the fourth when he doubled with the bases jammed and one out to score two tallies.

A fumble by Sparky Adams was injected just before Butler came through with his important blow. In his anxiety to start a double play on Gonzales' roller, Sparky fozzled and got nobody.

CHEER KIKI, SPARKY

The Cuyler-Adams question was in the foreground as the natural rivals met in their first championship clash of the season. Hitless himself, the best thing that Cuyler did was to snuff out his little rival on Sparky's only hit. The great arm of the former Pirate may have saved the game at that particular point of play.

Adams pried off the third with a clean hit down the rightfield line. Sparky whirled around first as the sphere caromed off the stands and over the hands of the waiting Cuyler. Adams was in full speed for second in a flash, but Ki recovered the ball, threw a burning strike to Freddie Maguire and the long-time Cub favorite was nicked on a close play.

AMATEURS

147-pound and 160-pound titles here a year ago, have returned to defend their crowns. George Hoffman, another New Yorker and holder of the 175-pound title, has taken on too much weight and has been forced to battle with the heavyweights.

The other members of the New York team are almost equally capable and upon them rests the responsibility of halting the invasion of California boxers who threaten to clean up the tournament. The New England boxers appear less formidable than in former years. San Francisco and Los Angeles have sent strong delegations and several other faraway cities are ably represented.

An impressive array of college boxers has entered, including men from the U. S. Military and Naval academys. Ring champions from Yale, University of Florida, University of North Carolina, Pennsylvania Military Academy, University of Nebraska, Denver University, University of California, Stanford University and the University of Georgia have also entered.

This outpouring of collegiate talent is due to the Olympic tinge which the nationals took on this year. Several of the college boxers have almost national reputations and it would not be surprising if many of the Olympic team were students.

ROCKFORD ELKS WIN TOURNEY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23.—(INS.)—The five-men team from B. P. O. E. No. 64, Rockford, Ill., won the eleventh annual tournament of the Elks' National Bowling Association, which came to a close here last night. Their score was 2,925.

St. Louis will entertain next year's tournament.

The team of D. Devito and H. Marino, of Blue Island, Ill., won the doubles event with a score of 1419. D. Devito also annexed the all-events trophy with his total of 2034.

Harry H. Votel, of East Pittsburgh, toppled 742 pins to capture the singles event.

Elks No. 86, of Terre Haute, Ind., were runners-up in the five-man event. The Newark, N. J., team finished ninth. Jess Pritchett and Ed. Meyer, of Indianapolis, scored 1397 for second prize in the doubles.

D. Devito was runner-up in the singles with 739. W. K. Perry, of Cleveland, finished seventh in this division with 653. Otto Toske, of St. Joseph, Mich., finished second in the all-events with a total of 1965.

Buc-Cub Game Scalpers Arrested

CHICAGO, April 23.—(INS.)—Ten men were under arrest today for scalping tickets to the Cubs' baseball park. In a raid, personally conducted by President William Veeck, of the Cubs, the men were arrested yesterday as a record crowd of 50,000 fans filed through the turnstiles for the Pittsburgh-Chicago game.

The scalpers were found to be getting from one to two dollars more than the fixed price of the tickets, President Veeck said. They were taken to Town Hall Station and released on bond for arraignment today.

Yesterday's attendance was a record for the Cubs' park, but not a record in the city. On Sunday, May 8, 1926, 52,000 fans attended Comiskey Park to see Babe Ruth and the Yankees open against the White Sox.

SANDLOT BASEBALL

by TOM BIRKS

THE Sharon semi-pro aggregation failed to get in its first Sunday game of the season against the Brown all-stars of Youngstown yesterday. The heavy rain nearly washed away the diamond and the opener had to be postponed. Heinie Boll made the trip together with George Lees, who did not even get a workout for their trouble.

Homewood's captain took the occasion to deny that he will be seen in a Coshocton uniform this season. Boll will play third for the East End county leaguers together with the running of the team on the field, and then Sunday will see him hitting the rattler for Sharonwith George Les to play with Hollis Canon's aggregation.

Local managers are becoming worried over the failure to get opportunities to see their proteges in action with the first of May nearly at hand. Quite a number of the big teams locally are listed to get away next Saturday, and few of the players have thrown a ball as yet. It has been many years since weather conditions crippled the sandlots as this season, and many of the pitchers are going to be late getting the salary wing into shape.

Export and Murraysville, for the first time in history are going to back a club combined from the two towns. Harry Horrel, who played with the Pitcairn nine, will captain the outfit. Home games will be played at Murraysville and Honus Wagner is expected to be in the opening day lineup.

The club expects to book with the leading clubs of the district. Call Export 88, or write Lawrence Stone, Export, Pa.

It seems as if Honus Wagner is going to be in great demand this season in the local sandlot games. The Twenty-fifth Ward Traders will open their season next Saturday with Ingomar furnishing the opposition and Honus is going to be on hand to throw out the first ball.

The Traders will draw the crowds from the Fineview district and are expected to make quite a showing. For games write C. C. Young, 919 Federal street, North Side, or call Fairfax 9694.

The Alm club of Brookline will hold a practice session tomorrow, Thursday and Saturday this week and all players are requested to be on hand. Foley, Bantly, Flaherty, Kohler, Scanlon, Brown, Readdy, Trau, Hickey, and Anderson are requested to attend together with any other player wishing to make the club.

The newly organized Western Pennsylvania Umpires' Association is functioning O. K. and expects to give the kind of work the managers, players and fans demand. All of the members on the staff are officials who have worked the best games in the district for the past two years. It is realized that most of the leagues will eventually want the class of men that this organization can furnish. Any leagues wishing the services of the West Penn men can do so together with any independent club in the district by calling Dan Dougherty at Court 1974 or Dan Brickley at Court 4108.

Bull Leaders Not Scared; Old Timers Less Confident.

By B. C. FORBES

THIS much I am in a position to say: The "Big Ten" as the group of powerful bull leaders has been called by "Wall Street," have not been stampeded into becoming bears by the increase in the Federal reserve re-discount rate at Chicago and Boston.

The New York newspapers have published lengthy circumstantial reports about a farewell dinner to W. C. Durant on the eve of his sailing for Europe and have indulged in much conjecture as to the speeches then made and the plans then hatched. The unromantic facts are that Durant was unable to attend, that there were no speeches and that no plan or program was drawn up by those who did attend the entirely informal dinner party.

The very definite impression gathered from conversation with those who attended has not caused any drastic reversal of judgment as to the outlook for the stocks of America's strongest, most progressive, best-managed corporations.

AS I talked with one after another of these "bull leaders," I could not keep my mind from going back to February-March two years ago. We had been hearing before then exactly the same line of argument as is now presented with great confidence. Read what Durant said as he sailed away, regarding the expansion and the unprecedented advance in the stock market:

"What are the causes and who is responsible?

"As to the causes, my answer is:

"The changed condition due to the wonderful prosperity of the country; the enormous wealth accumulated since the war; the fact that the United States is now the money center of the world; the confidence in American institutions by almost every nation on earth, who are large buyers of our securities, giving us an international instead of a national market, and, lastly—and in my opinion the most important—the purchase of our high-grade securities in tremendous volume by investment companies and investment trusts, many of which are operating most successfully."

BUT all our unmatched national wealth, all our industrial expansion all our tremendous stock of gold, all our increase in the number of security-buyers did not prevent the stock market from collapsing most violently 26 months ago. That, of course, is not the slightest guarantee that the market will break violently at this time. However, in view of the prevailing exuberance and the tendency to conclude that nothing can possibly stop the dizzy rise in stocks, it may be well to recall to mind what did happen then.

IT is being taken for granted that the New York Federal Reserve Bank will fall into line by raising its rate to 4½ per cent. Very definite warning was given in this column exactly two weeks ago that the reserve authorities were seriously perturbed and were determined to take whatever action might seem necessary. That the advance should have been decided upon is entirely logical.

Consider these facts: The reserve system's ratio of reserve, 72 per cent is the lowest for this season is seven years. Loans of member banks have expanded $1,366,000,000 in the last year, although commercial borrowing has increased less than $400,000,000. Collateral loans in New York have gone up no less than $1,250,000,000. Last week there was a fresh advance in brokers' loans of $134,000,000.

Call money had recently touched 6 per cent; time money was as high as 5 per cent; commercial paper at 4¼ per cent, and bankers' acceptances at least level with the 4 per cent re-discount rate.

Meanwhile also, gold was leaving the country in abnormally heavy volume.

THE news of the re-discount increase was accepted calmly. Naturally, the market opened weak on Friday, but there was quite an impressive rally before moderate weakness recurred. Old timers know that such news often is withstood by the stock market quite well for a number of days, some times two weeks or more, due largely to "support" by those committed to the long side of the market. But the normal thing is for a development of this kind to have its normal effect, so to speak. And the normal effect in this instance would be bearish on a stock market which has been indulging in wholly unprecedented speculation.

HOWEVER, the bull leaders now in the saddle are able to command almost unlimited funds, they are still out-spokenly optimistic and so far there has not been an avalanche of public liquidation.

We shall see what we shall see.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The raw sugar market was quiet early today, with no sales reported. Prices were unchanged with nearby duty free sugars available at 4.42c delivered.

With tomorrow first notice day for May deliveries, there was considerable liquidation of that position in raw sugar futures, which had a depressing effect throughout the remainder of the list, with prices easier, and at midday showing net losses of 2 points on active positions. In addition to May liquidation, there was considerable exchanging from the May to later deliveries, and some selling of the distant months by houses with Cuban connections. London cables were disappointing and continued inactivity in the spot market seemed to check fresh new buying.

Withdrawals of refined sugar over the week-end were a little more liberal, but new business was still light. Prices were unchanged at 5.95 to 6.00c.

BALLOON RACE BILL GOES IN

An ordinance appropriating $15,000 for expenses in connection with the National elimination balloon race here May 30, was introduced in Council today by Councilman James F. Malone.

An invitation to the National Aeronautical Association to hold the races here was sent by Council last week and its acceptance is regarded as assured.

WOMAN STOREKEEPER ROBBED BY GUNMAN

FRANKLIN, Pa., April 23.—When Mrs. Perry Brunson, Rock Grove storekeeper, picked up a quarter which a customer had carelessly bounced off the counter, after ordering a box of matches, she looked into the muzzle of a revolver. The robber took $6 from a cash register.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Market Highly Nervous.

The highly nervous market today clearly reflected the indecision of the public in regard to the influences and possible aftermath of the recent changes in rediscount rates at Federal Reserve centers. As a general rule the list worked lower after a somewhat surprisingly strong opening. New lows for current trading were established in several issues, but as has been the case throughout the present phase of the market, good support came in from the leading industrials. The slump in the tobaccos, however, was a "straw in the wind," and reminded the traders what is possible in a stock market of this kind, especially when business is beset by the most stringent competition it has known for years. On the other hand Delaware and Hudson kited about 15 points before the noon hour and served to bolster up the ebbing courage of the trading element. Some observers read the Delaware and Hudson incident as reflecting special developments bearing on that stock alone, while others see in the movement a forecast of news which will favorably affect all the rails. Wright Aero's strength on the opening was probably another gesture toward the airmen who have been writing history in the skies for the past year or more. Wilkins' Lockheed-Vega plane was equipped with a Wright Whirlwind motor, which, to date, appears to be the greatest of the air engines.

Sees Heavy Distribution.

Broadan Wall, financial expert of the Universal Service, and one of the keenest observers in Wall street, says distribution of stocks is taking place on an unprecedented scale in the current markets. He writes: "There are more distributing pools at work than ever before, and the public from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is "in" and taking on a heavier load of stocks each day. It makes no difference that the Federal Reserve says Halt! Record breaking loans, poor earnings reports, political developments and other bearish factors are ignored. The Big Ten, as the Durant-Cutten group, most responsible for the dizzy markets, are known, talk bullish. With stocks to sell, support is thrown into the market whenever a bearish development takes place, and the public becomes further enthused by the so-called impressive absorptive power and buys more stocks. The machine of the money powers grinds slowly but surely, and the longer its corrective measures are ignored the more drastic the cleaning out will be when finally effected. While the banks loan money under 5 per cent Reserve efforts will be thwarted but the further the advance in prices the sooner will come the day when the banks will start throwing certain stocks out of loans entirely. The Reserve in effecting correction of the stock market has to be careful not to disrupt international banking plans as agreed in conferences last year with British and French fiscal authorities.

Cigaret "Trade War" Looms.

Tobacco stocks were thrown on the market in heavy volume this morning. American Tobacco B falling over 11 points to 156, and Liggett and Myers 9½ points to 105½. This movement followed cuts in cigaret prices, which were construed on the floor as foreshadowing a "trade war." The reduction was made by the three largest manufacturers of cigarets. The reduction to $6 per thousand carries the usual discounts and compares with list price of $6.40 previous in effect.

St. Louis Bank Rate Raised.

The St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate is raised from 4 to 4½ per cent, effective today. This is the third central bank in the system to adopt the 4½ per cent rate, the Boston and Chicago banks having announced a raise from the 4 per cent figure last Thursday.

Standard Plate Loss Larger.

Standard Plate Glass Company reports for March quarter net loss was $229,921 after charges, compared to net loss of $192,101 in the March, 1927, quarter.

Oklahoma Drilling Pact.

Oklahoma and Kansas oil producers at a meeting at Tulsa discarded the shutdown recommendations of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association advisory committee, but adopted a plan recommended by F. Greensfelder, vice president of Gypsy Oil Company, which calls for drilling of no unnecessary wells in either proven or "wildcat" territory, and for co-operation with neighbors to avoid unnecessary production.

Favor Printing Sales Volume.

There is little likelihood that the proposal to eliminate volume of trading from the stock ticker will be adopted as a means of speeding up the service. Expressions from brokers are understood to be about equally divided between those favoring the plan and those opposed to it, with the latter, however, voicing their opinion in the more strenuous terms. Objections, in the main, are based on the fact that much of trading by exchange operators is regulated by the volume of trading in various individual stocks, as well as the trend of prices.

Automobile Production Higher.

Automobile production in the United States for the first quarter of 1928 totaled 976,782 passenger cars and [illegible] against 809,732 passenger cars and 128,401 trucks in the corresponding period last year, the Department of Commerce reports.

Business Improving—Hoover.

The business situation throughout the United States is improving with a drop in the unemployment figures, Secretary of Commerce Hoover said today. He expressed gratification over the favorable showing of American foreign trade in March, the figures showing increases in both imports and exports.

$14,000,000 for Electrification.

Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad has authorized electrification of the Morris-Essex line from Hoboken to Dover, the Passaic and Delaware line to Gladstone and the entire Montclair branch. The work will cost $14,000,000.

Mexican Seaboard Oil Strong.

Some of the oil stocks displayed noticeable strength in today's market with Mexican Seaboard holding the center of the stage. This company some time ago completed arrangements with Standard of New Jersey for development of its lands in Mexico and, with the improvement of relations in oil in the southern republic, it is expected the arrangement will prove profitable to both concerns. Standard of New York made new high ground on the move today, but the advance did not gain much headway. Buyers evidently feel that New York's contract with the Soviet for the latter's crude output is a favorable deal, especially as it brings under American management the production of the most prolific crude producing areas in the world aside from the great fields inside the United States proper and the enormous Colombian-Venezuelan basin, in which America also has a big stake.

California Production Steady.

Crude oil production for the state of California for the week ending April 21 totaled 615,500 barrels, as compared with 611,000 barrels for the preceding week, an increase of 1,500 barrels, according to actual pipe line figures.

American Hide and Leather.

American Hide and Leather Company reports total net loss of $531,620 for the first quarter, against profit of $75,123 for the first quarter last year. An operating loss of $153,709 for the quarter resulted largely from filling forward contracts made previous to the change in management last January.

Ludlum Steel Gains.

Ludlum Steel Company earned $1.03 a share in the first quarter, against 41 cents a share in the previous corresponding period and $1.67 for the full year 1927.

Seagrave Corporation.

Seagrave Corporation earned 53 cents a share on the common in the first quarter, against 20 cents a share a year ago. Net profit rose to $78,226 from $42,984.

Union Pacific for 1927.

Union Pacific Railroad Company earned $16.05 a share on common stock outstanding in 1927, the annual report showed today. This compares with $16.64 a share earned in 1926. Net income was $39,665,235, against $40,984,749 in 1926. Operating income was $47,554,261, as compared with $48,906,839 the previous year, while surplus fell to $13,454,335 from $14,768,172 in 1926. Unfavorable conditions in the lumber industry resulted in a substantial decrease in the transportation of forest products. There was a substantial reduction also in the movement of manufactures, particularly automobiles and sugar. Crude petroleum and other petroleum oils were moved in less volume. California grapes were easily marketable, resulting in a substantial increase in the movement of that fruit. Good [illegible] in Nebraska, greater yields of wheat in the northwestern states and improved crops of oranges and grapefruit in California resulted in larger traffic from those sources.

Youngstown Steel Operations.

Steel industry operation in the Youngstown territory recently has wavered slightly, largely reflecting the fact that in some lines tests of higher price levels are impending or are at hand. This is true of sheets and strip steel especially, and in both departments new prices have not held uniformly. Of 53 independent open hearths 39 are making steel this week, against 41 in the past week and the year's peak at 47. Of 126 independent sheet and jobbing mills, 106 are under power. Youngstown Sheet and Tube is working 70 to 75 per cent at Youngstown.

Better Feeling in Copper.

There was a better feeling evident in the market for domestic copper than had been apparent during the past several days. Several sales were reported for good-sized tonnages at 14¼ cents a pound, delivered in Connecticut Valley.

Firm Advises Caution.

H. F. Edwards & Co.'s weekly letter says: "The public utilities have been the greatest single feature of the stock market. While we continue to feel that many members of this group justify higher prices and will continue their advance, speculation in a number of issues has gotten a bit out of hand and has begun in spots to resemble the utility market of late 1925 and early 1926. We advise, therefore, careful discrimination at this time and the selection of those stocks whose prices can be justified on a statistical basis."

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, April 23.—With reports at hand that moisture Southwest and West has proved to be insufficient, wheat prices moved upward today in the early dealings. Besides, Liverpool quotations were relatively firm, and European crop advices bullish. Opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, Chicago wheat later showed an all around advance. Corn, oats and provisions were also firmer, with corn starting ⅛ to ½c up, and subsequently continuing to score gains.

At noon wheat was 1⅝ to 2⅜c net higher and corn at 1⅛ to 1⅜c advance.

In connection with reports of persisting inadequate moisture west and southwest, a dispatch today from a Chicago crop expert at North Platte, Neb., said wheat prospects are poor, the wheat badly blown and very dry, and that throughout the western third of the state more than 1,000,000 acres are in a critical condition. He added that if rains are delayed much longer the wheat crop of the western third of Nebraska will be a total loss.

Comparative strength which the Liverpool what market developed today was emphasized by reports here that the condition of winter wheat in Germany is only 81 per cent of the average for the last 11 years. This is the lowest percentage at this time of the season since 1922. There were also advices today that spring seeding has been delayed over most of Europe, though now making good progress with favorable weather.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 23.—The cotton market opened firm today at an advance of 10 to 12 points on a renewal of last week's buying movement, which evidently found additional incentives in reports of unfavorable weather in the South over the week end.

Liverpool was better than due and brokers with continental connections were buyers here at the opening. There was also active covering with some trade buying and a broadening of the commission house demand.

All months made new high ground for the movement, May selling up to 20.30c and October to 20.00c, or about 20 to 25 points net higher in early trading. This advance met heavy realizing, but it was absorbed on reactions of 8 or 10 points from the best.

Private cables said there had been London and continental buying in Liverpool and reported a bullish sentiment there owing to the advance weather news from the South.

Reactions from the opening advance extended to 20.15c for May and 19.88c for October, or about 12 to 15 points from the best, but prices stiffened up again toward midday on the detailed weather reports showing heavy rainfall in sections of the eastern and central parts. There were private reports that seed had been washed out, necessitating further replanting. At midday active positions were about 10 to 15 points net higher.

CIGARET PRICE WAR FELT IN MARKET

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP.)—Stock prices turned upward after an early period of weakness today. Revival of activity and strength in the railroad shares, under the leadership of Delaware and Hudson which soared 17½ points to a new high record of 219½, checked selling in other quarters. Early losses of 1 to 12 points were substantially reduced, or wiped out, by the midday rally. Trading continued in fairly heavy volume, sales crossing the 2,000,000-share mark before the end of the third hour.

Early selling was directed principally against the tobacco stocks as a result of the cigaret price cutting war by leading manufacturers. Official predictions that lower cigaret prices would result in large sales and increased profits brought about a sharp rebound in those issues. New York tractions were again strong on rumors of an early and favorable decision in the 7-cent fare case. Hudson and Manhattan, which is not involved in the present court proceedings, ran up 6 points to a new high record at 63¼.

Pools were again active in a number of specialties despite the fears of a general increase in federal reserve rediscount rates. Mexican Seaboard Oil was run up 4½ points to a new top at 27, Patino Mines advanced more than 3 points to a new high at 33½, A. M. Byers jumped 6 points and Gillette Safety Razor, Park & Tilford, Loose Wiles Biscuit, Atlantic Refining and General Asphalt sold 2 or more points higher. General Motors rallied from a low of 185 to 187⅝. Substantial recoveries also were recorded by Allied Chemical, General Electric, Lambert and other early weak spots.

Strength of Delaware and Hudson was reported in some quarters to repress competitive buying in connection with pending eastern railroad consolidation plans. New York and Harlem common, which is controlled by the New York Central, soared 45 points to 245 on odd lot sales and the preferred jumped 50 points to 200. Pittsburgh and West Virginia ran up more than 4 points, and New York Central, Wabash and a few others advanced 2 points or more.

STEEL PRICES UNSETTLED

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP.)—While specifications against contracts remain good in the steel market and the rate of production fully equal to recent weeks, the reported disappointing volume of new business has brought about unsettlement in prices. In some instances shading of mill quotations was reported. However, there were a few exceptions to this market movement with the principal one an advance in cast iron price quotations in all districts. April ingot production has been maintained at the March average. Pig iron was steady.

Purchases of copper last week confined to comparative small lots for both domestic and foreign account. Smelters continued to offer small lots at slight concessions, but producers held firm at 14¼ for electrolytic delivered in the Connecticut valley. A belief that some home consumers still have to cover May requirements is said to be a sustaining influence.

Tin was higher and dealers were among the best buyers.

Lead held steady, with a moderate demand. Firmness featured the foreign markets. Stocks increased during March.

Zinc was firm, new business remained moderate, although galvanizers are believed to be rather sparingly covered for nearby needs.

Antimony was steady, consuming demand was not active, but sellers were not pressing the market in view of the firmness of offers from China.

IMPORT LAW WILL NOT AFFECT CANADIAN MILK

OTTAWA, Ont., April 23.—(AP.)—The Department of Agriculture announced last night that shipments of milk and cream to the United States will not be affected to any appreciable extent by the Washington order requiring Canadian exporters to obtain permanent permits before June 1.

The order of the United States government, the department said, required exporters to apply to the Canadian Department of Agriculture for a permit to export. Inspections will be made and the reports, if favorable, will be forwarded to Washington for the issuance of permits by the United States government.

MILAN BOMB CLAIMS LIVES OF TWO MORE

MILAN, Italy, April 23.—(AP.)—The death roll from the bomb outrage of April 12 was increased to 20 yesterday, when a 20-year-old Fascist militiaman and a 56-year-old woman school teacher died of their injuries.

GENERAL MARKET HOLDS FIRM

Trading interest centered in Standard Sanitary Manufacturing at the start of the new week on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange, but there was no material change in quotations despite a rather spirited turnover in the first hour.

The miscellaneous list was steady with prices nominally the same as prevailed on the close Friday, prior to the extra holiday ordered to relieve congestion in brokers' clerical departments.

Standard Sanitary's strength is based on several factors among which are the impending dividend meeting, at which the stock is expected to be placed on a $2 annual dividend basis, and the recent raise in prices of enamelware. Another angle bearing on Standard is the expected listing of the shares on the New York Stock Exchange. In this connection, the street hears reports of strong pools having been formed and recently increasing its activities in the stock in preparation of a welcoming demonstration when the shares are added to the list on the "big board."

The fuel stocks showed no important changes in quotations. Lone Star Gas was steady around 49, while Arkansas Gas changed hands at a small fraction above 8. Neither stock was noticeably active.

In the late market, United Engineering fell back under the weight of offerings which were in the market at around 47, but failed to find takers at that figure. Several odd lots changed hands at 46, the next stopping place after bids at 47 had been withdrawn. Company paid a dividend of 60 cents on the stock in February, the first disbursement on the new shares which superseded the old United Engineering common. There are at present outstanding 416,118 shares of the new no-par common and 1,574,900 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred. Net income for the year ended October 31, 1927, was 1,837,600, as compared with $1,628,281 for the year ended December 31, 1926, and $1,327,994 for the calendar year 1925.

PRODUCE MARKET

The demand for vegetables and fruit at the local wholesale produce district was rather slow today, due to the inclement weather which prevented buyers from visiting the district. Several changes were made in the quotations on vegetables and fruit.

Poultry was in nominal supply and the market was firm. The movement was fair and the quotations were unchanged.

The egg market was firm at the quotations listed. Butter and cheese were steady. No change was made in the quotations.

Car lot supplies were liberal, a total of 104 cars being on track. Arrivals included 11 cars of apples, 7 cabbage, 1 carrots, 1 cauliflower, 16 celery, 2 cucumbers, 6 grapefruit, 1 lemons, 7 lettuce, 9 oranges, 2 peppers, 1 spinach, 2 peas, 31 potatoes, 6 sweet potatoes, 7 tomatoes and 2 turnips.

SPIRITUALISTS OPEN STATE MEETING

A four-day conference will be opened today in the William Penn Hotel by the Pennsylvania State Spiritualist Association. One of the high spots of the conference will be the voicing of charges against Louis E. Miller, of McKeesport, a state trustee, who numerous persons are said to be trying to oust. It is charged that Miller broke the law in practicing voodooism. Miller last night denied the charges and said that he intended to enter suit against the persons making the charges.

Joseph P. Whitwell of St. Paul, Minn., president of the national organization, will be honorary chairman of the convention. There will be many delegates present from other states. John Slater, internationally known spiritualist, will be message bearer for the convention. Another delegate will be Mrs. M. E. Cadwallader of Chicago, editor of the "Progressive Thinker," official organ of the Spiritualist churches in America.

V. (a) Nocturne .... Chopin-Liszt
(b) Mazurka .... Chopin
(c) Fantasy on the Blue Danube and Bat .... Strauss-Rosenthal
Moriz Rosenthal
VI. Overture to the opera "Tannhauser" .... Wagner

The Pittsburgh Symphony Society gave its closing concert in Syria Mosque last night. As always the audience applauded every number enthusiastically, but on this occasion the applause was well earned. The late beginning and the length of the program were again regrettable, and the music itself was by far too much alike in character. Every number was a carnival.

Eugene Goosens conducted. If we learned any lesson for the organization of this society as a permanent orchestra for Pittsburgh, it is this, that if we hope to make a worth while orchestra, we must enlist the services of a man of Goosens' caliber to rehearse and direct its music. He has youth, unlimited energy, and real musicianship; he is a composer and he is modern; in the director's stand he draws the utmost from his players and fascinates the audience with his engaging personality.

By this time we recognize the shortcomings of our orchestra, but they were less noticeable last night than ever before.

The soloist was Moriz Rosenthal. This pianist is among the few survivors of that circle loved and taught by Franz Liszt. He was one of the most brilliant, perhaps the less musical of that group; his music flowed from his fingers rather than from his heart. Therefore, the Liszt concerto was an admirable vehicle for Rosenthal. His fingers surmounted all its technical difficulties with admirable ease, and Liszt himself supplied the poetry.

The Chopin nocturne and mazurka were imbued with delicate tone and firm rhythm, while the pianist's own arrangement of the Strauss waltzes was a real bravura stunt, one of those compositions that make the public sit in wonder, but does nothing to enrich piano literature. Liszt's paraphrase on Chopin's song, "A Maiden's Wish," came as encore.

WESTERN MARYLAND BUILDER SUCCUMBS

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., April 23.—(AP.)—Harry C. Sanford, 59, an engineer who, with Harry B. Reed, built the Western Maryland Railroad and the Baltimore and Ohio tunnel under the city of Baltimore, died of pneumonia here yesterday. He was born in Ohio.

MASS MEETING ON COAL RATE PLANNED

Preliminary action in promoting a mass meeting of Pittsburgh citizens to urge more advantageous freight rates for this territory, will be taken at a meeting of the general traffic committee of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce tomorrow. Thomas A. Dunn, chairman of the committee, said today the directors of the Chamber would be asked to sanction the call for the meeting at once.

"We must act quickly and with all our strength, if Pittsburgh industries are to be saved from ruinous competition by the coal fields of Kentucky and West Virginia and the steel mills of Illinois and Indiana," said Mr. Dunn. "With the restoration of the Lincent differential the Southern coal operators are grabbing off the lake cargo coal market and the proposal of the Illinois Central Railroad to haul steel to New Orleans at the same rate Pittsburgh steel is laid down at the port of Baltimore confronts us with a situation that causes alarm."

NEW CASTLE MAY GET PLANE HANGAR PLANT

"TALKING POINTS" AND MAKING SALES

In every sale of real estate proper presentation of "talking points" regarding the property is important.

Location, future possibilities, surroundings, improvements, etc., are points, any of which may close the deal — but undoubtedly one of the strongest points is safety of investment.

Since POTTER TITLE INSURANCE means safety—it is certainly a "talking point" in closing any sale.

Unfortunate Accident Befalls Congressman

Miss Tishie Doakes, secretary to Mr. Frisby, who mysteriously disappeared while attending a picture show with the Congressman. Any one knowing her whereabouts is requested to drop a postal card to Frisby, care Washington Monument.

Telegraph Editor,
Dear Sir:

I purchased a pair of sample shoes and found, after wearing them, they were both for the left foot. That evening I took my stenographer to the movie. The shoe on my right foot was so uncomfortable I had to slip it off unbeknown to the girl friend. After the movie was out I felt around for my shoe. Apparently some one had kicked it down several rows ahead of us. I had to get the usher to help find it with his flash light. This kept me up so late that I was unable to write my daily dispatch.

BUGS BAER Says

THE New York State Democratic Glee Club has sent Al Smith to the wars.

The State Democrats offer Al freely to the national body of loose voters and will not take no for a refusal.

ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER.

The Rubicon has been analyzed, the Alps have been surveyed and the die cast. The answer is in the future which makes the calendar a gypsy dream book.

The roaring emanating from Alabama may be the bellowing of a contented cow attacking a minority report or it may be Heflin striking the iron while the exclamation points are hot.

Before the family is ready for the picnic there is always a quarrel in the parlor and we can see Heflin simonizing his vocabulary before he treks on to Houston to play his usual role of caddy to the Four Horsemen.

In order that Al and Tom can perpetuate their argument it may be necessary to nominate Heflin as Vice President on Al's ticket. If there is going to be any trouble in the White House for the next four years it might as well be enjoyed by the Democrats.

Biggest Issue Tomorrow Is Honest Count of Votes

Tomorrow voters go to the polls to register their choice of nominees for various offices to represent the parties to which they belong at the general election in the fall. Also they will ballot on delegates to national conventions which will nominate members of their party for President and Vice President.

In Pittsburgh the voters will have, in addition, the matter of city improvement bonds.

So it will be seen that the primary of tomorrow is rather an important one, containing factors of both national and local significance. Aside from these is another and greater matter of importance, and that is that the voter's choice, whatever it may be, be registered as such and not altered by others after he makes it.

There are contests in which local politicians are deeply interested. In the courts just now we are having a revelation of how some big majorities are secured. One accused election board official said that figures candidates SHOULD receive were marked on the tally sheet at the close of the polls without even counting and tabulating the ballots.

Obtaining majorities by this method is easy. But warning again is given—has been given publicly daily for some time—that this will not be overlooked in the April primary any more than it was in the September balloting. Stealing elections in Allegheny county has gone out.

Every voter is entitled to his choice, even a "pay-roller," but he must not be denied the right of that choice by having it erased and that of a political boss substituted. It is bad enough to "spot" the machine the "pay roll," without having the votes of independent citizens changed to suit the purposes of the gang.

If it be attempted there is sure to be more trouble for election boards.

And—this last word, which should be your first thought tomorrow—don't forget the bonds!

Shoes Through the Ages

Little Change in 500,000 Years

Conquering this globe, measuring and weighing the stars, man stands on an earth surface of 72 square inches, one-half a square foot. On that small area his weight rests in repose and in swift running.

His shoes are man's protection as he travels over the rough earth.

Ornaments came before clothing. Darwin, in his ''Voyage of the Beagle,'' describes savage ladies of Patagonia with strange ideas. They wore nothing in the way of clothing, but would allow no stranger to see them until they had carefully painted their faces and arranged their hair. Then they came proudly from their huts—otherwise unclothed.

Carlyle in his ''Sartor Resartus'' says: ''Among wild ple we find painting and tattooing even prior to clothes. e first spiritual want of a barbarous man is decoration.''

All the happy days in the Garden of Eden were a no-clothes period, until the fatal apple was eaten.

Clothing began with a simple costume made of fig leaves and went on increasing until noble women wore hats so high they had to take out the tops of their sedan chairs to make room for the hats, and peasant women in Holland and Russia wore as many as 10 heavy skirts to spread out their hips.

Innumerable were the kinds of clothing. Carlyle mentions some: ''Sheepskin cloaks and wampum belts; phylacteries, stoles, albs, chalamydes, togas, Chinese silks, Afghan shawls, trunk-hose, leather breeches, Celtic philibegs, Hussar cloaks, Vandyke tippets, ruffs, farthingales are brought vividly before us.''

But in the innumerable volumes on clothes, too little attention has been paid to SHOES, the FOUNDATION of clothing and of man's career on earth.

Of all the body's clothing, shoes are most important. They keep the spine in good condition, holding the body in correct, erect position.

Made of the right materials, they protect the feet that bear the weight of their owner, and endure cold and the heat and burden of the day.

Here and there we get a glimpse of the important part that shoes have played in history.

When Napoleon III, whom Bismarck admirably described as the ''great unrecognized in capacity,'' sent out his army in 1870 without good shoes, their doom was sealed.

We read of laws passed in vain to keep men from wearing shoes so long that the points had to be tied at the knees of the wearer. That was FASHION. Laws could not stop it.

We know of rough wooden shoes worn by Europe's peasants and daintily gilded cutaway, crisscross shoes of the modern woman of fashion.

But the real history of shoes is still to be written, and the science of shoe making is only just being developed.

It is safe to say that shoes came FIRST in human clothing. Our savage ancestors five hundred thousand years ago needed SHOES before they thought of any other garment. Pursuing or fleeing from the enemy, human or brute, rough stones, sticks, thorns and cactus pierced the naked feet. Long before anything else was worn, as soon as men had achieved the dimmest thinking power, shoes were worn.

The first shoe was a piece of the raw hide of some animal tied around the foot at the ankle.

And until recently that has still been the main reliance in shoes for men. A piece of animal hide, arranged more or less ingeniously to protect the foot, with a strong toe to protect in kicking, and a heel to lift the foot from the ground. Such has been men's foot gear—skins of animals.

But until lately little attention has been paid to scientific shoe manufacture, to selection of new materials, better, less expensive, longer wearing. Men have still clung to a million-year-old device, a piece of animal hide fastened around the feet.

Under civilized conditions of living men need new kinds of shoes, better shoes in wearing quality, and that at the same time will not SLIP.

The savage in the jungle got along well with something to prevent his feet being cut. His horse or his ox did well on natural shoes of horn that grew out as they wore away.

But even the horse, put to work on hard, slippery pavements, must be protected against unnatural conditions, with shoes of iron protecting the hard hoof.

Now chemists and other scientists, studying combinations of substances, attack the problems of long wear, surfaces non-slipping, natural support and anatomical adaptation. Men, at last, are getting away from the old idea ''kill the animal, skin it, wrap the skin around your feet.''

But man, described by Swift as ''a forked, straddling animal with bandy legs,'' took nearly a million years to realize that he could do things better than the skin of a horse or calf, colors better than those squeezed from the cochineal insect, 70,000 insects to a pound of dye, or the Mediterranean mollusk.

Fortunately we have plenty of time. The earth will last at least a hundred million years longer. And already men are at work on the problems of BETTER EVERYTHING, from hats to shoes.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

South Polar Ice

THOSE are rather startling results which Professor Meinardus, the meteorologist, of Gottingen, has worked out with a little arithmetic applied to considerable assumption, about the ice of the Antarctic continent. For, if he is right then the sudden complete melting of that ice (the possibility of which we will assume as a counter) would drown New York, and all the other sea level ports of the world.

Professor Meinardus' first assumption is that the Antarctic continent, instead of being a lofty plateau of mountainous land, covered with a great depth of ice and snow, is composed mainly of an accumulation of solid, paleocrystic ice, which has been gathering around the South Pole during at least a quarter of a million years.

This assumption is based upon another, viz., that the average mean elevation of South America, Africa and Australia may be taken as an index to that of the great south polar continent. This elevation he finds to be not more than two thousand feet; whereas explorers have found points, and vast areas, in the Antarctic rising to six thousand and ten thousand feet above the sea level.

He assumes that everything above about two thousand feet is ice, and multiplying the assumed average depth of this ice by the estimated area of the Antarctic land he arrives at 26,000,000,000,000,000 (twenty-six quadrillion) cubic yards as the measure of the bulk of ice piled upon and around the South Pole of the earth.

Then he imagines this immense amount of ice spread over the whole of Europe and finds that that continent would be buried to a depth of 6,500 feet under its frozen burden, a more extensive glacial calamity than was the greatest of the glacial periods. But, widening the calculation, he estimates that the south polar ice, if universally distributed, would cover the entire earth to a depth between 120 and 130 feet. While if it were melted down the general level of the ocean all around the globe would be raised about one hundred feet above its present mark.

This, as before remarked, would be the death knell of the world's greatest ports, while it would enormously diminish the total area of dry land along the borders of all the continents.

Such calculations must always be regarded as subject to very wide limits of error, because of the many unproved assumptions that have to be employed in them in place of assured data. But they serve to call attention to the close relations that exist between widely separated parts of the earth. It has long been a favorite speculation, though one that no scientific authority has approved, that in the far past, and perhaps more than once, the earth has been "upset" by changes of weighting and of balance produced by the melting of huge accumulations of polar ice.

As long as a mystery like that of the former genial climates of both polar circles remains unexplained, mankind will continue to invent imaginary cataclysms based upon the unfamiliar and wonderfully impressive geographical facts with which both Arctic and Antagctic explorers have for more than a hundred years been piquing human curiosity.

Hazardous

MAN, when at peace, has always valued peace, and, when excited, has usually fought. The effort of our government to get other leading governments to agree not to go to war over future differences therefore commands more sympathy than hope.

It is a noble and idealistic gesture, perhaps some day likely to prove effective. But in dealing with human nature in mass it is rarely wise to advance far beyond the realities.

The leisurely course which such diplomatic proposals take gives ample time for reflection. If, however, the Kellogg treaty should be returned by any of the other powers, signed on the dotted line, it would become the duty of our Senate to consider what our completion of the compact might involve.

Signing blank checks upon the future is always hazardous.

Don't Be Overawed

THERE are some persons in whose presence you feel uncomfortable.

Is it because you feel that you are inferior?

Possibly they are superior to you, but perhaps you possess certain qualities more praiseworthy than they.

Perhaps they have a strong desire to be as talented as they think you.

They know they cannot do as well as you along certain lines, but it does not make them uncomfortable, self-conscious and unhappy.

They would not admit you are superior because of your higher degree of proficiency in some things.

If you have been straight, if you have made the most of your opportunities and used what ability you have, you should not permit yourself to be awed by those who have, perhaps, had greater advantages than you.

If you are a failure through lack of ambition and effort you deserve no sympathy and it is not surprising if you have an inferiority complex.

You must remember that the most intelligent and most traveled and best educated persons are the least apt to feel superiority.

So what do you care about the lesser lights?

Opal Days

THE days are gleaming opals, changeful-hued,
And, though all moods the flying hours bring,
With flecks of loveliness are still imbued;
Rare opals, slipping down time's mottled string.

Such days are fairer still than days like pearls,
Where each is but a mirror of the rest,
For in these opals color plays and swirls
As thoughts and passions move within man's breast.

While days like pearls bring only peace, repose,
These opal days bring hours of fitful fire
In every tint the glowing rainbow shows,
Bring hope and joy, fulfillment and desire.

Tales that are Told

Not to Be Seen

TOOT! Toot! Toot!

The fair motorist swung her powerful car into the village street, missed a lamp-post by inches, then swerved on to the pavement and made the oldest inhabitant jump higher than he had done since he left school.

Risking life for duty, the local constable stepped in front of her and held up both his arms. With a screeching of brakes the car came to a sudden stop.

"What is the matter?" asked the young lady.

"Matter?" The constable was red with anger. "You've been exceeding the speed limit, and I'm going to pinch you."

"Are you really?" she said, smiling sweetly. "Well, please do it where it won't show."—London Answers.

Misreading the Meaning

AN AMERICAN of the hustling type took up his residence in a country village.

He made a practice of traveling to and from the city in a powerful and exceedingly swift motor car. This awed the natives, but at the same time attracted the attention of the local clergyman, who one day had the temerity to hold up the speeding car.

"I say, sir," he protested mildly. "Can't you go a bit slower through the village? Don't you ever read the sign there, 'Dead slow?'"

"Sure I have," returned the American. "But I thought it referred to your village!"

DENIS was rather a bad dancer, and the unlucky maiden who was his partner at the moment made up her mind to "cut" the other dances he had booked sooner than endure any more of the torture.

Half an hour later she looked at her dance program and the initials "D. B." caught her eye.

"He won't find me here," she murmured, slipping into a curtained alcove; but no sooner were the words out of her mouth when the curtains parted and there he stood.

"Isn't the pleasure of this dance mine?" he asked.

"Yes," the maiden replied sadly, "all yours."

Once a Sailor—

THE new play was a failure, although the cast had given of their best.

After a long and tedious first act many people left the theater. Promptly the management closed all the exits except one; at this they stationed an attendant, an ex-sailor.

At the end of the second act a stream of people rushed for the only exit. The attendant waited their coming.

"Stop!" he commanded in a lusty voice. "Women and children first!"

"No, I took a tram, and, oh, John, I had such a stroke of luck. The conductor forgot to ask me for my fare, so I saved twopence."—London Tit-Bits.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 23.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Early out, and met a venerable gentleman wearing a shoulder cape, and no article of dress has such quaint dignity. And so to breakfast with Floyd Gibbons and for a long walk on the lower East Side.

Later to call on a gentleman with whom I used to play marbles, and he is now an astronomer of note, so grave and sedate I felt silly. Lunched with my mother-in-law at Frank Case's inn and had two helpings of the best floating island I ever tasted.

In the evening to give Irvin Cobb an ebony cane purchased abroad, and he seemingly so pleased I wished I had brought him a half dozen. Home to labor, which I have neglected for three days, what with gadding here, there and seeing the plays. So to bed.

Add-up-and-swoon note: The telephone bill of a New York hotel guest last week amounted to $1,122. It was paid by an Englishman who called up London six times. He must have been out of his head.

It is in the smartest hotels petty deceits are practiced on telephone operators. A favorite is to call a number, get it, wait a while, and call a new number with, "Please ring them again. They didn't answer." The operators, being polite girls, do not dispute the matter, but the added call goes on the bill "allrightie."

As a night police reporter I accompanied a policeman in a middle western city to a call from a water front boarding house. In a dim-lit hall a frightened landlady was standing over a sprawling figure on the floor. His head was drawn back and his mouth twisted into a leery sardonic grin. Risus sardonicus, medicos call it. His muscles were stiff and hard as a board. It developed he was a boarder, and coming in late had gone to the kitchen and eaten from a bowl on a table. It was a mixture of mush and strichnine to kill rats, carelessly left there. A few nights ago I saw the same landlady, expensively gowned, sitting in a box at a theater. An acquaintance told me she was the wife of a rich New Yorker who sat beside her. A coincidence was that an incident in the play centered around an accidental poisoning by strichnine.

Nearly all New York's cartoonists are golfers. Many claim their best ideas come while swinging around the course. We had an idea concentration was absolutely necessary to neat golfing. And neat columning consists in writing better paragraphas than this.

There is a hush in the tearooms. After the war, tea drinking spread in New York as fire in dry grass. The big hotel dining rooms were filled at the 5 o'clock hour. But in the last few months crowds have dwindled. No one knows why, and few seem to care.

* * *

Actors are reputed flops in business, and yet a number have stepped out and made a place in the mercantile world. The latest is Wellington Cross, well known on the vaudeville and legitimate stage. He was sent to London about a year ago to manage a chain of shops specializing in beauty preparations. Word comes back to Broadway he has been a whooping success and is to be taken into the firm.

* * *

One of Broadway's roystering comedians has been on the water wagon for nearly a year. His sudden turn from the cups took place in a theatrical club. He was having a highball when a friend inquired if he had heard the fate of a close friend in Los Angeles. The friend was an actor who received a long prison term as the outcome of a drunken Hollywood brawl. The comedian set down his half raised glass and said he was through with drink for all time. And he has not touched a drop since.

The Hills of Cockaigne

By DR. FRANK CRANE

An old medieval ballad tells of an imaginary land of Cockaigne where the hills were good to eat and drink and where nobody ever was obliged to work.

The chances are digits to ciphers, although the ballad doesn't contain the information, that the most immoral place in that whole ancient world was Cockaigne.

Having to work is the thing that keeps most people out of jail.

If we could nibble at a hill or two when we get hungry, instead of having to produce our pabulum by the sweat of our brows, most of us would become either nuisances or menaces over night.

Knowing we will have to feed the horses, punch the time clock, or turn out the article, the next morning helps us to go to bed when we should, eat food that is good for us, and in general remain the pillars of society that we are.

With the hills of Cockaigne around the corner, routine would be unnecessary and our moral fiber would be weakened by its going.

Anyhow, after a week or so of having hill for breakfast, hill for luncheon, hill for dinner—each time chasing it down with strong draughts of hill—the most enthusiastic Cockaigneain would commit a murder or two in desperation to relieve the monotony.

After the second day he would be longing to be back on the old job where he could look over the menu at Casey's Lunch when noon came and choose what he would have for sustenance.

Punching a time clock may be boring, but nothing like as boring as eating hill three times a day for 365 days a year would be.

The time when nations produce their greatest inventions and improvements, if we take the word of the wise Lord Bacon, is during the period of middle age.

In youth they are given to arms and martial activities. Then after the struggle they settle down and make their real contribution to advancement. Then comes the period of decay and self-satisfaction which descends to license and demoralizing luxury.

Neither in the extreme youth nor the extreme old age of a nation is the man who improves the world given the credit that is his due. In the former time, his contribution is lost in the din of war; in the latter it is unappreciated unless it adds to the immediate ease of existence.

So, a land of Cockaigne, beside being a place of little moral eminence, would be a land of old age where stagnation replaces effort and where improvements are unknown.

Edible hills are fine themes for ancient ballads. But it would not take many to ruin the best of nations.

It is a good thing for all of us that the hills of Cockaigne never materialize.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD.

JOE M'DONALD, of Pee Wee Valley, Kentucky, knows a very old lady who says that she always lives each day as if it were her last day on earth. The result being that she has lived to be 90 and has always been happy.

"I don't know how she does it," says Joe, "but if I could do that I know a certain orchestra I'd have follow me around all day."

The 90-year-old lady explained that she thought regrets that made for unhappiness were usually founded on signs of omission. A balm to many an aching conscience is that dear lady.

A smart little girl from Texas, named Flo, says she knows how to keep men from becoming bald. And whether her hair tonic is any good or whether she is so entertaining the men laugh till they get up circulation and their hair just naturally grows, hasn't been determined. At any rate, she has a thriving business and the men flock to Flo for their weekly hair treatments.

Last week while a group were waiting for their scalp massage Flo was demonstrating how an Eastern lady tried to "broad awz" her. She imitated the lady and then, says Flo, "it didn't do her a bit of good because I just flattened her down OAB in no time at all."

Shelby Worral, of Galveston, Tex., married Pat Somerset, labelled "international actor and heart breaker." The girl filed suit for divorce in Los Angeles after four months of marriage. She says he beat her in San Francisco two days before.

With him so traveled, and with all his knowledge, you'd think he could have thought twice before he lit into a girl from that state. There is only one greater mistake than striking a woman from Texas, and that is striking her IN TEXAS. Things happen immediately when you do.

A lady was getting her shoes shined in a Michigan Boulevard hotel in Chicago and she said to the old colored man, who was doing a very fine job: "You certainly know how to shine shoes, don't you?"

"Missus," said the old darkey, "I comes from a place where you got to be right or get out. They don't stand no nonsense."

"And where is that?" asked the lady.

"That's Texas," said the darkey. "I certainly loves that Dallas. The hotter it gets the better you feel." It's peculiar but it's just that way."

Words of the Wise

Levity is often less foolish, and gravity less wise than each of them appears.—Colton.

The essential difference between painting and daubing is that a painter lays not a grain more color than is needed.—Ruskin.
